The Editor's column

By S. R. PADDOCK

No matter how much we admire the new school and church of Our Lady of the Wayside, Arlington Heights, that large parking lot gets the most oh's and ah's. Just drive down there and see it for yourself.

The Arlington Heights Methodist church sees the parking handwriting on the wall, which is one reason why it is moving "out of town." Some of the other churches do not have that opportunity, but that same handwriting is facing the business interests of the Arlington loop.

The increasing population is greatly increasing the business potential of Arlington Heights business. The size of that potential will be a lot smaller if it has to be funneled through a parking bottleneck.

Maybe we're in the wrong profession! It seems newspapermen are taking high-paying jobs in public relations and thus creating shortages on newspaper staffs.

The report was made last week at a meeting of the Headline club, Chicago professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, of which we recently became a member. Speaker was Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of State University of Iowa school of journalism, who also told us that high school students should consider journalism careers since opportunity is now unlimited!

A newspaper job may not pay much money, but it could be a stepping stone to real money. Corporations are hiring men whom they think are smart enough to get into the public print the stories that the said corporations desire to have printed.

We do not claim to be smarter than those public relation fellows, but the greater part of their releases find their way into our waste basket.

What we started out to say was that there is lots of room for a person interested in a journalism career if he can stand the hours.

An Arlington Heights woman is very much put out that Arlington Heights village board is even considering a cigarette tax. She says, "Eighty per cent of the cigarettes sold in Arlington Heights are either purchased or smoked by women. Such a tax will give the men preferential treatment.

"Our forefathers fought against taxation without representation. Until there is a woman placed on the village board, you have no right to levy the tax."

We wonder if any community has an authentic list of all its boys who served in World War II. At its close this publication made an attempt to acquire those names.

The adjunct of Arlington Heights VFW post in a Fence Post letter this week is asking that those names be permanently placed in the lobby of the War Memorial library.

A lot of boys served in that war. Their names should at least be placed in the archives of the library. Perhaps it is a job for the proposed historical society.

The post office general can be expected to come across with new ways to cut costs and time. His latest project is to save the eyes of the carriers, but not their muscles. He has decided that a lot of eye strain and time would be saved if the address of servicemen occupies no more than three lines, instead of the customary four or five. He has ordered that the term "care of postmaster" on APO addresses are no longer necessary.

Someday the letter carriers will arise up in arms over the heavy loads of junk mail they are required to carry addressed to box holder or occupant.

An Arlington Heights carrier told us this week that he has a number of patrons on his route who have given him orders to leave no more mail of that nature at their homes.

Our age has finally caught up with us. As this week's column is being read, we will be in a hospital bed with both eyes covered. We are glad that we live in an age when a person does not have to become blind because of a cataract.

We won't be seeing you for a week or two, but perhaps with nothing to do but think we will get the inspiration that will mean a better column when we get back on the job.

In the meantime we will leave it to our secretary to embellish the bits that we will try sending to her via a hospital nurse. She at least will not have to study over our written hieroglyphics.

NO TOLL ROAD ON ROUTE 83

'Governor May OK River Road Route,' Says Mortimer

Route 83 will definitely not become a toll road.

So declared William J. Mortimer, Cook county highway superintendent, who told Paddock Publications Wednesday that the Illinois Toll Highway commission accepted his recommendation that 83 be scratched-off as a toll road possibility.

The commission met Tuesday with county officials who persuaded them to shift the proposed route of the city-skirting Tri-State toll road.

Although official announcement will not be made by Gov. Stratton until next week, Mortimer said that there is a strong possibility the state will accept his suggestion that the Tri-State artery follow River rd., paralleling the state's suggested route —Illinois 23—and running about four miles east of it.

OBJECTION has been made to the River rd. route because commission engineers in an earlier study had decided that use of the River rd. right-of-way would cost $60 million more than the state-backed route.

Mortimer said that was "nonsense."

He explained that the River rd. would cost the state only between $10 and $15 million more than the other route, and it would be 5½ miles shorter. On the basis of an estimated 10 cents a mile cost of operating an auto, this would save motorists 55 cents on each trip.

Strong opposition had developed in the western and northwestern suburbs against development of Route 83 as a toll road with egress and ingress every 10 miles. Mortimer said, however, that 83 will definitely be expanded into an expressway since that plan has been on the books for some time.

Mortimer said he also hoped the toll engineers would consider moving the location for the Chicago-Rockford route so that the right-of-way would not cut through rich truck farms near Elk Grove.

P. O. Revised Postal Regulations In Effect

Local postmasters announced this week the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U. S. post office department.

The new postal regulations go into effect December 1.

Businessmen and other large mail users may purchase a new Postal Manual which contains the changes in simple form. It may be obtained for 65 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. Mail users who are anxious to keep abreast of any future changes may get both the pamphlet in loose-leaf form and a year's subscription to all sheets announcing changes for a total of $2, also from the Supt. of Documents.

Spelling Bee At Junior High December 9

A sectional spelling bee will be held December 9, at 7:30 p. m. in the Junior high school gymnasium in Arlington Heights. This contest is sponsored by the Chicago Daily News. Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant county superintendent of schools, is in charge of the Section III contest. Approximately 30 student winners from eight elementary schools in the area will participate.

The sectional winner will receive a wrist watch. The three best spellers in the section will enter the county finals which will be televised next February.

The five students who will represent the Arlington Heights Junior high school are as follows: Sandra Peterson and Ronald Altergott, eighth grade; Susan Dally and Warren Myers, seventh grade; and Craig Quackenbush, a sixth grade student.

The public is invited to attend the sectional contest.

Police, Firemen Answer Early Morning Calls

Fred Emil Eggers, 4310 N. Menard, Chicago, suffered an injured knee when his auto went into a skid on Northwest hwy., near Yale, at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Eggers told Arlington Heights police he was driving west on Northwest hwy., when his auto started sliding on the slushy pavement and he lost control. The car left the road and traveled 35 feet before striking a tree, and finally came to a stop 25 feet beyond the tree. The entire front end of the auto was smashed.

The Arlington Heights fire department answered a call about 3 a.m. Wednesday at Koske's garage at 830 W. Northwest hwy. A cushioned chair standing too close to the furnace was ignited due to the intense heat of the furnace. Damage was confined to the chair.

Now Issue 'The Real Thing' to Overtime Parkers at Arlington

Tickets are now being issued to parking violators in Arlington Heights. Citizens were given a two-week period to get acclimated to the meters, and were given courtesy tickets when violations occurred.

Overtime parkers will be required to pay 50 cents for the violation if paid within two hours after the ticket has been issued. The fine will be $1 if paid within 46 hours after that, and will be increased 50 cents for each day it is not paid after that time.

AT PRESENT the fines will be paid at the police station. However, courtesy boxes have been ordered and will be placed in each block when they are received to allow violators to drop their fines practically at the "scene of the crime."

Three police patrolmen have been designated to make the meter collections, which will be done once a week, and meters will be wound at the same time. The automatic mechanism operates 7 days before having to be rewound. The patrolmen making collections will be under a $1,000 bond. They are Jack Aldrich, Harold Hildebrandt, and Joe Ostermann.

Farm Advisor Mees Sees No Early Change Resulting From Benson's Memorandum

Farm Advisor Carl F. Mees said Wednesday that Agriculture Secretary Benson's memorandum 1368 will not require immediate or sweeping changes in the relationship between his office and the farm bureau.

BENSON'S much-publicized memorandum was issued last week and interpreted policies of the United States agriculture department regarding activities of department employees with relation to general and specialized organizations of farmers.

The directive forbids federal employees to advocate or recommend any private or state farm group as best fitted to carry out agriculture department programs. The National Farmers Union and National Grange had complained that extension service was promoting Farm Bureau.

Benson's order also forbids approval of federal contracts with groups which check off membership dues from U. S. payments to farmers, except when such deductions are specifically authorized by individual farmers. It bans membership solicitation for any farm group by federal employees. (Mees explained that the Cook county extension service solicits membership only for its own program.)

THE SPECIFIC point which has created interest here is the order that no federal employee shall accept the use of free office space or contributions for salary or traveling expense from any general or specialized organization of farmers.

In Illinois and Cook county, the Farm Bureau sponsors nearly one-third of extension service and eliminates a million dollars in local taxes. The bureau provides office space, secretarial service, traveling expenses, and part salary for Mees.

Illinois presents a special problem because of the complicated relationship between private farm groups and the extension service.

THE FEDERAL government originally made land grant colleges responsible for the administration of its service. In many states, the county supervises and sponsors the program on the local level. In Illinois, the Farm Bureau volunteered that function and thus made it possible to centralize farm services in the state.

Mees denied that the cooperative relationship between extension service and the bureau has been detrimental. In Cook county, there is no Grange or Farmers Union, but the bureau does cooperate fully with other farm groups and offers its facilities to anyone wishing to take advantage of it.

Begin Study to Revise Zoning Ordinance

Wheels have been set in motion to begin studying the matter of revising the zoning ordinance of Arlington Heights, which was adopted in 1927 and is presently outdated. Though several amendments to the ordinance have been made from time to time, it has never been studied comprehensively.

The recently appointed zoning committee met informally last week with members of the planning commission and the village board, who sat in an advisory capacity to outline the committee's proposed job. Village Manager F. Robert Buechner was also in attendance.

ZONING EXPERTS will be invited to talk to the committee and brief them on the objectives of zoning as the first step in the committee's program. They will also study texts on zoning and city planning to get a proper background for their work.

The group then plans to make a study of zoning maps which show existing zones in the village. Each of the seven members will be given a hand size map showing the present zoning. These maps are now in the process of being prepared and will be distributed to the men in the near future. The study will also include a review of the Stanton and Rockwell report, which is a long range plan for the village prepared several years ago.

WHEN ALL the necessary information is compiled the committee will recommend changes in the present zoning ordinance which will be submitted to the village board for further action.

Charles H. Wilson heads the committee as chairman. Other members are: Richard A. Hendricksen, William F. Meyer Jr., Henry P. Wist, Clarence A. Hendrickson, Charles J. Brost and John W. Anderson.

The group plans to meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Their next meeting is scheduled for December 14.

Two Arlington Men Injured In Accident

Two Arlington Heights men were severely injured Sunday in an accident at Rand and Palatine rds.

Cook county sheriff's police are still investigating the wreck.

Injured were Alvin Trampf, 39, of rte. 2, Box 191, and Mike McDonald, 25, of Box 279, who were taken to Resurrection hospital after treatment by Dr. Kaell.

Trampf was unable to make a statement to police and McDonald said he didn't know what happened, but a witness, John Steel, 5272 Luna ave., Chicago, gave this report to Cook county sheriff's police:

"Trampf was driving a three-quarter ton pickup truck on the wrong side of the road, heading south in the northbound lane of Rand rd. He plowed head-on into McDonald, who was driving north in his own lane."

Both autos were severely damaged. The accident took place at 6:16 p.m.

Chamber Makes Plans For Arrival Of Santa Claus

The business district of Arlington Heights has taken on a gay holiday air this week. The Chamber of Commerce has just completed putting up its annual Christmas decorations, with each light post decked with fragrant garlands of pine, and pine wreaths adorning the public service poles. Colorful Christmas lights mark each intersection.

Store windows are being trimmed in the Yule theme and businessmen are announcing special store hours for the pre-holiday season. Most stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., beginning December 13 through December 23. This includes Saturday, December 18.

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive in Arlington Heights December 11, and he will again have headquarters at the village hall. Full details regarding the parade and line of march will be published in next week's paper.

Most everything that could be on anyone's Christmas list can be found in the stores in Arlington Heights. Businessmen urge the public to shop early for best selections.

Students Asked To Register Now For National Test Battery

Registration forms for the National Student Testing Service battery of tests were distributed to students of Arlington Heights high school today.

The tests will be given January 6 at the high school, at a cost of $1.50 per pupil, approximately one tenth of the cost of a similar battery of tests given by a commercial agency.

Registration forms must be returned with the fee not later than December 10.

The series of tests is designed to provide an individualized profile of the interests, aptitudes, and abilities of each student.

The tests to be given are the California Test of Mental Maturity or ACE Psychological exam, Iowa Silent Reading test, Bell Adjustment inventory, and Bennet Mechanical Comprehension test.

Each student's test results will be filed in the office, where the student and his parents will be able to obtain an individual interpretation and counseling.

Area School Board Elects New Officers

New officers of the Arlington Area school board association were elected at the first meeting of the group Monday night.

Victor Beddingfield, a member of the board of district 25, Arlington Heights, was chosen president, with Richard E. Lambert of Prospect Heights vice president. The new secretary is Nelson Lowry, of the high school science department, and Arthur Aronson, a member of the Wheeling Consolidated board of education, treasurer.

The organization is composed of officials of the Arlington Heights high school district, and of all the elementary school districts contributary to the high school.

Monday night's program was a discussion of certain phases of the high school curriculum. R. M. Conrad explained certain changes made to gear the curriculum for students who are planning to enter college and for those who expect to enter the business world after finishing high school.

The remedial and developmental reading program, designed to increase the reading abilities of the students, was explained by Alfred Snap; and the value of extra-curricular activities was discussed by Eugene Oliver.

Name Committee To Recommend New Trustee

Representatives of nine local service organizations were invited by the Arlington Hts. village board to form a committee to nominate a candidate to fill a vacancy on the village board. The candidate will serve the five remaining months until the next general election as a member of the finance committee.

Harold Klingner, representing the American Legion, was elected to serve as chairman of the committee on recommendations. Other members and the organizations they represent are:

Edward H. Christen, Lions club; Mrs. C. F. Hamburg Jr., Jr. Woman's club; Robert Koeppen, V. F. W.; Mrs. F. R. Schwanke, Nurses club; Mrs. Nat Burfeind, Arlington Heights Woman's club; George Schneberger, Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Robert Muench, Kiwanis club; Mrs. A. G. Manthos, Newcomers club.

RESIDENTS OF the community are invited to submit names and qualifications of persons willing to serve by contacting George Schneberger at CLearbrook 3-7356. All names submitted by individuals and organizations represented will be considered.

The committee will strive to select a candidate who, in its opinion, will best serve the entire community.

Open Delicatessen

Len and Irene Weidner have opened a delicatessen at 15 E. Eastman, Arlington Heights. They will have a grand opening some time in the near future.

'Barn Warming' Saturday To Herald Opening Of New Rolling Meadows Church

Rolling Meadows Community church will hold its first services in the new church building this weekend.

Kimball Hill, developer of Rolling Meadows, has made available a barn of the Wild estate on Kirchhoff rd.

Saturday, the congregation will sponsor a "barn warming" and bazaar for the entire community. A pot luck supper at 6 p.m. will start the evening's festivities, to include games, sale articles, and dancing to a six-piece band.

The party, which is under the direction of the Women's association, is open to the public. Each guest will bring a hot dish for the supper. Coffee, rolls, and dessert will be served by the women's group.

SUNDAY at 10:30 a.m., the Rev. S. Nelson Ringsmuth and members of the choir will begin a motorcade from the present church at 2500 Meadow dr. The parade will proceed up and down all streets until every family has had an opportunity to join the procession to The Barn.

Participating in the special service will be two choirs, with Jay Dahm of Chicago Musical college directing the senior choir. Miss Mildred Oltendorf, organist, will accompany the full professional.

Lay members of the church will speak briefly on what they expect the church barn will mean to various phases of church life.

The dedicatory service will come when the church is chartered and local congregations can participate.

The Rolling Meadows Community church was authorized by the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, which represents 1200 churches of 24 denominations. They appointed the Community church groups as responsible for starting a church in the new subdivision.

IN JUNE the Midwest Community Church Development association called the Rev. S. Nelson Ringsmuth from the First Baptist church in Hyannis, Cape Cod, Mass., to establish the church.

The Rev. Ringsmuth, born in Arkansas and educated in Florida, was a graduate of Gordon college, Boston, and the Andover-Newton Theological school in Newton-Center, Mass. He served a Lowell, Mass. parish for nine years and was chaplain at Tewksbury State hospital in Massachusetts before accepting a call to Hyannis. He is an accredited member of the American Protestant Hospital Chaplain's association.

Work for the new church began in June, with services being held in cottage school buildings. Although not officially organized as a legal body, the church set up units for music, a church school, women's work, girl scouts, brownies, cub scouts, and men's work.

A state charter will be issued to the church by the first of the year.

WHEN KIMBALL Hill turned over the Wild barn, members started immediately to clean, insulate, and heat the structure, also to be used for meetings of the Home Owners association, little league, bowling league, and other community groups.

Pews and an altar will be built in. The pulpit may be created from a hand-hewn oxen yoke and the barn named The Arc. Upstairs is the sanctuary, and downstairs are a kitchen, fellowship rooms, Thrift shop operated by the Women's association, business and music offices.

Among leading churches in this area helping to support the new congregation are the Glenview Community church, Park Ridge Community church, and the Flossmoor Community church.

George Busse Marks 80th Birthday

The 80th birthday of George Busse was celebrated Sunday at a dinner given in his honor at his home on Golf rd., near Busse rd. in Elk Grove township.

GUESTS included Mr. Busse's brothers and sisters, William Busse, Johanna Redeker, Sophia Meier, Louis F. Busse, August Busse, Christina Behrens and Ernst Busse. These are the grandchildren of Frederick Busse who settled in Elk Grove township in 1848.

George Busse was one of the early farmers in Elk Grove township and was so engaged until the year 1924 at which time the Mount Prospect Development association was organized. Busse was appointed general manager, which made it necessary for him to leave the farm and take charge of its real estate and building in the village of Mount Prospect and vicinity.

In 1937 the creation of the Busse Realty association took over the activities of the Mount Prospect Development association and was under the control and direction of Busse.

SINCE 1921 Busse has been actively identified with the Mutual County fire Insurance company, and for the past 30 years has been its secretary and treasurer, having had full charge of its office. At present he still holds the office of secretary-treasurer.

For approximately 12 years Busse held the position of highway commissioner in Elk Grove township, and at one time served for 7 years as village collector in Mount Prospect. The birthday celebrant is the brother of William Busse, Cook county commissioner.

New Census Brings Increase In Gas Revenue

Arlington Heights is approximately $23,000 richer each year due to the fact it had a new census taken last year. The increase in revenue comes from state gas tax receipts, which pay approximately $5 a year per person.

The new census gave the village a population figure of approximately 13,400, compared with [illegible],800 listed in the 1950 official census. The new census cost the village only $1,893, which was well worth the investment considering the increase in revenue.

Legion Helps Raise Funds For Yule Gifts For Yanks Who Gave

Containers labeled, "Christmas gifts to yanks who gave" have been placed in many Arlington Heights stores by members of Merle Guild Post 208, American Legion, this past week.

The Post is cooperating with the department of Illinois committee on this project. The committee seeks to collect enough funds to assure every veteran in any government, state or contract hospital of a gift at Christmas. This will also include any serviceman or woman hospitalized in an army or navy hospital on this occasion. The American Legion hopes to serve 47 hospitals throughout the state of Illinois.

Those desiring to contribute directly to the Legion for this purpose may send their contributions to Merle Guild Post 208, American Legion, Box 2, Arlington Heights.

Select Architect For New High School Addition

Nicol and Nicol, architects, 23 East Jackson, Chicago, have been selected to prepare plans for the addition to the present building of the Arlington Heights high school.

This firm was the unamimous choice of the board of education and of the Citizens' lay committee's special committee to select an architect at their combined meeting November 23.

The firm has been quite active in this area in recent years, being architects for the Stuart Paddock school in Palatine, Elmwood Park high school, Evergreen Park high school, Blue Island high school for the 11th and 12th grades, the Palatine high school addition, and a number of other school buildings.

Economical construction and the attempt to meet needs as fully as possible with the funds available are characteristic of the firm.

Representatives of the firm surveyed the present building Tuesday and conferred with teachers and administrators for their ideas on the addition.

Members of the special committee who helped in the selection of the architect are George Orescan, Byron Sayre, and William Hartman.

'Increase In Air Traffic Won't Bother Suburbs,' Says Report

Arlington Heights and nearby communities probably won't notice much change next April when airlines move 30 per cent of their operations from Midway to O'Hare field near Park Ridge.

So reported a Chicago newspaper this week. It said the navy and air force from Glenview and O'Hare, much noisier than transport planes, plus low-flying planes from air schools at small ports, have helped to "condition" suburbanites for the arrival of the transports.

Beyond the immediate vicinity of the airports, noise seems to be accepted as "one of those things."

Park Ridge, Des Plaines, and Bensenville will suffer most from the increase in air traffic, which may reach as high as 390 landings and take-offs a day before summer.

Planes from O'Hare will fly at about 2,500 feet over Arlington and that village will be in about the same position as Hinsdale is to Midway.

AT PRESENT the fines will be paid at the police station. However, courtesy boxes have been ordered and will be placed in each block when they are received to allow violators to drop their fines practically at the "scene of the crime."

Three police patrolmen have been designated to make the meter collections, which will be done once a week, and meters will be wound at the same time. The automatic mechanism operates 7 days before having to be rewound. The patrolmen making collections will be under a $1,000 bond. They are Jack Aldrich, Harold Hildebrandt, and Joe Ostermann.

Farm Advisor Mees Sees No Early Change Resulting From Benson's Memorandum

Farm Advisor Carl F. Mees said Wednesday that Agriculture Secretary Benson's memorandum 1368 will not require immediate or sweeping changes in the relationship between his office and the farm bureau.

BENSON'S much-publicized memorandum was issued last week and interpreted policies of the United States agriculture department regarding activities of department employees with relation to general and specialized organizations of farmers.

The directive forbids federal employees to advocate or recommend any private or state farm group as best fitted to carry out agriculture department programs. The National Farmers Union and National Grange had complained that extension service was promoting Farm Bureau.

Benson's order also forbids approval of federal contracts with groups which check off membership dues from U. S. payments to farmers, except when such deductions are specifically authorized by individual farmers. It bans membership solicitation for any farm group by federal employees. (Mees explained that the Cook county extension service solicits membership only for its own program.)

THE SPECIFIC point which has created interest here is the order that no federal employee shall accept the use of free office space or contributions for salary or traveling expense from any general or specialized organization of farmers.

In Illinois and Cook county, the Farm Bureau sponsors nearly one-third of extension service and eliminates a million dollars in local taxes. The bureau provides office space, secretarial service, traveling expenses, and part salary for Mees.

Illinois presents a special problem because of the complicated relationship between private farm groups and the extension service.

THE FEDERAL government originally made land grant colleges responsible for the administration of its service. In many states, the county supervises and sponsors the program on the local level. In Illinois, the Farm Bureau volunteered that function and thus made it possible to centralize farm services in the state.

Mees denied that the cooperative relationship between extension service and the bureau has been detrimental. In Cook county, there is no Grange or Farmers Union, but the bureau does cooperate fully with other farm groups and offers its facilities to anyone wishing to take advantage of it.

Spelling Bee At Junior High December 9

A sectional spelling bee will be held December 9, at 7:30 p. m. in the Junior high school gymnasium in Arlington Heights. This contest is sponsored by the Chicago Daily News. Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant county superintendent of schools, is in charge of the Section III contest. Approximately 30 student winners from eight elementary schools in the area will participate.

The sectional winner will receive a wrist watch. The three best spellers in the section will enter the county finals which will be televised next February.

The five students who will represent the Arlington Heights Junior high school are as follows: Sandra Peterson and Ronald Altergott, eighth grade; Susan Dally and Warren Myers, seventh grade; and Craig Quackenbush, a sixth grade student.

The public is invited to attend the sectional contest.

Police, Firemen Answer Early Morning Calls

Fred Emil Eggers, 4310 N. Menard, Chicago, suffered an injured knee when his auto went into a skid on Northwest hwy., near Yale, at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Eggers told Arlington Heights police he was driving west on Northwest hwy., when his auto started sliding on the slushy pavement and he lost control. The car left the road and traveled 35 feet before striking a tree, and finally came to a stop 25 feet beyond the tree. The entire front end of the auto was smashed.

The Arlington Heights fire department answered a call about 3 a.m. Wednesday at Koske's garage at 830 W. Northwest hwy. A cushioned chair standing too close to the furnace was ignited due to the intense heat of the furnace. Damage was confined to the chair.

Begin Study to Revise Zoning Ordinance

Wheels have been set in motion to begin studying the matter of revising the zoning ordinance of Arlington Heights, which was adopted in 1927 and is presently outdated. Though several amendments to the ordinance have been made from time to time, it has never been studied comprehensively.

The recently appointed zoning committee met informally last week with members of the planning commission and the village board, who sat in an advisory capacity to outline the committee's proposed job. Village Manager F. Robert Buechner was also in attendance.

ZONING EXPERTS will be invited to talk to the committee and brief them on the objectives of zoning as the first step in the committee's program. They will also study texts on zoning and city planning to get a proper background for their work.

The group then plans to make a study of zoning maps which show existing zones in the village. Each of the seven members will be given a hand size map showing the present zoning. These maps are now in the process of being prepared and will be distributed to the men in the near future. The study will also include a review of the Stanton and Rockwell report, which is a long range plan for the village prepared several years ago.

WHEN ALL the necessary information is compiled the committee will recommend changes in the present zoning ordinance which will be submitted to the village board for further action.

Charles H. Wilson heads the committee as chairman. Other members are: Richard A. Hendricksen, William F. Meyer Jr., Henry P. Wist, Clarence A. Hendrickson, Charles J. Brost and John W. Anderson.

The group plans to meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Their next meeting is scheduled for December 14.

Two Arlington Men Injured In Accident

Two Arlington Heights men were severely injured Sunday in an accident at Rand and Palatine rds.

Cook county sheriff's police are still investigating the wreck.

Injured were Alvin Trampf, 39, of rte. 2, Box 191, and Mike McDonald, 25, of Box 279, who were taken to Resurrection hospital after treatment by Dr. Kaell.

Trampf was unable to make a statement to police and McDonald said he didn't know what happened, but a witness, John Steel, 5272 Luna ave., Chicago, gave this report to Cook county sheriff's police:

"Trampf was driving a three-quarter ton pickup truck on the wrong side of the road, heading south in the northbound lane of Rand rd. He plowed head-on into McDonald, who was driving north in his own lane."

Both autos were severely damaged. The accident took place at 6:16 p.m.

Chamber Makes Plans For Arrival Of Santa Claus

The business district of Arlington Heights has taken on a gay holiday air this week. The Chamber of Commerce has just completed putting up its annual Christmas decorations, with each light post decked with fragrant garlands of pine, and pine wreaths adorning the public service poles. Colorful Christmas lights mark each intersection.

Store windows are being trimmed in the Yule theme and businessmen are announcing special store hours for the pre-holiday season. Most stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., beginning December 13 through December 23. This includes Saturday, December 18.

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive in Arlington Heights December 11, and he will again have headquarters at the village hall. Full details regarding the parade and line of march will be published in next week's paper.

Most everything that could be on anyone's Christmas list can be found in the stores in Arlington Heights. Businessmen urge the public to shop early for best selections.

Students Asked To Register Now For National Test Battery

Registration forms for the National Student Testing Service battery of tests were distributed to students of Arlington Heights high school today.

The tests will be given January 6 at the high school, at a cost of $1.50 per pupil, approximately one tenth of the cost of a similar battery of tests given by a commercial agency.

Registration forms must be returned with the fee not later than December 10.

The series of tests is designed to provide an individualized profile of the interests, aptitudes, and abilities of each student.

The tests to be given are the California Test of Mental Maturity or ACE Psychological exam, Iowa Silent Reading test, Bell Adjustment inventory, and Bennet Mechanical Comprehension test.

Each student's test results will be filed in the office, where the student and his parents will be able to obtain an individual interpretation and counseling.

Area School Board Elects New Officers

New officers of the Arlington Area school board association were elected at the first meeting of the group Monday night.

Victor Beddingfield, a member of the board of district 25, Arlington Heights, was chosen president, with Richard E. Lambert of Prospect Heights vice president. The new secretary is Nelson Lowry, of the high school science department, and Arthur Aronson, a member of the Wheeling Consolidated board of education, treasurer.

The organization is composed of officials of the Arlington Heights high school district, and of all the elementary school districts contributary to the high school.

Monday night's program was a discussion of certain phases of the high school curriculum. R. M. Conrad explained certain changes made to gear the curriculum for students who are planning to enter college and for those who expect to enter the business world after finishing high school.

The remedial and developmental reading program, designed to increase the reading abilities of the students, was explained by Alfred Snap; and the value of extra-curricular activities was discussed by Eugene Oliver.

Name Committee To Recommend New Trustee

Representatives of nine local service organizations were invited by the Arlington Hts. village board to form a committee to nominate a candidate to fill a vacancy on the village board. The candidate will serve the five remaining months until the next general election as a member of the finance committee.

Harold Klingner, representing the American Legion, was elected to serve as chairman of the committee on recommendations. Other members and the organizations they represent are:

Edward H. Christen, Lions club; Mrs. C. F. Hamburg Jr., Jr. Woman's club; Robert Koeppen, V. F. W.; Mrs. F. R. Schwanke, Nurses club; Mrs. Nat Burfeind, Arlington Heights Woman's club; George Schneberger, Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Robert Muench, Kiwanis club; Mrs. A. G. Manthos, Newcomers club.

RESIDENTS OF the community are invited to submit names and qualifications of persons willing to serve by contacting George Schneberger at CLearbrook 3-7356. All names submitted by individuals and organizations represented will be considered.

The committee will strive to select a candidate who, in its opinion, will best serve the entire community.

Open Delicatessen

Len and Irene Weidner have opened a delicatessen at 15 E. Eastman, Arlington Heights. They will have a grand opening some time in the near future.

'Barn Warming' Saturday To Herald Opening Of New Rolling Meadows Church

Rolling Meadows Community church will hold its first services in the new church building this weekend.

Kimball Hill, developer of Rolling Meadows, has made available a barn of the Wild estate on Kirchhoff rd.

Saturday, the congregation will sponsor a "barn warming" and bazaar for the entire community. A pot luck supper at 6 p.m. will start the evening's festivities, to include games, sale articles, and dancing to a six-piece band.

The party, which is under the direction of the Women's association, is open to the public. Each guest will bring a hot dish for the supper. Coffee, rolls, and dessert will be served by the women's group.

SUNDAY at 10:30 a.m., the Rev. S. Nelson Ringsmuth and members of the choir will begin a motorcade from the present church at 2500 Meadow dr. The parade will proceed up and down all streets until every family has had an opportunity to join the procession to The Barn.

Participating in the special service will be two choirs, with Jay Dahm of Chicago Musical college directing the senior choir. Miss Mildred Oltendorf, organist, will accompany the full professional.

Lay members of the church will speak briefly on what they expect the church barn will mean to various phases of church life.

The dedicatory service will come when the church is chartered and local congregations can participate.

The Rolling Meadows Community church was authorized by the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, which represents 1200 churches of 24 denominations. They appointed the Community church groups as responsible for starting a church in the new subdivision.

IN JUNE the Midwest Community Church Development association called the Rev. S. Nelson Ringsmuth from the First Baptist church in Hyannis, Cape Cod, Mass., to establish the church.

The Rev. Ringsmuth, born in Arkansas and educated in Florida, was a graduate of Gordon college, Boston, and the Andover-Newton Theological school in Newton-Center, Mass. He served a Lowell, Mass. parish for nine years and was chaplain at Tewksbury State hospital in Massachusetts before accepting a call to Hyannis. He is an accredited member of the American Protestant Hospital Chaplain's association.

Work for the new church began in June, with services being held in cottage school buildings. Although not officially organized as a legal body, the church set up units for music, a church school, women's work, girl scouts, brownies, cub scouts, and men's work.

A state charter will be issued to the church by the first of the year.

WHEN KIMBALL Hill turned over the Wild barn, members started immediately to clean, insulate, and heat the structure, also to be used for meetings of the Home Owners association, little league, bowling league, and other community groups.

Pews and an altar will be built in. The pulpit may be created from a hand-hewn oxen yoke and the barn named The Arc. Upstairs is the sanctuary, and downstairs are a kitchen, fellowship rooms, Thrift shop operated by the Women's association, business and music offices.

Among leading churches in this area helping to support the new congregation are the Glenview Community church, Park Ridge Community church, and the Flossmoor Community church.

George Busse Marks 80th Birthday

The 80th birthday of George Busse was celebrated Sunday at a dinner given in his honor at his home on Golf rd., near Busse rd. in Elk Grove township.

GUESTS included Mr. Busse's brothers and sisters, William Busse, Johanna Redeker, Sophia Meier, Louis F. Busse, August Busse, Christina Behrens and Ernst Busse. These are the grandchildren of Frederick Busse who settled in Elk Grove township in 1848.

George Busse was one of the early farmers in Elk Grove township and was so engaged until the year 1924 at which time the Mount Prospect Development association was organized. Busse was appointed general manager, which made it necessary for him to leave the farm and take charge of its real estate and building in the village of Mount Prospect and vicinity.

In 1937 the creation of the Busse Realty association took over the activities of the Mount Prospect Development association and was under the control and direction of Busse.

SINCE 1921 Busse has been actively identified with the Mutual County fire Insurance company, and for the past 30 years has been its secretary and treasurer, having had full charge of its office. At present he still holds the office of secretary-treasurer.

For approximately 12 years Busse held the position of highway commissioner in Elk Grove township, and at one time served for 7 years as village collector in Mount Prospect. The birthday celebrant is the brother of William Busse, Cook county commissioner.

New Census Brings Increase In Gas Revenue

Arlington Heights is approximately $23,000 richer each year due to the fact it had a new census taken last year. The increase in revenue comes from state gas tax receipts, which pay approximately $5 a year per person.

The new census gave the village a population figure of approximately 13,400, compared with [illegible],800 listed in the 1950 official census. The new census cost the village only $1,893, which was well worth the investment considering the increase in revenue.

Legion Helps Raise Funds For Yule Gifts For Yanks Who Gave

Containers labeled, "Christmas gifts to yanks who gave" have been placed in many Arlington Heights stores by members of Merle Guild Post 208, American Legion, this past week.

The Post is cooperating with the department of Illinois committee on this project. The committee seeks to collect enough funds to assure every veteran in any government, state or contract hospital of a gift at Christmas. This will also include any serviceman or woman hospitalized in an army or navy hospital on this occasion. The American Legion hopes to serve 47 hospitals throughout the state of Illinois.

Those desiring to contribute directly to the Legion for this purpose may send their contributions to Merle Guild Post 208, American Legion, Box 2, Arlington Heights.

Select Architect For New High School Addition

Nicol and Nicol, architects, 23 East Jackson, Chicago, have been selected to prepare plans for the addition to the present building of the Arlington Heights high school.

This firm was the unamimous choice of the board of education and of the Citizens' lay committee's special committee to select an architect at their combined meeting November 23.

The firm has been quite active in this area in recent years, being architects for the Stuart Paddock school in Palatine, Elmwood Park high school, Evergreen Park high school, Blue Island high school for the 11th and 12th grades, the Palatine high school addition, and a number of other school buildings.

Economical construction and the attempt to meet needs as fully as possible with the funds available are characteristic of the firm.

Representatives of the firm surveyed the present building Tuesday and conferred with teachers and administrators for their ideas on the addition.

Members of the special committee who helped in the selection of the architect are George Orescan, Byron Sayre, and William Hartman.

'Increase In Air Traffic Won't Bother Suburbs,' Says Report

Arlington Heights and nearby communities probably won't notice much change next April when airlines move 30 per cent of their operations from Midway to O'Hare field near Park Ridge.

So reported a Chicago newspaper this week. It said the navy and air force from Glenview and O'Hare, much noisier than transport planes, plus low-flying planes from air schools at small ports, have helped to "condition" suburbanites for the arrival of the transports.

Beyond the immediate vicinity of the airports, noise seems to be accepted as "one of those things."

Park Ridge, Des Plaines, and Bensenville will suffer most from the increase in air traffic, which may reach as high as 390 landings and take-offs a day before summer.

Planes from O'Hare will fly at about 2,500 feet over Arlington and that village will be in about the same position as Hinsdale is to Midway.

Warns Parents of Adolescent Children

Dr. Robert Topp, dean of the graduate school of the National College of Education in Evanston, last week described to parents the types of home environment that may lead to maladjustment during the period of adolescent change. Speaking to junior high parents and teachers on the subject of "Parental Influence in Juvenile Delinquency," Dr. Topp reassured listeners that the exhibition of what they might consider abnormal behavior in an adolescent who has previously been a happy, normal child is no cause for worry, but is merely the outgrowth of physical development and changes in attitude. The psychopathic personality exhibits itself at an earlier age, he said, and offers the least promise for improvement.

The child who makes one mistake and is filled with remorse is not really delinquent, declared Dr. Topp, but more the victim of chance factors. The delinquent child who is basically normal usually begins his criminal career "just for kicks," Dr. Topp said and is attempting to satisfy some unfilled need in himself or his environment. He described three types of children whose environmental circumstances increase their chances of going wrong:

(1) The rejected child - whose parents perhaps did not want him when he was born, feel that he interferes with their freedom, or with his problems.

(2) The over-protected child - whose parents are unduly fearful for his safety, treat him as a helpless baby, and allow him no say in family affairs - and may thereby be revealing their own hidden fear that if something did happen to him they might feel secretly relieved.

(3) The over-indulged child—whose parents have always given into his whims so that he lacks not only parental discipline but self-discipline. He never grows up.

Dr. Topp urged parents to spend more time with their children—to take them along whenever possible and not leave them always to baby-sitters. Children whose parents never have time for them are afraid to talk to their parents, he said, because they fear an unsympathetic reaction.

Love is the most important thing parents can give their children, emphasized Dr. Topp, and should be expressed not only by physical caresses but by careful choice of words and facial expressions. Good, sound, discipline is essential to the child's welfare, he continued, but is effective only when it is tempered with love. Constant nagging and scolding without the manifestation of love is as bad as no discipline at all, he declared, adding that children respect discipline when it is just and kind.

"We seem to swing from one extreme to the other," said Dr. Topp, offering this advice in conclusion: "Don't go in for extremes; follow your instinct, know your child and love him; and keep in mind these lines: 'Child, give me your hand, that I may walk in the light of your faith in me.' "

Dr. Topp will return to Arlington Heights next March to speak at North school; his topic will be, "Your Child and His Development."

Christmas Program Under Way

Dates have been set and rehearsals are underway for Christmas programs which will be presented in December by the school children. The schedule is as follows:

Dryden school, December 20—Kindergarten, first and second grades will present their program.

December 21—Third, fourth and fifth grades will present their program, which will be in the form of a pageant.

North school, December 21—Members of third, fourth, and fifth grades will present a program consisting of songs and skits.

Country Cobbler To Remodel Glenview Shop

The Country Cobbler, Glenview and Waukegan rds., Glenview, is being remodeled, Jack Tres, manager of the shoe store, announced this week.

He also has shoe stores in Palatine and Bensenville.

The remodeling of his Glenview store will double the inventory of men's, women's and children's footwear, and will provide greater floor space. Jerry Harris has been retained as interior decorator for the project, with Clarence Dahlquist as architect. Plans call for contemporary design, with an island display window which will feature children's shoes. An extensive line of handbags will also be provided.

Completion of the work is scheduled for December 10.

RECENT RESEARCH: Recent home interviews show more Chicagoland women want a dryer than any other work saver.

WHY?

An electric dryer takes the work out of washday...yet costs only $1.93 a week to own!

Why should your wife have to pin up 137 pieces of wet wash every week? It's so inexpensive to dry clothes the modern electric way.

Of course, she'd love to dry clothes the way she washes—inside, in minutes, electrically. Dryer and washer are just steps apart. And nothing but pure, fresh, electrically heated air ever touches a stitch. (It's the cleanest, fastest way to dry clothes.)

You'll like the way towels come out nice and fluffy with an automatic electric dryer. And your Mrs. will purr over pieces that turn out so smooth they hardly need ironing.

High time we got together about an automatic electric dryer. (It's only a few dollars down and carfare money a week.)

See the latest models at your nearby appliance dealer's or our store. Can you make it this week?

Give her an electric dryer this Christmas —only $5.00 down

Music Director To Present Program To St. James Mothers

The monthly meeting of St. James Catholic Mothers club will be held December 9 at 8:15 p. m. in the school hall, Arlington Heights.

Following a brief business meeting, entertainment of the evening will be under the direction of F. C. Schmoyer, director of the music department at Arlington Heights Township high school, who will present a group of music students. The Harmonettes, Bob Catenezzo, accordion player, and a string quartet consisting of Sharon Newman, Joyce Harth, Elizabeth Prunty and Alec Catherwood will provide a musical interlude.

The evening has been planned to encourage a yuletide spirit. Refreshments, provided by the fifth grade mothers, will follow the program.

This Week with PTA

Warns Parents of Adolescent Children

Dr. Robert Topp, dean of the graduate school of the National College of Education in Evanston, last week described to parents the types of home environment that may lead to maladjustment during the period of adolescent change. Speaking to junior high parents and teachers on the subject of "Parental Influence in Juvenile Delinquency," Dr. Topp reassured listeners that the exhibition of what they might consider abnormal behavior in an adolescent who has previously been a happy, normal child is no cause for worry, but is merely the outgrowth of physical development and changes in attitude. The psychopathic personality exhibits itself at an earlier age, he said, and offers the least promise for improvement.

The child who makes one mistake and is filled with remorse is not really delinquent, declared Dr. Topp, but more the victim of chance factors. The delinquent child who is basically normal usually begins his criminal career "just for kicks," Dr. Topp said and is attempting to satisfy some unfilled need in himself or his environment. He described three types of children whose environmental circumstances increase their chances of going wrong:

(1) The rejected child - whose parents perhaps did not want him when he was born, feel that he interferes with their freedom, or with his problems.

(2) The over-protected child - whose parents are unduly fearful for his safety, treat him as a helpless baby, and allow him no say in family affairs - and may thereby be revealing their own hidden fear that if something did happen to him they might feel secretly relieved.

(3) The over-indulged child—whose parents have always given into his whims so that he lacks not only parental discipline but self-discipline. He never grows up.

Dr. Topp urged parents to spend more time with their children—to take them along whenever possible and not leave them always to baby-sitters. Children whose parents never have time for them are afraid to talk to their parents, he said, because they fear an unsympathetic reaction.

Love is the most important thing parents can give their children, emphasized Dr. Topp, and should be expressed not only by physical caresses but by careful choice of words and facial expressions. Good, sound, discipline is essential to the child's welfare, he continued, but is effective only when it is tempered with love. Constant nagging and scolding without the manifestation of love is as bad as no discipline at all, he declared, adding that children respect discipline when it is just and kind.

"We seem to swing from one extreme to the other," said Dr. Topp, offering this advice in conclusion: "Don't go in for extremes; follow your instinct, know your child and love him; and keep in mind these lines: 'Child, give me your hand, that I may walk in the light of your faith in me.' "

Dr. Topp will return to Arlington Heights next March to speak at North school; his topic will be, "Your Child and His Development."

Christmas Program Under Way

Dates have been set and rehearsals are underway for Christmas programs which will be presented in December by the school children. The schedule is as follows:

Dryden school, December 20—Kindergarten, first and second grades will present their program.

December 21—Third, fourth and fifth grades will present their program, which will be in the form of a pageant.

North school, December 21—Members of third, fourth, and fifth grades will present a program consisting of songs and skits.

Country Cobbler To Remodel Glenview Shop

The Country Cobbler, Glenview and Waukegan rds., Glenview, is being remodeled, Jack Tres, manager of the shoe store, announced this week.

He also has shoe stores in Palatine and Bensenville.

The remodeling of his Glenview store will double the inventory of men's, women's and children's footwear, and will provide greater floor space. Jerry Harris has been retained as interior decorator for the project, with Clarence Dahlquist as architect. Plans call for contemporary design, with an island display window which will feature children's shoes. An extensive line of handbags will also be provided.

Completion of the work is scheduled for December 10.

RECENT RESEARCH: Recent home interviews show more Chicagoland women want a dryer than any other work saver.

WHY ?

An electric dryer takes the work out of washday...yet costs only $$1^{93}$ a week to own!

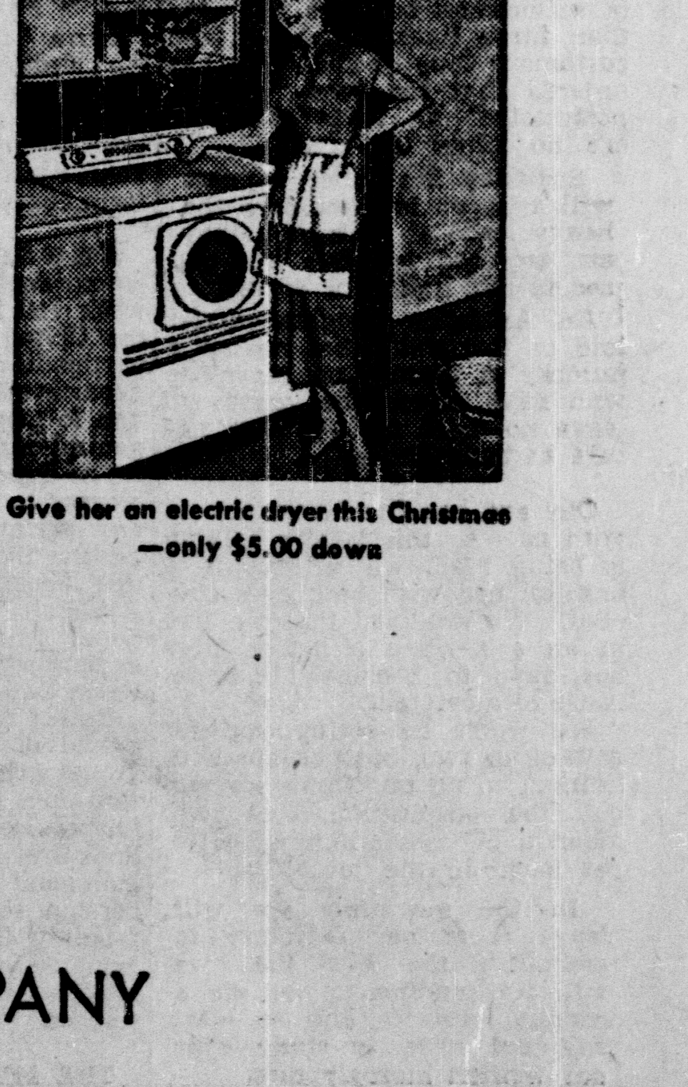
Why should your wife have to pin up 137 pieces of wet wash every week? It's so inexpensive to dry clothes the modern electric way.

Of course, she'd love to dry clothes the way she washes—inside, in minutes, electrically. Dryer and washer are just steps apart. And nothing but pure, fresh, electrically heated air ever touches a stitch. (It's the cleanest, fastest way to dry clothes.)

You'll like the way towels come out nice and fluffy with an automatic electric dryer. And your Mrs. will purr over pieces that turn out so smooth they hardly need ironing.

High time we got together about an automatic electric dryer. (It's only a few dollars down and carfare money a week.)

See the latest models at your nearby appliance dealer's or our store. Can you make it this week?



Give her an electric dryer this Christmas —only $5.00 down

Q. Is it correct for a woman who is traveling alone to use the prefix "Miss" or "Mrs." when registering at a hotel?

A. Yes; so that the hotel employees know how to address her.

Modern Etiquette

Q. If a man is walking with a woman and she is carrying her coat on her arm, should he ask to carry the coat for her?

A. This is not expected

Q. How does a woman introduce her husband?

A. To friends, as "John," and to acquaintances as "my husband." The two names of safety are "my husband" and "my wife," since they are proper no matter to whom you are talking. In business, "Mr. Johnson" and "Mrs. Johnson" are quite correct.

Q. Is it proper to tip the soup plate at the dinner table in order to scoop out all the soup?

A. This is all right, provided one can accomplish it in an inconspicuous manner.

Q. If friends have called at the home of parents of a newborn child and have brought it a gift, is it necessary for the mother to write a note of thanks to these friends in addition to the thanks she has already expressed verbally?

A. It most certainly is not out of place, and it does betoken sincere appreciation of their friends' thoughtfulness.

Q. Is it all right to pick up fried chicken at the dinner table with the fingers?

A. This is all right at a picnic, but at the dinner table the knife and fork are always used.

Q. Is it necessary to send a gift when one is invited to a church wedding, but not to the reception?

A. No; only invitations to the reception require gifts.

Q. Is it necessary to give a dinner, or any other form of entertainment, for the purpose of announcing an engagement?

A. Although this is popularly done, it is not absolutely necessary. The news of an engagement can very well be conveyed by a newspaper announcement, or just by word of mouth.

Q. Is it proper for a male escort to assist a woman in putting on her overshoes or galoshes?

A. This is not only perfectly proper, but it is the courteous thing to do.

The cotton coat is the fashion hit of the season, the National Cotton Council reports. Here, 1954 Maid of Cotton Beverly Pack of El Paso, Texas. models a striking ensemble designed by Pat Premo in Hope Skillman's tapestry and needlepoint cottons. The unbelted coat is worn over a slim, sleeveless dress.

Christmas Concert

Four major scenes are being prepared for the annual Christmas concert of the students of Arlington Heights high school, Sunday afternoon, December 12.

The program will begin at 3 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. No admission charge will be made and no tickets will be distributed.

A Toyland scene featuring the modern dance groups, directed by Elaine Wissen, will open the program. This will be followed by a "teenage" party, featuring the mixed octet, harmonettes and dancers.

Third scene is called "Over the River and Through the Woods to Grandmothers!" and features the Christmas story.

This will be followed by a church interior featuring the a cappella choir and mixed chorus, and the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus by the combined groups.

Both the band and the orchestra will participate in the program and some of the smaller singing groups will perform between the major acts.

Backdrops and scenery for all acts are being prepared by the art department from designs prepared by Ed Fischer, art instructor. Concensus of the department is that if the music and dancing is as outstanding as the art work, patrons can expect the finest Christmas concert they have ever experienced.

Arlington Heights OES Holds Installation Of Officers Saturday

Saturday, November 27, marked the beginning of a new fiscal year for Arlington Heights OES chapter 992. The worthy matron installed at this meeting was Mrs. Ray Louden, and the worthy patron, Albert Roderick. Other officers are: associate matron, Mrs. Quentin Ford; associate patron, Quentin K. Ford; secretary, Mrs. Ernest Luckner; treasurer, Mrs. George Sharp; conductress, Mrs. Burkett Davis; associate conductress, Mrs. W. O. Kelsey; chaplain, Mrs. Carl Nuss; marshal, Mrs. Albert Roderick; organist, Mrs. Minnie Barnum; Adah, Miss Florence Peterson.

Ruth, Miss Nancy Brown; Esther, Mrs. R. H. Boroughf; Martha, Mrs. Elmer Crane; Electa, Miss Florence Mall; warder, Mrs. Otto Bolte; sentinel, Harold Hastings; color bearer, Elmer Crane; instructress, Miss Celia Hausam; and correspondent, Alfred Jasper.

The installation ceremonies were held in the parish hall of the Presbyterian church, and were given by Miss Celia Hausam, installing officer, Mrs. George Sharp, and Miss Myrtle L. Frey. Margaret Knittle was soloist, and Elmer Beckwith, organist.

Escorts to the installing officers were Frank Hausam, Edmund Schmidt and George Volz. The color bearer was Burkett Davis, and the ode to the flag was given by Jodee Lohr. Ushers were William Milligan and Elmer W. Crane. Mistress of ceremonies was Miss Gertrude E. Schroeder; candle lighters were the Misses Arlene Ford and Barbara Ballard; on the courtesy committee were Mrs. Mary Peters and Mrs. Louis Rezner; and refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Alma Ihle.

The audience was greeted by Mrs. Nuss, retiring worthy matron. Short talks were given by many of the guests. As is the custom, a past matron's jewel was presented to Mrs. Nuss.

The first meeting with the new officers presiding will be Thursday, December 9.

all your essential home insurance in a single, simplified policy

Brand-new idea in insurance! The new Homeowners Policy of the North America Companies protects you against loss caused by fire, theft, lightning, wind, explosion, hail, riot, vehicle damage, vandalism and smoke.

It covers your house and other structures on grounds . . . your household goods and personal property . . . your personal liability . . . and your additional living expenses caused by any of the above perils.

Think of it! All your essential home insurance in a single, convenient, money-saving policy developed by the nation's oldest and largest stock fire and marine insurance company, the Insurance Company of North America. And you get all this protection for a single, low premium—which is at least 20% lower, in fact, than what you'd have to pay if you bought separate policies.

Why wait? Stop buying your insurance piecemeal. Stop paying that extra 20%! Stop cluttering up your desk with a separate policy for almost every coverage. Simplify your insurance—know what you have—get superior coverage at the least cost—all with North America's new Homeowners Policy. And you don't have to wait until your present insurance expires.

See your North America Agent! Insist on North America's Homeowners Policy which is now available in a majority of states and the Province of Ontario. If you like, he'll arrange payment on the easy, convenient annual plan so you can budget the cost of your Homeowners Policy. But don't put it off. You need the protection the Homeowners Policy gives you . . . and you can now have it at an almost unbelievably low, money-saving price!

Eastwood Events

Mrs. Haberkamp of Haberkamp's Flowers, 15 N. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect, will make floral arrangements and give suggestions for decorating the home for the coming holiday season at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the field house. There will be prizes and refreshments and all ladies in the area are invited to attend this December meeting of Eastwood association.

Thanksgiving Events

Among those who traveled out of town to spend the Thanksgiving holiday were the John Kelly family, who flew to Sharon, Pa., where they visited Mr. Kelly's parents. Little Gene and Bruce, the couple's sons, were thrilled with their first plane ride.

The King Klopfensteins drove to Graybill, Ind., to enjoy their turkey dinner with Mr. Klopfenstein's parents and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barton and their three children visited Mr. Barton's parents in Pennville, Ind., over the 4-day weekend.

The Norman Johnsons had Thanksgiving dinner in Williams Bay, Wis., with relatives. We would like to extend a get well wish to Mrs. Johnson's father, who underwent major surgery at Madison General hospital Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. David Young of N. Dryden had as their Thanksgiving guests, Mr. Young's parents who came all the way from Fargo, N. Dak.

The Jim Rogers had an extra large turkey Thanksgiving to feed 19 relatives who were their guests.

Birthday Party

Barbara Barrett had a birthday celebration November 27 in honor of her eighth birthday. Friends who were on hand to play games and eat cake and ice cream were Ginger Johnson, Kathy and Barbara Johnson, Mary Lou and Susan Yonker, Suzanne Anderson, Sue Bliss, Julie Buesing, Linda Jauch, Billy Raasch, John Wingquist, Rex Perschbacher, and Barbara's sister and brothers, Pam, Jeff and Brad.

We would like to announce that a new cub scout den has been formed with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Urbanowicz as den mother and den dad. They are in charge of den 7 of St. James church. Cubs who enjoy their Friday night meetings at the Urbanowicz home on N. Hickory are Dale Urbanowicz, Patrick Julien, Dennis Zitzer, Gary Loos, John Hendrickson, Billy Harrah, and the den chief, Dave Craig.

Mrs. Dick Barton, who is den mother for Den 6 of St. James, reports that her scouts are getting busy for the pack 266 Christmas party. The boys are in the process of making tree ornaments of their own design. Peery Duderstadt and Joey Heitz are the newest members of this den, and the other boys are Jimmy Link, Billy Kasper and Michael Barton. They hold their weekly meetings Tuesday after school.

New neighbors who moved into the Thompson house at 306 N. Lincoln lane, are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dewey who formerly lived on N. Highland in Arlington Heights. Mr. Dewey is cashier at the Arlington National bank. Mrs. Dewey has numerous hobbies but right at present her time is well occupied with getting their new home settled. They have one married son who resides with his family in Henry, Ill.

Presbyterian YMC's To Hold Christmas Party December 3

Fellowship hall of Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will be the scene of the annual Christmas party of the Young Married Couples' club December 3. A pot luck supper at 6:45 p.m. will precede the evening's entertainment which will include a 1-act play presented by the Village Theatre.

All young married couples are invited and can obtain information or make reservations by calling hosts for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Salzman, Clearbrook 3-3057 or Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, CLearbrook 3-3372.

More Sidelights

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Miller entertained their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Childs during the Thanksgiving weekend. The Childs live in Dearborn, Mich., and have two sons, Bobby and Donnie.

Mrs. B. A. Noyes spent Thanksgiving day in LaGrange with her sister, Mrs. Ida Austin. Mrs. Noyes' daughter, Miss Dorothy Noyes, of Ann Arbor, was here for the holiday and also attended the family dinner, as did the Carl Shuart family, Mrs. Noyes' son and daughter-in-law.

25th Wedding Anniversary

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Langguth, 227 S. Chestnut st., was attended by 235 guests at a reception held at the Elk Grove school Saturday evening.

Home From England

Mrs. Jean Ashcraft, wife of S/Sergeant Norman Ashcraft, and daughter, Becky Jo, arrived home from England by plane Tuesday morning. Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft, 102 S. State rd., is being discharged from the army and will also return from England the latter part of this week.

Al Bahr and Ed Moritz enjoyed a successful weekend hunting geese at Cairo.

all your essential home insurance in a single, simplified policy

Brand-new idea in insurance! The new Homeowners Policy of the North America Companies protects you against loss caused by fire, theft, lightning, wind, explosion, hail, riot, vehicle damage, vandalism and smoke.

It covers your house and other structures on grounds... your household goods and personal property... your personal liability ... and your additional living expenses caused by any of the above perils.

Think of it! All your essential home insurance in a single, convenient, money-saving policy developed by the nation's oldest and largest stock fire and marine insurance company, the Insurance Company of North America. And you get all this protection for a single, low premium—which is at least 20% lower, in fact, than what you'd have to pay if you bought separate policies.

Why wait? Stop buying your insurance piecemeal. Stop paying that extra 20%! Stop cluttering up your desk with a separate policy for almost every coverage. Simplify your insurance—know what you have—get superior coverage at the least cost —all with North America's new Homeowners Policy. And you don't have to wait until your present insurance expires.

See your North America Agent! Insist on North America's Homeowners Policy which is now available in a majority of states and the Province of Ontario. If you like, he'll arrange payment on the easy, convenient annual plan so you can budget the cost of your Homeowners Policy. But don't put it off. You need the protection the Homeowners Policy gives you . . . and you can now have it at an almost unbelievably low, money-saving price!

Eastwood Events

Mrs. Haberkamp of Haberkamp's Flowers, 15 N. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect, will make floral arrangements and give suggestions for decorating the home for the coming holiday season at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the field house. There will be prizes and refreshments and all ladies in the area are invited to attend this December meeting of Eastwood association.

Thanksgiving Events

Among those who traveled out of town to spend the Thanksgiving holiday were the John Kelly family, who flew to Sharon, Pa., where they visited Mr. Kelly's parents. Little Gene and Bruce, the couple's sons, were thrilled with their first plane ride.

The King Klopfensteins drove to Graybill, Ind., to enjoy their turkey dinner with Mr. Klopfenstein's parents and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barton and their three children visited Mr. Barton's parents in Pennville, Ind., over the 4-day weekend.

The Norman Johnsons had Thanksgiving dinner in Williams Bay, Wis., with relatives. We would like to extend a get well wish to Mrs. Johnson's father, who underwent major surgery at Madison General hospital Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. David Young of N. Dryden had as their Thanksgiving guests, Mr. Young's parents who came all the way from Fargo, N. Dak.

The Jim Rogers had an extra large turkey Thanksgiving to feed 19 relatives who were their guests.

Birthday Party

Barbara Barrett had a birthday celebration November 27 in honor of her eighth birthday. Friends who were on hand to play games and eat cake and ice cream were Ginger Johnson, Kathy and Barbara Johnson, Mary Lou and Susan Yonker, Suzanne Anderson, Sue Bliss, Julie Buesing, Linda Jauch, Billy Raasch, John Wingquist, Rex Perschbacher, and Barbara's sister and brothers, Pam, Jeff and Brad.

We would like to announce that a new cub scout den has been formed with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Urbanowicz as den mother and den dad. They are in charge of den 7 of St. James church. Cubs who enjoy their Friday night meetings at the Urbanowicz home on N. Hickory are Dale Urbanowicz, Patrick Julien, Dennis Zitzer, Gary Loos, John Hendrickson, Billy Harrah, and the den chief, Dave Craig.

Mrs. Dick Barton, who is den mother for Den 6 of St. James, reports that her scouts are getting busy for the pack 266 Christmas party. The boys are in the process of making tree ornaments of their own design. Peery Duderstadt and Joey Heitz are the newest members of this den, and the other boys are Jimmy Link, Billy Kasper and Michael Barton. They hold their weekly meetings Tuesday after school.

New neighbors who moved into the Thompson house at 306 N. Lincoln lane, are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dewey who formerly lived on N. Highland in Arlington Heights. Mr. Dewey is cashier at the Arlington National bank. Mrs. Dewey has numerous hobbies but right at present her time is well occupied with getting their new home settled. They have one married son who resides with his family in Henry, Ill.

The gift that wins in a breeze!

Christmas Bazaar

Suburbanites who have been intrigued by signs of "The Little Brown Bear" will be interested to know that the bear is the symbol of the annual pre-Christmas bazaar sponsored by Methodists of Des Plaines. The bazaar will be held tomorrow, Friday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at First Methodist church, Des Plaines, and its theme will be "The Christmas Gift Shop."

Seventeen booths will offer varied items for sale and a Christmas tree will hold candy canes and surprise gifts. Films, balloons, popcorn and a fishpond will be available for the children.

Luncheon and dinner will be served.

Pack 67 Christmas Party

Details of this year's Christmas party for Pack 67 have been outlined to this reporter by John W. Latta. Pack 67 is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Parents Teacher association and holds meetings every third Friday of the month at 7:30 at the North school. Pack 232 is also sponsored by the Arlington Heights PTA and an article about this pack's party wil appear in a forthcoming addition of this paper.

At this time, the Cub Dens in the Pack are making their own decorations for the Christmas tree in anticipation of the coming celebration. At the beginning of the Christmas party, each den will come forward and place their ornaments on the tree. The boys will also be working on re-conditioning old toys. These will be placed in a giant "grab bag" and every one will, with the tree, and the toys, hustle off to the Bensenville orphanage to share their party with all the young folks there. The party wil be early in December and the boys in the Pack should check with their Den Dads for details. The men responsible for planning this evening of fun for their boys and for the youngsters in Bensenville deserve a gleaming gold Merit Badge.

Warn Citizens To Beware Of Solicitors

The Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the police department, is doing everything in its power to protect interests of the merchants and citizens of Arlington Heights, so they do not become prey of unscrupulous solicitors. If the following suggestions are followed, residents are not apt to be taken in on a fake proposition.

1. When a solicitor calls, request him to present the authorization card to solicit issued by the secretary of the chamber or the chief of police of Arlington Heights.
2. Don't sign your name to a subscription blank or any other form until you have read and understood just what you have agreed to purchase.
3. Don't give cash or a check to a solicitor unless he can furnish authority for accepting same in behalf of the form by whom engaged.
4. Don't pay for advertising in advance. Demand proof of publication.
5. Don't sign subscription lists unless you are sure it is authentic.
6. Don't be a good fellow because the solicitor has made a good impression.
7. Don't forget to phone the police department at CL 3-2131 or the chamber at CL 3-1703 if the solicitor cannot produce a village permit or a chamber of commerce approval to solicit.
8. Be careful in answering ads about making extra money at home, etc. Many times you end up by buying some article.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Here December 16

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents 15 years and over, Thursday, December 16, when a mobile unit is parked at the village hall, 101 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

X-raying hours are from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

THE UNIT intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, food handler and school surveys conducted in various parts of the year, is available primarily to persons needing large 14 x 17 in. X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, prenatal, and licensing purposes, or as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small-film surveys. However, since the unit can take small "survey" X-rays, too, persons who have not checked their chests for TB within the past year, can do so at this time.

The service is being provided by the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district in cooperation with the Christmas Seal-sponsored Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county and municipal health departments.

Violin Soloist To Feature Free Church Meeting Sunday

Gunnar Urang, music director of Trinity seminary and Bible college, will be featured violin soloist at the evening gospel service of the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church next Sunday.

Mr. Urang, in addition to his musical work at Chicago seminary, is pastoring a small church in Lake Zurich, where he and his family live. The chorus choir will also provide special music for the service, at which Pastor Charles G. Will will bring another in a series of messages on the parables of Matthew 13.

The service will be held in the sanctuary of the Methodist church, Dunton and St. James, and will begin at 7 p.m.

Wilson Community News

Saturday evening Wilson Community club will hold its regular monthly party in the Wilson school basement, and all are invited to attend. Tickets will be sold at the door and the party will begin at 8 p.m. Proceeds will be used for school equipment.

A baby boy, Jerry Michael, was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Ogle of Ridge rd., Pinegate Highlands at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, November 18. Jerry is now at home getting acquainted with his brothers, Larry and Rickey, and sister, Sharon. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kohler of DeKalb, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ogle of Ashton, Ill.

Michael MacDonald of Chestnut rd., received serious injuries when his automobile crashed head-on into another last Sunday evening on Rand rd., just south of Palatine rd. He was taken to Resurrection hospital and his friends and neighbors wish him a speedy recovery. Mr. MacDonald's wife is the former Shirley Thorsen.

About Your Health

With the onset of winter and its accompanying increase in the cases of common cold, a similar rise can be anticipated in the incidence of virus pneumonia, the educational committee of the Illinois state medical society observes

The pneumonia, in which the elusive virus is involved, is called a typical or irregular, because it differs in pattern from other types of pneumonia. In lobar penumonia, for example, the condition is caused by the invasion of bacteria into the lung and develops suddenly and dramatically. But virus pneumonia begins insidiously in the person who has had a simple cold for four to five days.

SUCH SYMPTOMS as nasal congestion, mild sore throat and general debility, which have not been considered serere enough to keep the patient in bed, will be followed with generalized sensation of chilliness, a low-grade fever and a severe distressing headache. In addition there is a marked loss of appetite, and, within a few days, a dry, hacking cough develops. The cough is often worse at night and is particularly disturbing because it interferes with the patient's sleep and aggravates the persistent headache.

Fever usually varies from 100 to 103 degrees. The cough remains dry and tight for several days and which may be streaked with blood, is produced.

VIRUS PNEUMONIA appears to be self limited, running a course of from ten days to two weeks, but convalescence is accompanied by days or weeks of continued poor appetite, marked loss of energy and extreme fatigue.

At least seventeen different viruses may cause penumonia and because of the elusive character of the virus, which is ultramicroscopic in size, the specific one responsible for the pneumonia is difficult to identify. By the time the virus is recovered and identified, the patient either has become well or has succumbed to the illness.

This is the principal reason there is no specific treatment against a specific virus. A few of the newer antibiotics seem to limit some virus infections, but, generally, their use has been disappointing. They may be given for the purpose of protecting the patient from bacterial invasion and further complications.

VIRUS INFECTION may be considered to be a systemic disease in that it may invade many organs, but manifests itself to a great degree in a single organ. For example, it is not uncommon for a patient to have symptoms of inflammation in the liver, or lymph nodes, before virus penumonia develops.

And, because of this systemic disease characteristic, recovery is apt to be prolonged. Even after the inflammation has left the lung, and the temperature has returned to normal, fatigue and loss of appetite may persist for weeks or months. In patients with known heart disease, or in elderly patients, this prolonged debility during the convalescent period places an added strain on the heart.

Present Concert Sunday

Students of El Rey Music Center, 110 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, will present a concert Sunday, Dec. 5, at 3 p.m. at Arlington Heights Township high school. Guitar and accordion selections will be featured with piano numbers. In addition to solos, duets and trios, there will be two accordion bands under the direction of Marvin Gaitsch and a guitar orchestra directed by Ray Gaitsch. The program will be MC'd by Elmer Herrick and Ray Gaitsch.

Nearly 100 students are expected to participate, coming from Lake Zurich, Libertyville, Palatine and other surrounding towns as well as Arlington Heights.

Admission is by ticket with profits going to help students pay for music. Tickets are on sale by all students as well as at the store on Evergreen. The program will last about two hours.

Postmasters Give Tips For Yule Mailing

Local postmasters believe that with a three-cent stamp your Christmas cards will win more friends and influence more people than if they are mailed with a two-cent stamp.

"First-class postage," they explained today, "is the best Yuletide insurance you can get. With it your greetings will be processed and delivered quicker. And they'll be forwarded, or returned, if it becomes necessary.

"This eliminates any worry about whether or not your season's greetings were received. Your own return address on the envelope will help others keep their address books up to date. Then, too, Christmas cards sent with three-cent stamps may carry written messages, a custom everyone enjoys."

NONE OF these postal privileges is authorized at the third-class rates. Moreover, Christmas card envelopes smaller then 2¾" x 4" or larger than 9" x 12" require cancellation by hand and must carry first-class postage.

"Because of all these reasons," the postmasters added, "it's important not to be 'penny wise and pound foolish' where Christmas cards are concerned. Most people realize this, evidently, for the volume of first-class and air mail stamps being sold has increased."

Equally important is the necessity for early mailing. Christmas cards addressed outside the state should be mailed by December 15. Local delivery requires mailing at least a week before Christmas.

Postmasters urge everyone to tie their Christmas cards in two separate bundles, with each address facing the same way. Then attach the postal labels marked "all for local delivery" and "all for out-of-town delivery." These helpful tags are available at the post office, without cost, and will shorten delivery time greatly.

PARCEL post, of course, should be mailed even earlier. The postmasters recommend December 5 for out-of-state gifts, and December 10 for those with local addresses. But the sooner the better.

Size and weight limitations for parcel post vary according to place of mailing and destination. In some cases, packages cannot exceed 72 inches in length and girth combined, nor 20 pounds in weight. In others, the limits are up to 100 inches combined length and girth, and 70 pounds in weight.

"Be sure to ask someone at the post office about this before wrapping Christmas gifts," the postmasters warned. "We've already had to return a few over-size packages."

Poorly-wrapped packages are another risk to avoid. Mailing cartons of corrugated fiberboard offer excellent protection. Stuff them with wads of tissue or newspaper to cushion any shock. Then use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord tied over and under several times.

GIFT packages may not be sealed, unless the return address and this notice appear: "Contents, Merchandise—May be opened for postal inspection." Christmas seals and "Do Not Open Until Christmas" stickers may be used, but place them on back of the parcel, leaving the address easy to read.

As a final precaution, the postmasters suggest, "Write both your return address and the recipient's address on the mailing carton before it's wrapped. We'll do our best to protect them, but the Christmas mail is unusually heavy this year, and those packages may have a long way to go." (b5

Art Group Plans Christmas Meeting For Arlington Women

MRS. LYLE EWING

Mrs. Lyle Ewing, chairman of the art group, and her, committee have planned three interesting programs for members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club during the club year.

The first program will be December 8, at 1:30 p.m. at the Arlington Heights Field House. This program is called "Christmas," and will be a workshop.

Each member of the art committee will show how to make a ornament or center piece. Club members attending the program are asked to bring their own materials, sequins, styrafoam, ribbons, or whatever materials they would like, and committee members will help them make decorations. At the regular club meeting December 1, the art group will display decorations to give ideas as to materials to bring to the Christmas meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Lohr and Mrs. Max Hershey will be hostesses with Mrs. Ewing for this meeting. Anyone planning to attend, is asked to call one of the hostesses by Tuesday. (AMC

Postmasters Give Tips For Yule Mailing

Local postmasters believe that with a three-cent stamp your Christmas cards will win more friends and influence more people than if they are mailed with a two-cent stamp.

"First-class postage," they explained today, "is the best Yuletide insurance you can get. With it your greetings will be processed and delivered quicker. And they'll be forwarded, or returned, if it becomes necessary.

"This eliminates any worry about whether or not your season's greetings were received. Your own return address on the envelope will help others keep their address books up to date. Then, too, Christmas cards sent with three-cent stamps may carry written messages, a custom everyone enjoys."

NONE OF these postal privileges is authorized at the third-class rates. Moreover, Christmas card envelopes smaller then 2¾" x 4" or larger than 9" x 12" require cancellation by hand and must carry first-class postage.

"Because of all these reasons," the postmasters added, "it's important not to be 'penny wise and pound foolish' where Christmas cards are concerned. Most people realize this, evidently, for the volume of first-class and air mail stamps being sold has increased."

Equally important is the necessity for early mailing. Christmas cards addressed outside the state should be mailed by December 15. Local delivery requires mailing at least a week before Christmas.

Postmasters urge everyone to tie their Christmas cards in two separate bundles, with each address facing the same way. Then attach the postal labels marked "all for local delivery" and "all for out-of-town delivery." These helpful tags are available at the post office, without cost, and will shorten delivery time greatly.

PARCEL post, of course, should be mailed even earlier. The postmasters recommend December 5 for out-of-state gifts, and December 10 for those with local addresses. But the sooner the better.

Size and weight limitations for parcel post vary according to place of mailing and destination. In some cases, packages cannot exceed 72 inches in length and girth combined, nor 20 pounds in weight. In others, the limits are up to 100 inches combined length and girth, and 70 pounds in weight.

"Be sure to ask someone at the post office about this before wrapping Christmas gifts," the postmasters warned. "We've already had to return a few over-size packages."

Poorly-wrapped packages are another risk to avoid. Mailing cartons of corrugated fiberboard offer excellent protection. Stuff them with wads of tissue or newspaper to cushion any shock. Then use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord tied over and under several times.

GIFT packages may not be sealed, unless the return address and this notice appear: "Contents, Merchandise—May be opened for postal inspection." Christmas seals and "Do Not Open Until Christmas" stickers may be used, but place them on back of the parcel, leaving the address easy to read.

As a final precaution, the postmasters suggest, "Write both your return address and the recipient's address on the mailing carton before it's wrapped. We'll do our best to protect them, but the Christmas mail is unusually heavy this year, and those packages may have a long way to go." (b5

MRS. LYLE EWING

Mrs. Lyle Ewing, chairman of the art group, and her committee have planned three interesting programs for members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club during the club year.

The first program will be December 8, at 1:30 p.m. at the Arlington Heights Field House. This program is called "Christmas," and will be a workshop.

Each member of the art committee will show how to make a ornament or center piece. Club members attending the program are asked to bring their own materials, sequins, styrafoam, ribbons, or whatever materials they would like, and committee members will help them make decorations. At the regular club meeting December 1, the art group will display decorations to give ideas as to materials to bring to the Christmas meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Lohr and Mrs. Max Hershey will be hostesses with Mrs. Ewing for this meeting. Anyone planning to attend, is asked to call one of the hostesses by Tuesday.

A Word to Newcomers

If you have just moved into the Arlington Heights area, perhaps you are already deciding upon the physician, attorney, and dentist you would call if the need arose. Older folks, particularly, like to get the choice of funeral director settled too. We invite you to drop in for a chat and observe our facilities. A visit can provide genuine peace of mind — and there is no obligation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The understanding of the goodness of God which brings lasting peace and harmony will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, December 5, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Revelation (4:11): "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (69:13): "Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal."

The Golden Text is from Genesis (1:1): "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

Public Notice

Notice of Proposed Change in Electric Schedule.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY (Public Service Company Division) hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on November 22, 1954, proposed changes in Schedule E-3 affecting off-peak electric service to commercial, industrial and governmental customers.

By reason of changes in load conditions on the Company's system in recent years, the Company proposes to terminate the following off-peak rates:

Rate 13, Industrial Electric Service—Off-Peak

Rate 77, Ice Making Electric Service

Upon termination of these rates, customers presently served thereunder will be billed under standard rates at higher charges, but customers so served on the filing date will be eligible for credit adjustments under proposed new Rider 21, Off-Peak Electric Service. These credit adjustments have the effect of progressively diminishing existing benefits of off-peak charges over a period of not more than twenty years and not less than five years as determined under the rider.

In addition, this filing proposes the substitution of revised annual demand charge provisions for the present off-peak provisions of Rate 22, Governmental Electric Service. Those governmental customers who wil not benefit by this change will receive credit adjustments under Rider 21 as described above.

The text of Rider 13 — Governmental Pumping Service, applicable only to Rate 22, is revised without change in charges or material effect on customers' operations.

A proposed new Rider 22, Nighttime Demands, continues in modified form the lower charges of Rate 13 for nighttime demand in excess of daytime demand, and extends the availability of such charges to Rates 11, 12, and 22.

Further information with respect thereto may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed changes in the schedule may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

With The Blue Birds

Honey Bears Group

Honey Bears blue bird group has been doing quite a bit of sewing the past few weeks. Members are busily working to fill the doll cradle to be sent to a needy little girl. Each of the girls helped in sewing scraps together for a quilt and they are donating part of their treasury to purchase a new doll to dress.

A farewell gift, a blue bird pin, was given to Donna Santella who is moving to New Jersey. Carol Haas and Rae Landmeier have been recent hostesses. The girls also welcomed Nancy Miles, a newcomer to the Honey Bears group.

Helping Pixies Group

Helping Pixies have also been busily engaged in their "Good Fellow" Christmas project, of outfitting a wooden cradle with doll, clothes and bedding. The girls have enjoyed piecing together patch-work squares for the doll quilt, and are now making clothes for doll, donated by one of the blue birds. Part of their treasury will be used to buy baby shoes and a nursing bottle for the doll.

Nancy Taylor, attending her last meeting before departing for Martinsburg, Pa., was presented with a blue bird pin as a going away gift. Rhonda Roberts was hostess for the meeting.

Charter Ceremony

Both Arlington Heights blue bird groups look forward to their joint charter ceremony to be held December 12, at 3:30 p.m. in the junior high school cafeteria. At this time, the Honey Bears and Helping Pixies groups will be presented with their charters, and the girls will receive blue bird pins and membership cards. Mount Prospect camp fire girls will present the colors. Blue birds invite their parents, relatives, and friends to attend this impressive ceremony.

December Is Rehabilitation Month For Legion Auxiliary

December, known as rehabilitation month on the calendar of the American Legion auxiliary, will be the busiest month of the year for the 933 units in the State of Illinois, it was stated by Mrs. Joseph Wisersky, president of Merle Guild unit 208 of Arlington Heights. "Although the work of helping to rehabilitate the 15,000 disabled veterans hospitalized in 29 hospitals in the state is an unceasing auxiliary activity throughout the year, Christmas brings opportunity for special services and remembrance. It is at this time of the year that the hospitalized veteran is most in need of reassurance that he is not forgotten by the public, and that his sacrifice has not been in vain. Added comfort and cheer are brought to those veterans, by the auxiliary, because they cannot share the holidays with their loved ones at home," said Mrs. Wisersky.

This local unit has contributed to the auxiliary's state rehabilitation program, which consists of nine separate projects, all pertaining to the rehabilitation program. These include the following:

Christmas gift shops. This program is sponsored by the auxiliary in 15 hospitals in Illinois. Here, the hospitalized veteran, receiving $20 or less per month in government compensation, may select without cost to himself, carefully chosen gifts for his wife and family, or mother and father. Auxiliary members wrap the gifts in holiday wrappings, enclosing the veteran's personal card and message, and sends it to his family. No mention of the auxiliary is on gift or wrapper.

Veterans craft exchange. Prominent in the auxiliary's rehabilitation program is the maintenance of the Veterans Craft exchange, at 30 W. Washington st., Chicago. This unique enterprise is the only one of its kind in the United States, where handicapped veterans from all over the nation, send their handmade articles to sell. Full price of the article is returned to the veteran, since the expense of shipping and handling and the overhead of the exchange, is borne by the 933 units in Illinois through donations and sponsorship of unit sales in local communities.

Easter gift program. At Easter, each hospitalized veteran receives a gift from the auxiliary, purchased through contributions received from the units.

Tresure Chest. This fund provides creature comforts, mainly cigarettes, to all hospitalized veterans.

Insulin fund. This supplies free medication to the needy diabetic veteran.

Vaponefrin fund. This supplies free medication to the needy asthmatic sufferer.

Canteen-Book fund. This supplies, periodically to the hospitalized veteran receiving $20 or less per month in government compensation, a cash value book with which he may purchase items from hospital canteen.

Hospitality fund. This makes possible a party each month in each hospital for the confined veterans.

Auxiliary's nursery at Downey Veterans' hospital in North Chicago. The auxiliary maintains this nursery where children of veterans hospitalized at Downey may be cared for and entertained during the mother's visit to the patient. A registered nurse and staff are on duty.

Public Notice

Notice of Proposed Change in Electric Schedule.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY (Public Service Company Division) hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on November 22, 1954, proposed changes in Schedule E-3 affecting off-peak electric service to commercial, industrial and governmental customers.

By reason of changes in load conditions on the Company's system in recent years, the Company proposes to terminate the following off-peak rates:

Rate 77, Ice Making Electric Service

Upon termination of these rates, customers presently served thereunder will be billed under standard rates at higher charges, but customers so served on the filing date will be eligible for credit adjustments under proposed new Rider 21, Off-Peak Electric Service. These credit adjustments have the effect of progressively diminishing existing benefits of off-peak charges over a period of not more than twenty years and not less than five years as determined under the rider.

In addition, this filing proposes the substitution of revised annual demand charge provisions for the present off-peak provisions of Rate 22, Governmental Electric Service. Those governmental customers who wil not benefit by this change will receive credit adjustments under Rider 21 as described above.

The text of Rider 13 — Governmental Pumping Service, applicable only to Rate 22, is revised without change in charges or material effect on customers' operations.

A proposed new Rider 22, Nighttime Demands, continues in modified form the lower charges of Rate 13 for nighttime demand in excess of daytime demand, and extends the availability of such charges to Rates 11, 12, and 22.

Further information with respect thereto may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed changes in the schedule may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

With The Blue Birds

Honey Bears Group

Honey Bears blue bird group has been doing quite a bit of sewing the past few weeks. Members are busily working to fill the doll cradle to be sent to a needy little girl. Each of the girls helped in sewing scraps together for a quilt and they are donating part of their treasury to purchase a new doll to dress.

A farewell gift, a blue bird pin, was given to Donna Santella who is moving to New Jersey. Carol Haas and Rae Landmeier have been recent hostesses. The girls also welcomed Nancy Miles, a newcomer to the Honey Bears group.

Helping Pixies Group

Helping Pixies have also been busily engaged in their "Good Fellow" Christmas project, of outfitting a wooden cradle with doll, clothes and bedding. The girls have enjoyed piecing together patch-work squares for the doll quilt, and are now making clothes for doll, donated by one of the blue birds. Part of their treasury will be used to buy baby shoes and a nursing bottle for the doll.

Nancy Taylor, attending her last meeting before departing for Martinsburg, Pa., was presented with a blue bird pin as a going away gift. Rhonda Roberts was hostess for the meeting.

Charter Ceremony

Both Arlington Heights blue bird groups look forward to their joint charter ceremony to be held December 12, at 3:30 p.m. in the junior high school cafeteria. At this time, the Honey Bears and Helping Pixies groups will be presented with their charters, and the girls will receive blue bird pins and membership cards. Mount Prospect camp fire girls will present the colors. Blue birds invite their parents, relatives, and friends to attend this impressive ceremony.

December Is Rehabilitation Month For Legion Auxiliary

December, known as rehabilitation month on the calendar of the American Legion auxiliary, will be the busiest month of the year for the 933 units in the State of Illinois, it was stated by Mrs. Joseph Wisersky, president of Merle Guild unit 208 of Arlington Heights. "Although the work of helping to rehabilitate the 15,000 disabled veterans hospitalized in 29 hospitals in the state is an unceasing auxiliary activity throughout the year, Christmas brings opportunity for special services and remembrance. It is at this time of the year that the hospitalized veteran is most in need of reassurance that he is not forgotten by the public, and that his sacrifice has not been in vain. Added comfort and cheer are brought to those veterans, by the auxiliary, because they cannot share the holidays with their loved ones at home," said Mrs. Wisersky.

This local unit has contributed to the auxiliary's state rehabilitation program, which consists of nine separate projects, all pertaining to the rehabilitation program. These include the following:

Christmas gift shops. This program is sponsored by the auxiliary in 15 hospitals in Illinois. Here, the hospitalized veteran, receiving $20 or less per month in government compensation, may select without cost to himself, carefully chosen gifts for his wife and family, or mother and father. Auxiliary members wrap the gifts in holiday wrappings, enclosing the veteran's personal card and message, and sends it to his family. No mention of the auxiliary is on gift or wrapper.

Veterans craft exchange. Prominent in the auxiliary's rehabilitation program is the maintenance of the Veterans Craft exchange, at 30 W. Washington st., Chicago. This unique enterprise is the only one of its kind in the United States, where handicapped veterans from all over the nation, send their handmade articles to sell. Full price of the article is returned to the veteran, since the expense of shipping and handling and the overhead of the exchange, is borne by the 933 units in Illinois through donations and sponsorship of unit sales in local communities.

Easter gift program. At Easter, each hospitalized veteran receives a gift from the auxiliary, purchased through contributions received from the units.

Tresure Chest. This fund provides creature comforts, mainly cigarettes, to all hospitalized veterans.

Insulin fund. This supplies free medication to the needy diabetic veteran.

Vaponefrin fund. This supplies free medication to the needy asthmatic sufferer.

Canteen-Book fund. This supplies, periodically to the hospitalized veteran receiving $20 or less per month in government compensation, a cash value book with which he may purchase items from hospital canteen.

Hospitality fund. This makes possible a party each month in each hospital for the confined veterans.

Auxiliary's nursery at Downey Veterans' hospital in North Chicago. The auxiliary maintains this nursery where children of veterans hospitalized at Downey may be cared for and entertained during the mother's visit to the patient. A registered nurse and staff are on duty.

From The Police Blotter...

Arlington Heights police are investigating an attempted robbery at Suburban Cleaners, which took place about 4 p.m. last Friday.

Miss Rosemary Meyer, who was on duty at the time, told police a young man about 19 or 20, had entered the store earlier in the afternoon asking to see her boss. He said he was looking for a job. When she said the boss wasn't in he gave her his name as Johnny Ewing and left a Gladstone telephone number.

A few hours later he returned carrying a paper sack. He had one hand in his pocket and it looked as though he might have had a gun. He demanded that Miss Meyer put all the money in the sack. She thought he was kidding and made no effort to give him the money.

Just then two of her friends walked past the store and she waved them to come inside. When one girl entered the man just stood there until she left. He then told Miss Meyer it was all a joke, that her boss had sent him to test her since she was a new employee.

She described the fellow as being slight of build, weighing about 130 pounds, 5'8" tall, blue eyes and sandy hair.

W. Kilbury, 430 S. Evergreen, reported to police that a dual manifold (Grancor) and a carburetor had been stolen from the trunk of his auto. The car was parked at Bill's Service station, Park st. and State rd., and was locked. Floor boards had been removed and the thief apparently crawled through the opening and released the lock.

A thief made an attempted entry at Jim's Service station, Wilke rd. and Campbell st., November 26. A rear window light had been cut with a glass cutter to enable the thief to reach in and release the window latch. Police noticed the rear window of the station partly open when they were making their rounds and investigated. Nothing seemed to be missing.

Two 11 year old girls were injured when they were riding double on a bike and collided with an auto driven by Bessie Mash of the Arlington airport. Miss Mash told police she was driving north on Wilke rd. and did not see the girls until she was 20 feet from the intersection of Campbell. She said they darted across the intersection without looking. She swerved her car and applied the brakes but the right fender and headlight of her auto caught the rear fender of the bike.

The injured girls are Sherlyn Johnson and Hazel Olson, both of Rolling Meadows. They were treated for lacerations and bumps by Dr. Robert Muench.

Traffic court processed 29 cases Monday night and collected $393 in fines. A total of $500 was collected in fines the previous week.

Violations included speeding, no tail lights, one headlight, invalid driver's license, and unnecessary noise due to faulty muffler.

Newcomers' Club To Hold Christmas Luncheon Wednesday

Officers of Arlington Heights Newcomers' club will welcome members and guests at the Christmas luncheon, at Simson's restaurant at 12:45 p.m., December 8. Following luncheon, there will be an earring exchange and card playing. Reservations and information about the luncheon can be obtained by calling Mrs. Robert Nicol, Clearbrook 3-8868 before noon December 7.

Mrs. Robert Griffith, bridge chairman, has announced December hostesses for the tournament as Mrs. Robert Meyers, Mrs. H. B. Rasmussen, Mrs. Richard Holtzman and Mrs. Robert E. Coller.

The club will hold no regular meeting this month, but will sponsor a Christmas party for children December 11 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the field house.

Information on joining the club may be obtained from the membership chairman, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Clearbrook 3-8025.

Girl Scout News

At the last south neighborhood meeting, the following officers were elected: neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Maynard Whitelow; vice chairman, Mrs. Boehner; secretary, Mrs. S. Wit; nominating committee, Mrs. Raymond Erickson, Mrs. Leroy Rothenberger, and Mrs. Floyd Terbell.

The north neighborhood elected the following officers: neighborhood chairman, Mrs. R. T. McClaughry; vice chairman, Mrs. Rasmussen; secretary, Mrs. Coward; nominating committee, Mrs. G. Ervan, Mrs. D. Gutzman, Mrs. A. Shogren. These officers will take office in January.

Mrs. S. Wit's troop of second grade brownies from the Dryden school were recently invested. They have a total of 16 girls now and will soon get their troop number.

The new second grade brownie troop from Ridge school recently held their investiture ceremony. They opened by saying the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and then sang "When 'Ere You Make a Promise," accompanied by Mrs. Ehrke on the piano. As each girl said her brownie promise, she lit a candle and placed it in a holder. The program was very much enjoyed by the mothers who were the guests. Mrs. Buckley is the leader, and Mrs. Gordon is co-leader.

Girl Scout News

At the last south neighborhood meeting, the following officers were elected: neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Maynard Whitelow; vice chairman, Mrs. Boehner; secretary, Mrs. S. Wit; nominating committee, Mrs. Raymond Erickson, Mrs. Leroy Rothenberger, and Mrs. Floyd Terbell.

The north neighborhood elected the following officers: neighborhood chairman, Mrs. R. T. McClaughry; vice chairman, Mrs. Rasmussen; secretary, Mrs. Coward; nominating committee, Mrs. G. Ervan, Mrs. D. Gutzman, Mrs. A. Shogren. These officers will take office in January.

Mrs. S. Wit's troop of second grade brownies from the Dryden school were recently invested. They have a total of 16 girls now and will soon get their troop number.

The new second grade brownie troop from Ridge school recently held their investiture ceremony. They opened by saying the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and then sang "When 'Ere You Make a Promise," accompanied by Mrs. Ehrke on the piano. As each girl said her brownie promise, she lit a candle and placed it in a holder. The program was very much enjoyed by the mothers who were the guests. Mrs. Buckley is the leader, and Mrs. Gordon is co-leader.

Gems Of Thought

Good Will

An effort made for the happiness of others lifts above ourselves.

—Lydia M. Child

How easy is it for one benevolent being to diffuse pleasure around him, and how truly is a kind heart a fountain of gladness, making everything in its vicinity to freshen into smiles.

—Washington Irving

The best portion of a good man's life is his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love.

—William Wordsworth

Only what feeds and fills the sentiment with unworldliness, can give peace and good will towards men.

—Mary Baker Eddy

He that does good to another, does also good to himself; not only in the consequence, but in the very act of doing it; for the consciousness of well-being is an ample reward.

—Lucius Seneca

To cultivate kindness is a valuable part of the business of life.

Glen Ellyn To Discontinue Half-Day School Sessions

Glen Ellyn elementary school authorities expect to discontinue the present half day sessions during February, 1955.

At the same time it is expected sessions in rented quarters will be terminated.

Reason for the changes in present operations is the opening date of the new junior high school building, projected at the moment for some time in February.

TAX FACTS

By George [illegible] Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Illinois education association, in the current issue of its official magazine, confirms the statement made by the Taxpayer's Federation of Illinois that the school teachers will seek an increase in the state sales tax at the session of the Illinois general assembly which convenes in January.

The Illinois education association magazine states: "The association has long expressed its views that the most equitable tax is a tax on graduated income. Constitutional amendment would be necessary to provide such a tax. Years would be involved in the process. In the interim, the most feasible source of additional income would be the reinstitution of the 3-cent occupation tax. This can be done by the general assembly —. Hence the IEA legislative committee suggests the reinstitution of the 3-cent occupation tax as at least a temporary solution."

AN INCREASE of 50 percent in the state retailers occupation tax, or sales tax, from a rate of 2 cents to 3 cents on each dollar of goods purchased, would not be sufficient to pay for the cost of the program advocated by the teachers in their magazine, according to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

The IEA program calls for an increase of $130,000,000 for the coming biennium in state equalization aid for local schools, an amount which would have to be increased in future years as enrollments continue to increase.

The IEA also recommends increased state aid to local school districts for transportation of pupils, a new program of state aid for public junior colleges, a program of state aid for school building, increased state appropriations to state colleges and universities.

WITH STATE spending already exceeding state income, the taxpayers' federation points out that a 50 percent increase in the sales tax would not be sufficient to meet the demands of the school teachers alone, to say nothing of the demands for state funds from cities and other local governments, and for more money from state welfare institutions and other state agencies.

At the local tax level, the teachers are advocating an increase in assessed values of property, which would mean higher local property tax bills not only for schools but for other local governments as well.

Knights Of Columbus Plan Yule Dance

Fr. Linden council Knights of Columbus will present its second annual Christmas dance Saturday, December 11, at the Northbrook American legion hall, Pfington and Walter roads, Northbrook.

Paraplegic Named To President's Committee To Help Handicapped

Dwight D. Guilfoil Jr., executive vice president of the Paraplegics manufacturing company of Franklin Park, and living in Arlington Heights, has announced his acceptance of an invitation to serve on the employers' committee of the President's committee of employment of the physically handicapped. The appointment made in behalf of President Eisenhower was extended to Mr. Guilfoil by major general Melvin J. Maas, chairman of the president's committee.

In accepting the non-salaried appointment, Mr. Guilfoil, a paraplegic veteran, stated "This is a work that I have dedicated my life to since the first employer closed his door to me after I received my disability discharge from the air force in 1945. Serving on the President's committee will enable me to contribute further towards obtaining full employment opportunities for all of our citizens, regardless of physical impairments.

"It is a matter of simple economics that we must utilize the abilities of all Americans. Ask any disabled person and he will tell you that, by comparison, he is much happier when paying income taxes than when receiving a subsistance check from his government. No amount of remuneration can equal the personal satisfaction received from practical rehabilitation work of this kind. Its value to the economic stability of the country is unmeasurable."

Symphony Concert Sunday At Maine

Preparations for the concert of the Northwest Symphony orchestra next Sunday are nearing completion as this paper goes to press. At 3:30 p.m., in the auditorium of Maine Township high school, Perry E. Crafton, conductor, will raise his baton for the beginning of the overture.

A civic concert, this is the first of the season by the orchestra and the fifth since its organization in 1952. Members reside in the northwest communities and over 100 persons have now become patrons or associate members.

Season tickets good for three concerts, as well as single admissions, may still be obtained at the box office the day of the concert. Children under 12 will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult and students from 12 through high school are admitted for 50 cents. Ample parking space is provided.

The program will include the Suzanne Overture by Wolf-Ferrari; New World Symphony by Dvorak; Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto played by William Hector; Carmen Suite by Bizet and Espana by Chabrier.

Lake Zurich Board To Get School Bids

Bids for the construction of a 10-room addition to Lake Zurich grade school will be received at a meeting of the Lake Zurich board of education.

A referendum last June for issuance of bonds totaling $186,000 for construction of the addition carried by a vote of 160 to 72.

The proposal for school construction is designed to provide classroom space for 250 additional students. The present building, with 16 rooms, already accommodates 576.

Sunday School Classes To Begin Sunday At United Lutheran Church

Beginning Sunday morning, December 5, Sunday school classes will be held each week by the United Lutheran church of Arlington Heights, meeting in the multi-purpose room of Dryden school, Dryden and Rockwell sts. A canvass of the new congregation has revealed a great many children of church school age, and classes will be provided for all age groups.

In a planning meeting held Tuesday evening at Dryden school, arrangements for the new Sunday school sessions were made under the leadership of the Rev. George Hoog, organizing pastor. Other plans which were to have been made at the planning meeting were the setting of dates for the Christmas services, the probable date of formal organization of the congregation, and the formation of classes of adult instruction.

A group of members interested in forming a choir for the mission church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Posselt, 302 W. Maple this evening, Thursday, to begin preparation on special anthems for the Christmas service. Mrs. George Hoog, who is serving as pianist for the church, will direct.

Further information concerning services of the church may be secured by calling Pastor Hoog at Vanderbilt 4-0013 or Clearbrook 3-6298.

Communion Sunday For St. James Women

Members of the women's guild of St. James Catholic church of Arlington Heights and the Catholic High club will receive holy communion at the 8:15 mass December 5. As a Marian year offering, the guild is sponsoring a grotto of our Lady of Lourdes erected on St. James Catholic convent grounds, 820 N. State rd., Arlington Heights.

The grotto is built with art stone, and is 10 feet high and 10 feet wide with a 3-foot statue of our Lady and a 1 foot 9 inch statue of St. Bernadette. Dedication of the grotto will be held December 8 following the 10 a.m. mass. Those interested are invited to attend the dedication.

The grotto was built by Joseph Urick and Joseph Orgler with the help of members of St. James parish.

About the Cherry Tree!

Did George Washington really chop down that cherry tree? Only one man knew for sure. He was Mason Weems, an itinerant parson and book agent who, shortly after the first President's death in 1799, wrote the biography of Washington in which he included the anecdote. This biography is the only authority for the cherry tree story.

Sunday School Classes To Begin Sunday At United Lutheran Church

Beginning Sunday morning, December 5, Sunday school classes will be held each week by the United Lutheran church of Arlington Heights, meeting in the multi-purpose room of Dryden school, Dryden and Rockwell sts. A canvass of the new congregation has revealed a great many children of church school age, and classes will be provided for all age groups.

In a planning meeting held Tuesday evening at Dryden school, arrangements for the new Sunday school sessions were made under the leadership of the Rev. George Hoog, organizing pastor. Other plans which were to have been made at the planning meeting were the setting of dates for the Christmas services, the probable date of formal organization of the congregation, and the formation of classes of adult instruction.

A group of members interested in forming a choir for the mission church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Posselt, 302 W. Maple this evening, Thursday, to begin preparation on special anthems for the Christmas service. Mrs. George Hoog, who is serving as pianist for the church, will direct.

Further information concerning services of the church may be secured by calling Pastor Hoog at Vanderbilt 4-0013 or Clearbrook 3-6298.

Communion Sunday For St. James Women

Members of the women's guild of St. James Catholic church of Arlington Heights and the Catholic High club will receive holy communion at the 8:15 mass December 5. As a Marian year offering, the guild is sponsoring a grotto of our Lady of Lourdes erected on St. James Catholic convent grounds, 820 N. State rd., Arlington Heights.

The grotto is built with art stone, and is 10 feet high and 10 feet wide with a 3-foot statue of our Lady and a 1 foot 9 inch statue of St. Bernadette. Dedication of the grotto will be held December 8 following the 10 a.m. mass. Those interested are invited to attend the dedication.

The grotto was built by Joseph Urick and Joseph Orgler with the help of members of St. James parish.

About the Cherry Tree!

Did George Washington really chop down that cherry tree? Only one man knew for sure. He was Mason Weems, an itinerant parson and book agent who, shortly after the first President's death in 1799, wrote the biography of Washington in which he included the anecdote. This biography is the only authority for the cherry tree story.

Cana Conference Held Sunday At St. Theresa

Consideration for each other was the main theme of the Cana conference given by Rev. Francis Calkins to an informal gathering of married couples Sunday at St. Theresa's church, Palatine.

Speaking at a Cana day for 38 couples, Father Calkins expressed the necessity of trusting in God in all aspects of married life. He also emphasized the essential spirituality of marriage and presented interesting and practical advice for the everyday problems of married couples.

Cana days are informal meetings sponsored by the Archdiocese of Chicago to help couples understand better the nature of Christian marriage and find greater happiness. (AP

Arlington Host To Maine Friday Night In League Opener

MAC SAYS - By G. A. McELROY

THE NORTHWEST CONFERENCE cage season, which opens Friday night, should be a breeze for Antioch's Sequoits, coached by Dick Scott. Last year Antioch started slowly and had to settle for a tie with Grant's fine team. It was Antioch's second straight title and they shared the frosh-soph championship as well with Ela-Vernon and Grant.

This year the varsity squad is almost intact from 1953-54 with Ben Floyd, two time all-conference, and either Jack Palmer or Chuck Davis at forwards; Fred Clarke at center; and Warren Brownlee and all-conference Mike Haviland at guards. We will be surprised if this unit loses a conference game. On paper they should win all by a ten or more point margin.

The battle for runnerup honors, in our opinion, is among five teams.

Palatine and Wauconda, who wound up third and fourth last year have enough strength returning to wind up second and third this year.

It is a tossup as to which is the best. Friday's opener may determine that. Wauconda, led by Gene Jaskot, one of the best players in the league and an all-conference forward, has a fine record in non-conference games. The Bulldogs lost a close one to a standout Warren team and then whipped Huntley, Richmond, and Capron. Don Smith is a returning regular guard and Floyd Whitman, Dan Gorman, Edward O'Pisz, and Bob Hintze are reserves who are performing capably. Wauconda has height and a fine play maker.

PALATINE LOOKED GOOD against Dundee in the opener, lacked team play losing to Arlington Heights, and looked off color at West Aurora. In Alan Eck and John Goetz Palatine has good scoring, and if the Pirates make use of the height and rebounding ability of lanky Dave Nesset and Dave Schutz, they should have a real good club. Wauconda may nip the Pirates Friday but over the season Palatine should be a strong candidate for the second spot in the standings.

COACH NORMAN LADD lost as many good boys as anyone in the league but the Ela Bears have come up with pre-season victories over Lake Forest, Geneva, and North Chicago. They have a star in George Severance and a group of mighty fine ball players from last year's soph crop.

Ela is a year away but looks like a first division club, not on paper but on results to date. Ela should fight it out with Glenbrook and Grant for fourth place.

Glenbrook with four regulars returning, including all-conference Bob Boyd, figure to be heard from this year. They were coming at the end of the season but still had a good way to go. The walloping they were handed by Zion last week was none too encouraging.

Grant lost all but Bob Bein from a champ team but Ray Collier coached a mediocre group to the title heights last year and may surprise with a first division team again.

If the football injuries heal quickly enough Grant will have some tall boys available. As it is, Collier is using two sophs on his starting five and not doing badly.

GRAYSLAKE AND BENSENVILLE appear doomed to second division. Both have only one small guard returning from the varsity five and were weak with the frosh-sophs last season. Ken Sirotzki at Bensenville is one of the league's best performers and a real spark plug standing only five-feet-seven. Gerry Beck, a 5' 10" guard is the only regular at Grayslake, though Ken Moran, Ray Vanderspool, and Gale Peregrin are experienced lettermen.

The outlook is not very optimistic for Walter Nesheim, the Grayslake assistant principal, who takes over varsity basetball in place of Pat Rooney in a shift made shortly before the season started.

A poll of the conference coaches shows they pick Antioch first by a unanimous vote, with second up for grabs between Glenbrook and Palatine. They have missed Wauconda, it seems, and new coach George Haley, we are sure, does not mind. Our picks on the basis of material available are in the order named: Antioch, Palatine and Wauconda, Ela-Vernon, and Glenbrook, Grant, Bensenville, Grayslake.

ARLINGTON WON the sleigh bells at Palatine last week, but the Pirates won the battle for gate receipts to the tune of $752, almost $400 more than Arlington took in a year ago in a game between the two schools played later in the season. All-important gate receipts pay for everything in the way of major and minor sports at local high schools, except coaches' salaries.

That $752 will go toward equipment, officials, transportation, tape and rubbing alcohol for football, basketball, wrestling, cross country, golf and baseball. At Heights it would have helped pay for tennis, too.

At any rate, the Thanksgiving eve game proved such a bonanza it'll probably be an annual date between the two "arch enemies" for years to come. Down Heights way the opener against Woodstock, for comparison, brought in only $336.20, according to figures so ably kept by athletic director Wally Grace.

DURING FOOTBALL Arlington had a record year, gatewise, headed by the Maine game when over $2,000 was collected. Here are the figures:

Season tickets	$ 441.50	Glenbard game	$1,595.25
Leyden game	1,247.00	York game	545.50
Maine game	2,100.30	Total four games	$5,929.55

The weather kept the York figure low, or the Card gridders would have reached Grace's goal, $6,000. Student activity tickets of the home school are never added in game receipts. At Heights the tickets sell for $3.00, covering football and basketball games.

Bisons Host To Pirates Tuesday In Mid-Week Tilt

Friday the Northwest conference swings into action with a full schedule of games which sends both Palatine and Bensenville on the road to meet two of the highly rated teams in the league. Palatine with a 1-2 record, which includes a 68-54 victory over Dundee, will travel to Wauconda, winner of three out of four preliminary games.

Palatine and Wauconda finished third and fourth last year and each has two regulars returning.

The Pirates have Alan Eck and John Goetz and the Bulldogs have Gene Jaskot, all league forward, and Don Smith. Both teams have tall subs from last year's teams and are considered logical rivals for a top spot in the final standings. Saturday, the Pirates will play at home against a veteran Libertyville team.

COACH NOVATNY'S Bensenville Bisons will open at Glenbrook. The Bisons are one of the uncertain quantities in the preseason dope, just as they were in football. They will be led by a real ball handler and play maker in Ken Sirotski who, though one of the top scorers in the conference, was the smallest regular player last year.

Glenbrook has Boyd, Schulteis, Goettsche, Vana, Schoenfeld, and May back from last year's team and a new six-foot-five center in Sheldon Spalding.

ANTIOCH, seeking its third straight championship with a squad almost intact from last year and a champ soph team moving up, will open at Grayslake, one of the teams hardest hit by graduation. Ela-Vernon and Grant meet at Fox Lake.

Grant has only Bob Bein and Ela depends on George Severance as the only returning regulars but both had soph teams last year which tied with Antioch for first place and those boys will tell the tale.

On the basis of home court advantage, returning material, and pre-season records it would look like Wauconda, Glenbrook, Antioch, and Ela-Vernon would have the edge in the conference openers.

NEXT TUESDAY the conference has a schedule of midweek games which pit the Palatine Pirates and Bensenville Bisons on the Bensenville court. Games Tuesday were moved up from the past season opening date before Thanksgiving and will be played earlier in the evening with frosh-soph preliminaries slated for the tip off at 6:30 and the varsity to get underway at 8:00. This will allow student fans to get home by 10:00.

Other games on the card for Tuesday, December 8, are Glenbrook at Ela-Vernon, Grayslake at Wauconda, and Grant at Antioch. Northwest conference double bills by league rule start at 7:15 with this exception. When the same teams meet in January with locations reversed the games will likewise be played at 6:30 on a Tuesday.

SATURDAY NIGHT when Libertyville comes to Palatine the Wildcats will be handled by a new coach Andy Hook. Last year Libertyville finished in the North Suburban cellar with one victory but most of the regulars are back and heading the list are two standouts in Larry Ray, playing his fourth season on the varsity, and Dick Weidner, high scorer of last year's team at guard.

Weidner scored 169 points last season and tied the North Suburban free throw record with 77 points from the charity line.

Other lettermen are Tom Jensen, Chuck Jarrett, Jim Gustafson, and Romeo Mura. Ray who stands 6'1" is the one Libertyville player over six feet and the squad as a whole is very short on height and will depend on fast break basketball. Libertyville is host to Barrington's Bronchos in a North Suburban Conference game the night before their engagement at Palatine.

Arlington Junior High Cagers To Open Play Friday

Arlington Heights grade school basketball teams, heavyweight and lightweight, will open an eight game schedule Friday afternoon at the junior high school against Glenview. The heavies racked up a 4-6 record last year, the lights 9-1, with the solitary loss to Des Plaines.

This year home and home contests are scheduled for six Fridays and two Saturdays with Glenview, Algonquin school of Des Plaines, Park Ridge and Palatine.

COACHING the heavies is Bob Spinks, with Ted Wissen directing the lights. Determining weight as to heavies or lights is 105, with an additional sixth grade program maintained Saturday mornings.

The outdoor baskets at the junior high school in Arlington Heights are providing many boys with additional opportunities to play basketball and are already being put to heavy use. The school teams, of course, practice and play in the gym.

Heights Wrestlers At Leyden Friday

Arlington Heights wrestlers will initiate another season of competition Friday night, Dec. 3, at Leyden when Coaches Dick Mudge and Maurice Kellogg lead their charges into action. First two meets for the Cardinals are traveling affairs, with the locals at York Thursday, Dec. 9.

Elimination bouts were being finished this week with most varsity positions definite as of Tuesday. Most frosh-soph spots were still up in the air, though Coach Kellogg has named the boys most likely to survive the trials.

BRUCE WILKERSON will lead the varsity at heavyweight, with Floyd Burns and Al Rose slated for 175 and 165, depending upon which weight Burns can make. A wrestler is permitted to be at any weight up to two pounds over his assigned figure.

Rose and John Heintz are listed at 154 for the same reason. Wally Mulso will probably be seen at 145, with Mickey Harris and Jack Ebert still vying for the 138 spot.

KEN BREDFELDT is listed at 133, with Ken Piepenbrink named at 127, or Bob Eaton if Ken cannot make the weight. Pat Harris will compete at 120.

At 112 a[illegible] Joe Campbell and Bob Gutierrez, a close one Vic Carlino will carry the colors at 103 with brother Ralph at 95. Rules interpretation meeting for about 75 wrestling coaches of the area was held in the foyer of the Arlington gym Tuesday night. A wrestling assembly Wednesday in the gym helped acquaint Heights students with the sport and scoring.

BILL HOGATE and Carl Klehm were neck and neck for the heavyweight spot for the frosh-sophs with Dan Jordan named at 175. Ron Pratchen was expected to make the grade at 165, with Tony Hansen doing the same at 154.

Ernesto Rodriguez and Jack Palmer were still battling for the 133 position. with Doug Holmes and Floyd Nolte rating the nod at 127. Three boys still looked equally good at 120, Del Gregory, Steve Smith and Jim Clark. Richard Leckband and Clarence Trausch head the 112 group with Dave Wertheimer and Phil Deming competing at 103. At 95 Arden Gregory and Bill Ferry are about even.

At Sportsmen's Club

Dr. Preston Bradley will address the December 7 meeting of Northwest Towns sportsmen's club at Palatine. Starting at 8 p.m., the meeting will be held at the American Legion hall for members and guests.

Cards Looked Good Last Week, Hope For More

It'll be Bill, Wayne, Dennis, John and Denny on the Arlington Heights varsity basketball floor Friday night as the Cardinals open the West Suburban conference race, fresh from the sleighbells triumph at Palatine.

That quintet, Randag, Malzahn, Striegel, Sujack and Maher, played some of the best basketball seen for an Arlington team in over four years, according to one observer. From another, "seven good quarters of play so far this year, hope we can see more."

AT ANY RATE, the payoff begins this week, with the West Suburban league crown hanging in the balance. Sane observers see the first spot in the West Suburban loop going to veteran York. In second spot? Any other team.

Downers also rates strong consideration for the championship, but hasn't looked as strong as expected. Glenbard has good height, finished fourth last year. Defending champion LaGrange won its preliminaries, but coaches feel the Lions will be hard pressed to repeat previous triumphs.

Actually, LaGrange may know its fate after the first three games, two of them traveling affairs at York and Glenbard, then home to Arlington. If the Lions can win all three they'll be favored again, though it may be reputation, rather than ability, that may carry them over the rough spots.

OTHERWISE, the Cardinals, Hinsdale, Maine and Riverside should battle for the first division. Maine appears strong and will be a big obstacle for the locals Friday night. If Coach Howard Lester's boys can play the way they did at Palatine, then come through against Downers and LaGrange, well . . .

The local frosh-sophs, coached by Maurice Klotz, came through about as expected against Palatine in a very even game. Two Heights tall boys, Jacobsen and Palmer, were both charged with three fouls in the first half and handicapped the Heights sophs.

Bright point in the soph plans is Bruce Bjorklund, freshman, who teamed with sophomore Dan Vittum in swishing the nets for 34 points. Starters for Heights in the preliminary against Maine will be the four named above, plus Brownell.

Card Frosh Host To Elgin

Freshman basketeers will take the floor against Elgin Saturday morning at Arlington Heights high school with a JV game scheduled for the same hour. If Elgin brings over enough boys, a frosh double header may be played with the reserves meeting in th girls' gym.

Co-coaches "Bus" Ormsbee and Ken Schaller were having their problems selecting the starting five Tuesday of this week. Three positions appeared certain while the other two were still up for grabs.

BOB MORS appears to have one forward spot cinched, as does Dennis Thill at guard. Greg Rose will probably start at the other guard spot, or at center. Exact positions, rather than naming the boys, was the problem in these three positions.

Seven boys were still being considered for the other two starting positions, including Sam Caltagirone, Bill Fischer, Dean Hedberg, Jim Kaspar, Jim Solon, Ken Rapp and Jim Peery.

Jack Weber, back with the freshman after a trial with the frosh-sophs, also will be considered for a starting spot.

Wenzlaffs Defeat Porchclimbing Keglers

Wenzlaff's Restaurant bowling team, the Schnickelfritzes, defeated the Wheeling Porchclimbers in their annual Thanksgiving bowling event at the Wheeling Bowling lanes Thursday evening.

The victors jumped off to a 97 pin lead in the opening game, paced by Hans Schmidt Jr.'s 203 game. In the second game, paced by Vic DiPiero's 199 and Jack Mayer and young Schmidt's 192 each, the Schnickelfritzes increased their lead to 167 pins. In the final match they added 12 more to run their winning total to 179.

Jack Mayer's series of 567 was high for the evening, while Hans Schmidt Jr. was runner-up with 553. Hank Mayer was high for the losers with a 510 series.

Schnickelfritzes: Wenzlaff 441, Schmidt 553, Horcher 418, DePiero 496, Mayer 567; 855, 874, 781.

Porchclimbers: Balling 505, Schmidt 413, Cargil 497, Camm 406, Mayer 510; 758, 804, 769.

10 Game Card For Frosh At Bensenville

A ten game card for Bensenville high school freshman cagers has been released by athletic director Tom Meneguin with the opener this Saturday, Dec. 4, at Glenbrook. Game time is 10 o'clock in the morning.

Coach Bill Jonkheer wasn't able to identify his starters for the Glenbrook contest early this week. He had a squad of 34 hopefuls last week, but was expected to cut the group to a workable number this week.

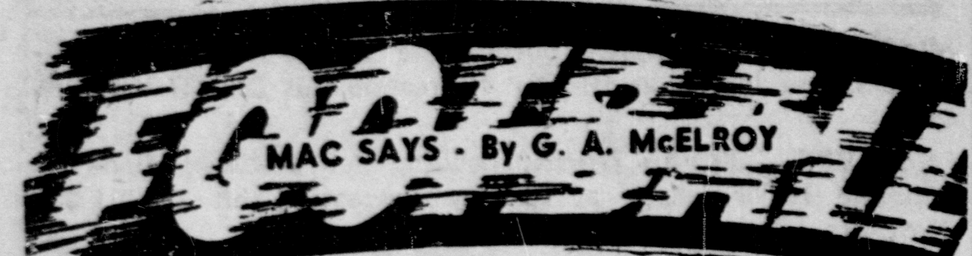
Arlington Host To Maine Friday Night In League Opener



MAC SAYS · By G. A. McELROY

THE NORTHWEST CONFERENCE cage season, which opens Friday night, should be a breeze for Antioch's Sequoits, coached by Dick Scott. Last year Antioch started slowly and had to settle for a tie with Grant's fine team. It was Antioch's second straight title and they shared the frosh-soph championship as well with Ela-Vernon and Grant.

This year the varsity squad is almost intact from 1953-54 with Ben Floyd, two time all-conference, and either Jack Palmer or Chuck Davis at forwards; Fred Clarke at center; and Warren Brownlee and all-conference Mike Haviland at guards. We will be surprised if this unit loses a conference game. On paper they should win all by a ten or more point margin.

The battle for runnerup honors, in our opinion, is among five teams.

Palatine and Wauconda, who wound up third and fourth last year have enough strength returning to wind up second and third this year.

It is a tossup as to which is the best. Friday's opener may determine that. Wauconda, led by Gene Jaskot, one of the best players in the league and an all-conference forward, has a fine record in non-conference games. The Bulldogs lost a close one to a standout Warren team and then whipped Huntley, Richmond, and Capron. Don Smith is a returning regular guard and Floyd Whitman, Dan Gorman, Edward O'Pisz, and Bob Hintze are reserves who are performing capably. Wauconda has height and a fine play maker.

PALATINE LOOKED GOOD against Dundee in the opener, lacked team play losing to Arlington Heights, and looked off color at West Aurora. In Alan Eck and John Goetz Palatine has good scoring, and if the Pirates make use of the height and rebounding ability of lanky Dave Nesset and Dave Schutz, they should have a real good club. Wauconda may nip the Pirates Friday but over the season Palatine should be a strong candidate for the second spot in the standings.

COACH NORMAN LADD lost as many good boys as anyone in the league but the Ela Bears have come up with pre-season victories over Lake Forest, Geneva, and North Chicago. They have a star in George Severance and a group of mighty fine ball players from last year's soph crop.

Ela is a year away but looks like a first division club, not on paper but on results to date. Ela should fight it out with Glenbrook and Grant for fourth place.

Glenbrook with four regulars returning, including all-conference Bob Boyd, figure to be heard from this year. They were coming at the end of the season but still had a good way to go. The walloping they were handed by Zion last week was none too encouraging.

Grant lost all but Bob Bein from a champ team but Ray Collier coached a mediocre group to the title heights last year and may surprise with a first division team again.

If the football injuries heal quickly enough Grant will have some tall boys available. As it is, Collier is using two sophs on his starting five and not doing badly.

GRAYSLAKE AND BENSENVILLE appear doomed to second division. Both have only one small guard returning from the varsity five and were weak with the frosh-sophs last season. Ken Sirotzki at Bensenville is one of the league's best performers and a real spark plug standing only five-feet-seven. Gerry Beck, a 5' 10" guard is the only regular at Grayslake, though Ken Moran, Ray Vanderspool, and Gale Peregrin are experienced lettermen.

The outlook is not very optimistic for Walter Nesheim, the Grayslake assistant principal, who takes over varsity basetball in place of Pat Rooney in a shift made shortly before the season started.

A poll of the conference coaches shows they pick Antioch first by a unanimous vote, with second up for grabs between Glenbrook and Palatine. They have missed Wauconda, it seems, and new coach George Haley, we are sure, does not mind. Our picks on the basis of material available are in the order named: Antioch, Palatine and Wauconda, Ela-Vernon, and Glenbrook, Grant, Bensenville, Grayslake.

Heights Wrestlers At Leyden Friday

Arlington Heights wrestlers will initiate another season of competition Friday night, Dec. 3, at Leyden when Coaches Dick Mudge and Maurice Kellogg lead their charges into action. First two meets for the Cardinals are traveling affairs, with the locals at York Thursday, Dec. 9.

Elimination bouts were being finished this week with most varsity positions definite as of Tuesday. Most frosh-soph spots were still up in the air, though Coach Kellogg has named the boys most likely to survive the trials.

BRUCE WILKERSON will lead the varsity at heavyweight, with Floyd Burns and Al Rose slated for 175 and 165, depending upon which weight Burns can make. A wrestler is permitted to be at any weight up to two pounds over his assigned figure.

Rose and John Heintz are listed at 154 for the same reason. Wally Mulso will probably be seen at 145, with Mickey Harris and Jack Ebert still vying for the 138 spot.

KEN BREDFELDT is listed at 133, with Ken Piepenbrink named at 127, or Bob Eaton if Ken cannot make the weight. Pat Harris will compete at 120.

At 112 are Joe Campbell and Bob Gutierrez, a close one Vic Carlino will carry the colors at 103 with brother Ralph at 95. Rules interpretation meeting for about 75 wrestling coaches of the area was held in the foyer of the Arlington gym Tuesday night. A wrestling assembly Wednesday in the gym helped acquaint Heights students with the sport and scoring.

BILL HOGATE and Carl Klehm were neck and neck for the heavyweight spot for the frosh-sophs with Dan Jordan named at 175. Ron Pratchen was expected to make the grade at 165, with Tony Hansen doing the same at 154.

Ernesto Rodriguez and Jack Palmer were still battling for the 133 position. with Doug Holmes and Floyd Nolte rating the nod at 127. Three boys still looked equally good at 120, Del Gregory, Steve Smith and Jim Clark. Richard Leckband and Clarence Trausch head the 112 group with Dave Wertheimer and Phil Deming competing at 103. At 95 Arden Gregory and Bill Ferry are about even.

At Sportsmen's Club

Dr. Preston Bradley will address the December 7 meeting of Northwest Towns sportsmen's club at Palatine. Starting at 8 p.m., the meeting will be held at the American Legion hall for members and guests.

Cards Looked Good Last Week, Hope For More

It'll be Bill, Wayne, Dennis, John and Denny on the Arlington Heights varsity basketball floor Friday night as the Cardinals open the West Suburban conference race, fresh from the sleighbells triumph at Palatine.

That quintet, Randag, Malzahn, Striegel, Sujack and Maher, played some of the best basketball seen for an Arlington team in over four years, according to one observer. From another, "seven good quarters of play so far this year, hope we can see more."

AT ANY RATE, the payoff begins this week, with the West Suburban league crown hanging in the balance. Sane observers see the first spot in the West Suburban loop going to veteran York. In second spot? Any other team.

Downers also rates strong consideration for the championship, but hasn't looked as strong as expected. Glenbard has good height, finished fourth last year. Defending champion LaGrange won its preliminaries, but coaches feel the Lions will be hard pressed to repeat previous triumphs.

Actually, LaGrange may know its fate after the first three games, two of them traveling affairs at York and Glenbard, then home to Arlington. If the Lions can win all three they'll be favored again, though it may be reputation, rather than ability, that may carry them over the rough spots.

OTHERWISE, the Cardinals, Hinsdale, Maine and Riverside should battle for the first division. Maine appears strong and will be a big obstacle for the locals Friday night. If Coach Howard Lester's boys can play the way they did at Palatine, then come through against Downers and LaGrange, well . . .

The local frosh-sophs, coached by Maurice Klotz, came through about as expected against Palatine in a very even game. Two Heights tall boys, Jacobsen and Palmer, were both charged with three fouls in the first half and handicapped the Heights sophs.

Bright point in the soph plans is Bruce Bjorklund, freshman, who teamed with sophomore Dan Vittum in swishing the nets for 34 points. Starters for Heights in the preliminary against Maine will be the four named above, plus Brownell.

Card Frosh Host To Elgin

Freshman basketeers will take the floor against Elgin Saturday morning at Arlington Heights high school with a JV game scheduled for the same hour. If Elgin brings over enough boys, a frosh double header may be played with the reserves meeting in th girls' gym.

Co-coaches "Bus" Ormsbee and Ken Schaller were having their problems selecting the starting five Tuesday of this week. Three positions appeared certain while the other two were still up for grabs.

BOB MORS appears to have one forward spot cinched, as does Dennis Thill at guard. Greg Rose will probably start at the other guard spot, or at center. Exact positions, rather than naming the boys, was the problem in these three positions.

Seven boys were still being considered for the other two starting positions, including Sam Caltagirone, Bill Fischer, Dean Hedberg, Jim Kaspar, Jim Solon, Ken Rapp and Jim Peery.

Jack Weber, back with the freshman after a trial with the frosh-sophs, also will be considered for a starting spot.

Wenzlaffs Defeat Porchclimbing Keglers

Wenzlaff's Restaurant bowling team, the Schnickelfritzes, defeated the Wheeling Porchclimbers in their annual Thanksgiving bowling event at the Wheeling Bowling lanes Thursday evening.

The victors jumped off to a 97 pin lead in the opening game, paced by Hans Schmidt Jr.'s 203 game. In the second game, paced by Vic DiPiero's 199 and Jack Mayer and young Schmidt's 192 each, the Schnickelfritzes increased their lead to 167 pins. In the final match they added 12 more to run their winning total to 179.

Jack Mayer's series of 567 was high for the evening, while Hans Schmidt Jr. was runner-up with 553. Hank Mayer was high for the losers with a 510 series.

Schnickelfritzes: Wenzlaff 441, Schmidt 553, Horcher 418, DePiero 496, Mayer 567; 855, 874, 781.

Porchclimbers: Balling 505, Schmidt 413, Cargil 497, Camm 406, Mayer 510; 758, 804, 769.

10 Game Card For Frosh At Bensenville

A ten game card for Bensenville high school freshman cagers has been released by athletic director Tom Meneguin with the opener this Saturday, Dec. 4, at Glenbrook. Game time is 10 o'clock in the morning.

Coach Bill Jonkheer wasn't able to identify his starters for the Glenbrook contest early this week. He had a squad of 34 hopefuls last week, but was expected to cut the group to a workable number this week.

LaGrange And Hinsdale Both Lack Experience

(This is the third of series of three articles concerning West Suburban league basketball prospects.)

The biggest news in West Suburban circles in about three years is that LaGrange is not favored to win the basketball championship.

That was evident way last spring when the cagers finished their season of round ball and the "first eleven" at the Lyons township school played their final game.

Those same eleven boys are still gone with LaGrange rated about even with five other schools in the league this time. There are some promising seniors, including 6'5" Bob Arnold and 6'4" Frank Caiazza, plus 6'2" Paul Taylor and 6' John Wallac at forwards. Then there's 5'9" Yates Kier. But it appears there isn't the ability to go with the height as in the past couple of seasons.

LAGRANGE WON pre-season contests with New Trier and Argo, but neither opponent was rated highly. Last year's sophomores certain to see plenty of action with the varsity include Lee Meyer, Fred Leidtke, Bill Freisinger, Richard Merz, Chuck Bauer with the last two starters last year.

Extra games for LaGrange, in addition to conference play, include Thornton at LaGrange, Dec. 11, Moline at LaGrange Dec. 29 and Oak Park, there, Jan. 15.

HINSDALE LISTS just one letterman, Dennis Krause, on a squad of seven seniors and nine juniors. Not much height is in evidence, though Orrin Dressler stands 6'3", Krause 6'2", and Charles Dahmit and Walter Davidson 6'1". Other seniors include Dick Bresnahan at 6', Bob Olson at 5'11" and Armand Heck at 5'7".

Dick Brandt is a 6'3" junior certain to see action, with Bob Blust, Jim Jeffries and Ray Maines standing 6'1". Other juniors include Gerald Rupp and Rich Winkler at 5'11", Dave Hohl and Art Sandeen at 5'10", and Gene Holderness at 5'7".

Wrestling Meet

Eight Illinois colleges and universities have entered teams in an invitiational wrestling meet to be held at University of Illinois Dec. 11.

Squads from Illinois, Northwestern, Illinois Tech, Illinois State Normal, Western Teachers, Northern Teachers, Eastern Teachers, and Wheaton College will compete in the special one-day meet.

West Aurora Drubs Both Palatine Fives

Palatine dropped a double bill at Aurora last Friday night when West High walloped the Pirate varsity 58-37 and had just as easy a time beating the frosh-sophs 55-41. The Big Eight school took commanding leads in the first period of both games to give the fans little to worry about but little excitement for their admission. The Pirate varsity trailed 16-2 the first quarter, 22-9 at the half and 42-20 going into the final segment. The frosh-sophs trailed 12-4 at the quarter, 31-12 at the half and 45-21 at the three quarter mark. In both games Palatine got about half of their points in the final period against West High reserve players.

WEST AURORA shot 25 field goals in 51 shots for just under 50% in the varsity game and 21 out of 44 in the soph contest for nearly as good a percentage. Again Palatine's shooting was a very acceptable 33% but the Pirates got so few shots in each game there was no chance to get many points.

In both games Palatine subs looked best as scorers with Jeff Lehmann getting 11 points in the varsity game and Terry Moore nine in the frosh-soph tilt. Eck and Goetz got only 12 points between them as Aurora's defense stopped them bringing the ball up the court. Palatine in general looked like they had too much Thanksgiving.

55 Bowlers Report For Heights Intramurals

Fifty-five boys reported for the organizational meeting of intramural bowling last week at Arlington Heights high school, according to Bob Hutton, intramural coach. Hutton expects the boys to start competition next week, but isn't sure, at this date, just how many teams, when to bowl, etc.

First call for basketball was given this week with freshmen and sophomores not on the "regular squads" signing in Tuesday, and juniors and seniors reporting Wednesday.

Mac Says-

Next year, when admission will be charged for wrestling meets, the tickets at Arlington will probably be advanced another dollar. Red tape of collecting federal tax has prevented Arlington from charging admission to wrestling in the past, but that tax has been removed.

THE NORTH SUBURBAN cage season is expected to be just as topsy turvy as that in football with no standout teams. However, on the basis of early games it would appear Crystal Lake and Warren might be considered the most likely league leaders with Zion-Benton, Libertyville, and Barrington having good ball teams.

None are so weak that they might not upset any other quintet at any time.

In opening games last week Crystal Lake beat Zion, 69-45, Warren whipped Libertyville, 59-45, and Barrington outpointed McHenry, 65-54. It was Barrington's 29th North Suburban league victory in a row.

NEXT YEAR'S Glenbard cross country team will have nine lettermen . . . Here are the West Suburban league cage picks of the Glenbard high school paper, for benefit of Arlington fans . . . Cards first, Downers second, LaGrange third, Glenbard fourth . . . Don Pauley, Maine grad in '48, has won five golf trophies while serving in service in Germany . . . C'est la guerre . . . Maine has nine lettermen back for wrestling . . . Hinsdale has six . . . Hinsdale's frosh gridders ended the season, 5-3.

Barrington's cagers lack height, but a strong bench is certain to help, according to Bronc coach Bob Madding.

Among frosh football numeral winners at Illinois were Bruce Gallup of Maine, Bob McKown of LaGrange, and Herb Ward of Prairie View . . . Largest daily double of the past summer's Arlington Park season was for $2,236.60 June 30, starring Coronation Boy and Local Clover . . . Wheeling junior high school has initiated wrestling as part of its physical education.

THREE BOYS of this area drew attention with the freshman football team at Wisconsin, including end Dick Popp and guard Rollin Lindberg of Barrington, and Tom Peters of Glenbard . . . Peters is rated as one of eight frosh likely to make varsity letters next year, according to frosh coach George Lamphear, and "has the the best pair of hands I've ever seen on a frosh end. He's a real good pass receiver and if he can improve his defensive play could be a dandy" . . . Tallest basketball manager in these parts is 6' 9" Dave James of Libertyville.

Now devoting all of his time to athletic director and physical education classes at Glenbard is James Cook.

Cook coached the cage sport at the Glen Ellyn school 12 years, winning titles in '44, '46 and '47 . . . He also coached football from 1943-1950 . . . New fieldhouse at York has been delayed so it is not expected to be ready for use in the indoor track season . . . Named co-captains for the past football season at Downers Grove were Tom Johnson and Jack Stallard . . . Six lettermen will be back next year . . . Downers harriers selected Tom Ludwig captain.

ILLINOIS SET A RECORD for attendance this year while losing all their Big Ten games. This is a carry over from last year's championship. Fans now have to buy their college football tickets in the summer before they know how strong the teams will be.

Fans figured Illinois to be a Big Ten power because of All-American J. C. Caroline and other sensational backs. Caroline won't get a mention this year.

A paltry 44 yards was his contribution against weak Northwestern, which proves again it is the line which makes the team in big time football.

Antioch Should Win NW Title In A Walk

(This is the third of series of three articles concerning Northwest conference basketball prospects.)

Antioch is as near a sure thing in the coming Northwest cage race as was Barrington in the 1951-52 season and Palatine in 1940-41. In those years the winner never had a game that could be considered close at any stage of the contest and Antioch looks like another of the same variety.

Coach Dick Scott has the material and the coaching ability. It is just up to the boys how far they really want to go.

Antioch has seven of the best eight from last year and rival coaches are already conceding the Sequoits their third straight championship and concentrating on the battle for runner up honors.

HEADING THE LIST is Ben Floyd, two time all-conference player. In 1953 he made it as a soph at guard and last year as a junior at forward. Floyd always scores high against top notch teams. Mike Haviland led the team in scoring last year and was third in the conference earning all-league honors. He will pair at guard with a fine six-foot-one player in Warren Brownlee who is a fine scorer.

Fred Clarke who was a good feeder and rebounder, six-foot-three, but inconsistent scorer will be back at center.

Jack Palmer at six-one, and Chuck Davis, six-two, are competing for the other forward spot. Dave Cain is a fine replacement at guard where he lettered last year. Scott has the champ soph team moving up and riding the bench to give his squad the best reserves in the league in Frank Walsh, Jim Fish, Phil Wagner, Al Rechers, and Jerry Meyer.

AT THE OTHER end of the scale we find Grayslake who finished well down the standings with both varsity and frosh-sophs having only one returning regular player. Walt Nesheim, assistant principal, was given the varsity coaching job only a few weeks ago in place of Pat Rooney and has little to be optimistic about. Only Gerry Beck returns from last year's team to play guard.

Nesheim has three of last year's lettermen who saw considerable action but contributed little scoring to the team total.

These boys are Ken Moran, a five eleven guard, Ray Vanderspool a six two center, and Gale Peregrin a junior forward at five eleven.

OTHERS EXPECTED to make a strong bid for varsity berths are Dick Oehler, 5'10" guard; Frank Balisteri, 5'10" forward; Bill Moore, 6'11" center who transferred from Harvard private school; Curt Johnson, 6'4" center; Gene Shanor, 5'8" guard; and Dick Stone, 5'9" guard.

Grayslake opens the league season Friday, taking on the tough one in Antioch's Sequoits. If Coach Nesheim, who did so well a few years ago as frosh-soph coach, can bring Grayslake up to sixth place in the final standings he will be a miracle man.

Bisons Sophs Win Close One

by MAX ZOLLNER

Bensenville's frosh-sophs won a close 52-48 victory, over St. Procopius of Lisle on the victor's court last week. Sharp shooting Lars Henriksen and Bob Strobel proved fatal to the Red Wings.

The young Bisons led, 16-9, at the quarter but halftime found their lead cut to four points, 25-21.

BOTH TEAMS played hard in the third period with the B'ville cagers able to expand their lead by one point, 38-33.

The buzzer sounded at 51-48 when Bob Strobel sank a foul shot after the end of regulation time to make the final 52-48, Bensenville.

High men for Bensenville were Lars Henriksen and Bob Strobel as they picked up 33 points. Finn paced the Red Wings with 17 points.

LaGrange And Hinsdale Both Lack Experience

(This is the third of series of three articles concerning West Suburban league basketball prospects.)

The biggest news in West Suburban circles in about three years is that LaGrange is not favored to win the basketball championship.

That was evident way last spring when the cagers finished their season of round ball and the "first eleven" at the Lyons township school played their final game.

Those same eleven boys are still gone with LaGrange rated about even with five other schools in the league this time. There are some promising seniors, including 6'5" Bob Arnold and 6'4" Frank Caiazza, plus 6'2" Paul Taylor and 6' John Wallac at forwards. Then there's 5'9" Yates Kier. But it appears there isn't the ability to go with the height as in the past couple of seasons.

LAGRANGE WON pre-season contests with New Trier and Argo, but neither opponent was rated highly. Last year's sophomores certain to see plenty of action with the varsity include Lee Meyer, Fred Leidtke, Bill Freisinger, Richard Merz, Chuck Bauer with the last two starters last year.

Extra games for LaGrange, in addition to conference play, include Thornton at LaGrange, Dec. 11, Moline at LaGrange Dec. 29 and Oak Park, there, Jan. 15.

HINSDALE LISTS just one letterman, Dennis Krause, on a squad of seven seniors and nine juniors. Not much height is in evidence, though Orrin Dressler stands 6'3", Krause 6'2", and Charles Dahmit and Walter Davidson 6'1". Other seniors include Dick Bresnahan at 6', Bob Olson at 5'11" and Armand Heck at 5'7".

Dick Brandt is a 6'3" junior certain to see action, with Bob Blust, Jim Jeffries and Ray Maines standing 6'1". Other juniors include Gerald Rupp and Rich Winkler at 5'11", Dave Hohl and Art Sandeen at 5'10", and Gene Holderness at 5'7".

Wrestling Meet

Eight Illinois colleges and universities have entered teams in an invitiational wrestling meet to be held at University of Illinois Dec. 11.

Squads from Illinois, Northwestern, Illinois Tech, Illinois State Normal, Western Teachers, Northern Teachers, Eastern Teachers, and Wheaton College will compete in the special one-day meet.

West Aurora Drubs Both Palatine Fives

Palatine dropped a double bill at Aurora last Friday night when West High walloped the Pirate varsity 58-37 and had just as easy a time beating the frosh-sophs 55-41. The Big Eight school took commanding leads in the first period of both games to give the fans little to worry about but little excitement for their admission. The Pirate varsity trailed 16-2 the first quarter, 22-9 at the half and 42-20 going into the final segment. The frosh-sophs trailed 12-4 at the quarter, 31-12 at the half and 45-21 at the three quarter mark. In both games Palatine got about half of their points in the final period against West High reserve players.

WEST AURORA shot 25 field goals in 51 shots for just under 50% in the varsity game and 21 out of 44 in the soph contest for nearly as good a percentage. Again Palatine's shooting was a very acceptable 33% but the Pirates got so few shots in each game there was no chance to get many points.

In both games Palatine subs looked best as scorers with Jeff Lehmann getting 11 points in the varsity game and Terry Moore nine in the frosh-soph tilt. Eck and Goetz got only 12 points between them as Aurora's defense stopped them bringing the ball up the court. Palatine in general looked like they had too much Thanksgiving.

55 Bowlers Report For Heights Intramurals

Fifty-five boys reported for the organizational meeting of intramural bowling last week at Arlington Heights high school, according to Bob Hutton, intramural coach. Hutton expects the boys to start competition next week, but isn't sure, at this date, just how many teams, when to bowl, etc.

First call for basketball was given this week with freshmen and sophomores not on the "regular squads" signing in Tuesday, and juniors and seniors reporting Wednesday.

Mac Says-

Next year, when admission will be charged for wrestling meets, the tickets at Arlington will probably be advanced another dollar. Red tape of collecting federal tax has prevented Arlington from charging admission to wrestling in the past, but that tax has been removed.

THE NORTH SUBURBAN cage season is expected to be just as topsy turvy as that in football with no standout teams. However, on the basis of early games it would appear Crystal Lake and Warren might be considered the most likely league leaders with Zion-Benton, Libertyville, and Barrington having good ball teams.

None are so weak that they might not upset any other quintet at any time.

In opening games last week Crystal Lake beat Zion, 69-45, Warren whipped Libertyville, 59-45, and Barrington outpointed McHenry, 65-54. It was Barrington's 29th North Suburban league victory in a row.

NEXT YEAR'S Glenbard cross country team will have nine lettermen . . . Here are the West Suburban league cage picks of the Glenbard high school paper, for benefit of Arlington fans . . . Cards first, Downers second, LaGrange third, Glenbard fourth . . . Don Pauley, Maine grad in '48, has won five golf trophies while serving in service in Germany . . . C'est la guerre . . . Maine has nine lettermen back for wrestling . . . Hinsdale has six . . . Hinsdale's frosh gridders ended the season, 5-3.

Barrington's cagers lack height, but a strong bench is certain to help, according to Bronc coach Bob Madding.

Among frosh football numeral winners at Illinois were Bruce Gallup of Maine, Bob McKown of LaGrange, and Herb Ward of Prairie View . . . Largest daily double of the past summer's Arlington Park season was for $2,236.60 June 30, starring Coronation Boy and Local Clover . . . Wheeling junior high school has initiated wrestling as part of its physical education.

THREE BOYS of this area drew attention with the freshman football team at Wisconsin, including end Dick Popp and guard Rollin Lindberg of Barrington, and Tom Peters of Glenbard . . . Peters is rated as one of eight frosh likely to make varsity letters next year, according to frosh coach George Lamphear, and "has the the best pair of hands I've ever seen on a frosh end. He's a real good pass receiver and if he can improve his defensive play could be a dandy" . . . Tallest basketball manager in these parts is 6' 9" Dave James of Libertyville.

Now devoting all of his time to athletic director and physical education classes at Glenbard is James Cook.

Cook coached the cage sport at the Glen Ellyn school 12 years, winning titles in '44, '46 and '47 . . . He also coached football from 1943-1950 . . . New fieldhouse at York has been delayed so it is not expected to be ready for use in the indoor track season . . . Named co-captains for the past football season at Downers Grove were Tom Johnson and Jack Stallard . . . Six lettermen will be back next year . . . Downers harriers selected Tom Ludwig captain.

ILLINOIS SET A RECORD for attendance this year while losing all their Big Ten games. This is a carry over from last year's championship. Fans now have to buy their college football tickets in the summer before they know how strong the teams will be.

Fans figured Illinois to be a Big Ten power because of All-American J. C. Caroline and other sensational backs. Caroline won't get a mention this year.

A paltry 44 yards was his contribution against weak Northwestern, which proves again it is the line which makes the team in big time football.

Antioch Should Win NW Title In A Walk

(This is the third of series of three articles concerning Northwest conference basketball prospects.)

Antioch is as near a sure thing in the coming Northwest cage race as was Barrington in the 1951-52 season and Palatine in 1940-41. In those years the winner never had a game that could be considered close at any stage of the contest and Antioch looks like another of the same variety.

Coach Dick Scott has the material and the coaching ability. It is just up to the boys how far they really want to go.

Antioch has seven of the best eight from last year and rival coaches are already conceding the Sequoits their third straight championship and concentrating on the battle for runner up honors.

HEADING THE LIST is Ben Floyd, two time all-conference player. In 1953 he made it as a soph at guard and last year as a junior at forward. Floyd always scores high against top notch teams. Mike Haviland led the team in scoring last year and was third in the conference earning all-league honors. He will pair at guard with a fine six-foot-one player in Warren Brownlee who is a fine scorer.

Fred Clarke who was a good feeder and rebounder, six-foot-three, but inconsistent scorer will be back at center.

Jack Palmer at six-one, and Chuck Davis, six-two, are competing for the other forward spot. Dave Cain is a fine replacement at guard where he lettered last year. Scott has the champ soph team moving up and riding the bench to give his squad the best reserves in the league in Frank Walsh, Jim Fish, Phil Wagner, Al Rechers, and Jerry Meyer.

AT THE OTHER end of the scale we find Grayslake who finished well down the standings with both varsity and frosh-sophs having only one returning regular player. Walt Nesheim, assistant principal, was given the varsity coaching job only a few weeks ago in place of Pat Rooney and has little to be optimistic about. Only Gerry Beck returns from last year's team to play guard.

Nesheim has three of last year's lettermen who saw considerable action but contributed little scoring to the team total.

These boys are Ken Moran, a five eleven guard, Ray Vanderspool a six two center, and Gale Peregrin a junior forward at five eleven.

OTHERS EXPECTED to make a strong bid for varsity berths are Dick Oehler, 5'10" guard; Frank Balisteri, 5'10" forward; Bill Moore, 6'11" center who transferred from Harvard private school; Curt Johnson, 6'4" center; Gene Shanor, 5'8" guard; and Dick Stone, 5'9" guard.

Grayslake opens the league season Friday, taking on the tough one in Antioch's Sequoits. If Coach Nesheim, who did so well a few years ago as frosh-soph coach, can bring Grayslake up to sixth place in the final standings he will be a miracle man.

Bisons Sophs Win Close One

by MAX ZOLLNER

Bensenville's frosh-sophs won a close 52-48 victory, over St. Procopius of Lisle on the victor's court last week. Sharp shooting Lars Henriksen and Bob Strobel proved fatal to the Red Wings.

The young Bisons led, 16-9, at the quarter but halftime found their lead cut to four points, 25-21.

BOTH TEAMS played hard in the third period with the B'ville cagers able to expand their lead by one point, 38-33.

The buzzer sounded at 51-48 when Bob Strobel sank a foul shot after the end of regulation time to make the final 52-48, Bensenville.

Arlington Dumps Palatine To Recapture Sleighbells

Arlington Heights brought a record crowd to Palatine the night before Thanksgiving to see the Cardinals battle Palatine's Pirates for the "Sleigh Bells" trophy and went home thankful they still hold the Indian sign over their neighbors. Arlington took the sleigh bells back home with a convincing 61-51 victory.

Palatine had a gate of $752, exceeding the previous high of last year's Dundee gym dedication by $289.

This total did not include Palatine students, all of whom have activity tickets.

ARLINGTON FANS feared for two quarters that the Pirates might beat their favorites, for Palatine got off to a 12-4 lead and were on top, 14-11, at the quarter and 25-23 at the half. In the third period Arlington started to hit and outrebound the Pirates on offense going into a 10 point lead at one time but winding up on top, 45-41, at the three quarter mark.

In the final period Goetz and Eck hit long shots to put Palatine ahead 46-45 with 3½ minutes to play but Sujack got three baskets in a row and Maher and Striegel came through to give Arlington a decisive margin.

From a 53-51 score with a minute and a half to go Arlington rolled in eight points to convince their supporters that the fadeout against Woodstock was not going to happen again.

THE STORY of the game hinges on the fact that Arlington Heights got 74 shots at the basket to Palatine's 41. The Cards, in the second half, got closer shots and captured the rebounds when they missed for extra attempts.

Palatine, on the other hand, shot from longer range and seldom got a second chance if they missed.

The Pirates had the unusual distinction of losing a game in which the yshot 48.8 per cent from the field. The trouble was that they got too few shots and let their oppenents get too many. Arlington's 27 out of 74 gave them 36.4 per cent, usually good enough to win most games.

DENNIS MAHER and John SuJack were the dead eye shots for Arlington with 18 and 15 points as each hit seven from the field. Dennis Striegel, Wayne Malzahn, and Bill Randag did some nice rebounding, and in the second half were responsible for Arlington getting so many shots.

Alan Eck with 23 points topped Palatine, hitting 11 of 15 shots from the field. John Goetz scored 12.

It was the 15th time the Arlington Cards have whipped Palatine in 20 "Sleigh Bell" games. palatine won last year 61-59 after Arlington had triumphed nine times in a row.

ARLINGTON WON the frosh-soph preliminary, 53-40, with Dan Vittum getting nine field goals for 18 points. Bruce Bjorklund also scored 14. Arlington, as expected, pulled away in the frosh-soph game, but it was nothing like last year's rout.

Palatine gained encouragement through the fact that three freshmen looked good on the Pirate starting five and scored 19 of the 40 points.

Sophomore, Roy Hahnfeldt was Palatine's best point getter with 15. Palatine cashed in on free throws as Hahnfeldt scored seven out of eight and Jim Eldridge eight out of 13. Arlington led all the way, taking a 16-9 edge in the first quarter, holding this margin through the second and third periods, and extending the advantage in the final period.

N. U. Cagers Swamped By Sophs, But To Have Seniors At Forwards

Northwestern University's sophomore dominated basketball team against Western Michigan at McGaw Memorial hall Saturday, Dec. 4. The game will be the first of nine practice engagements before the start of the Big Ten season Jan. 3.

Fourteen sophomores are listed on the 21-man squad which will advance up the Big Ten ladder. Last year, the Wildcats finished in 5th place with a 6-8 record, three notches ahead of the previous year, for the best Northwestern mark in five years.

Despite the big sophomore contingent, Coach Waldo Fisher, starting his third season at the Wildcat helm, will fashion the team around a trio of seniors, Frank Ehmann, Chicago (St. George), and Hal Grant, Argo, forwards, and Capt. Walt Stoeppelwerth, Emporia, Kans., guard.

A pair of towering sophomores, Bill Schulz, 6-11, of Hebron, and Phil Bromberg, 6-7, of Chicago, who prepped at Morris, are battling for the center position left open by the graduation of Frank Petrancek. Schulz, who led Hebron to the state prop championship in 1952, has a slight edge over his rivals who also include Howie Weyburg of Rockford, a letterman.

Other guard candidates include sophomore Walter Kirk, Elmhurst.

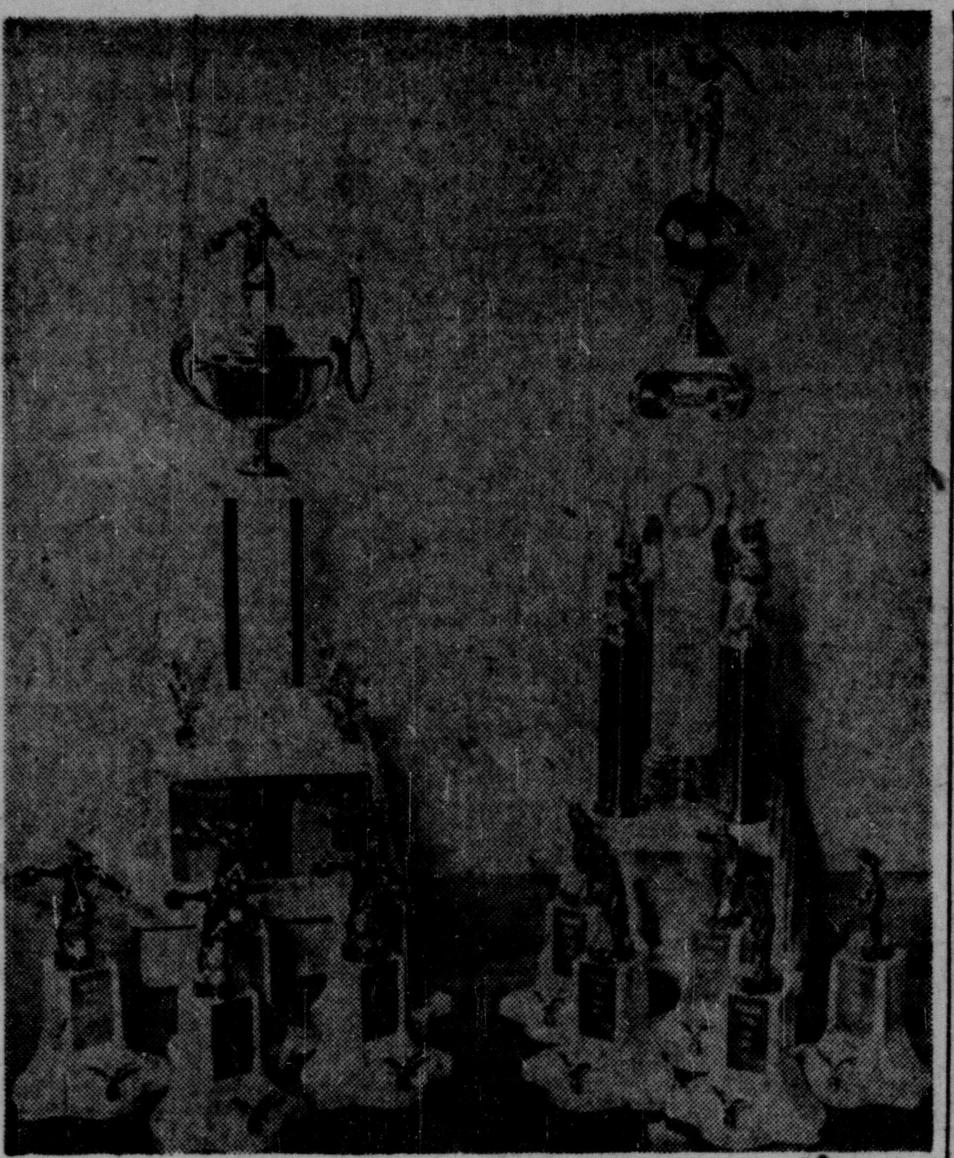
Wauconda Wins Turkey Tournament

Wauconda won the Richmond four team Thanksgiving tournament for the second year in a row by beating Capron, 67-52, in the final Saturday night. The Bulldogs had beaten Richmond 50-42 in the final first round while Capron was disposing of Grant 52-46. Richmond took third by drubbing Grant 60-39.

'Gene" Jaskot, all-conference forward last year as a sophomore, led Wauconda both as scorer with 23 points and as play maker. Teammate Dan Gorman also scored 19. Wauconda trailed 25-24 at the half but pulled away 46-41 in the third period. Wauconda with three victories in their first four starts will be host to Palatine in the Northwest Conference opener Friday night.

K. C. The Smallest

Kansas City is the smallest city in the major leagues, in population. According to the 1950 census, says The Sporting News, it had a population of 456,000, with a metropolitan area population of 814,000. But that shouldn't be discouraging. Milwaukee has done wonders in attendance with a city population of 637,000 and metropolitan area total of 871,000.



Twelve trophies, pictured above, will be up for grabs January 9 and 16 in Paddock Publications fourth annual Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament. Eligible will be first place teams of all men's leagues within the Paddock area as of December 18, and first place teams of all women's leagues as of December 25. The men will bowl at Palatine January 9, the women at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes January 16.

Bensenville Bisons, host to the St. Procopius Red Wings November 23, played a close, last quarter thriller. Although B'ville lost 43-40, hopes were raised during the last minute of play by Joe Masotti, frisky right guard.

Bisons took a slight sudden lead, but by the end of the first period St. Procopius tied the score, 12-12. The Red Wings continued to increase their lead through the second period and found themselves leading, 26-18, at the end of the first half.

FLARING BACK, the B'ville five gained 11 points to Proco's four in the third quarter. With the Red Wings leading 30-29 at the start of the last period, both teams fought hard to pull out in front.

The clock flashed one minute left in the game. The score—41-36, St. Procopius.

As Proco brought the sphere down the court Bison Joe Masotti seized the ball from a Red Wing and raced down the floor to score a field goal.

Proco again advanced down the court and again Masotti stole the ball and sent it through the Bison hoop.

WITH ONLY seconds left, Walker, Red Wing guard, who fouled and made two free throws.

High scorer for B'ville was Sirotzki with 22 points, making 10 baskets and two of five free throws Schweder, right guard, racked up 18 points with four baskets and ten of 17 free throws for St. Procopius.

Trotters At Stadium In Double Bill Friday

A number of pro basketball's greatest performers will be on view at the Chicago Stadium Friday night, Dec. 3, when the magical Harlem Globetrotters headline a four-team double-header card that will include this city's first national basketball association tilt of the season.

The league game, opening the program at 8 o'clock, will match the Milwaukee Hawks against the Philadelphia Warriors, the same two teams that staged a double overtime thriller won by the Hawks at the Stadium two seasons ago. In the second game, the Trotters will be playing their fifty-second game of the young season in facing the Philadelphia Sphas, the team that stopped their winning streaks of 105 and 101 games during the past five seasons.

Top drawing card for the fans, however, is sure to be the clever Reece ("Goose") Tatum, the Trotters' super player and comedian. Goose will be surrounded by one of the finest casts in the team's history with such men as seven-foot Walter Dukes of Seton Hall University All-American fame, All-American Bill Garrett of Indiana U., and a third All-American and newcomer to the team in Andy Johnson from the University of Portland.

Arlington Dumps Palatine To Recapture Sleighbells

Arlington Heights brought a record crowd to Palatine the night before Thanksgiving to see the Cardinals battle Palatine's Pirates for the "Sleigh Bells" trophy and went home thankful they still hold the Indian sign over their neighbors. Arlington took the sleigh bells back home with a convincing 61-51 victory.

Palatine had a gate of $752, exceeding the previous high of last year's Dundee gym dedication by $289.

This total did not include Palatine students, all of whom have activity tickets.

ARLINGTON FANS feared for two quarters that the Pirates might beat their favorites, for Palatine got off to a 12-4 lead and were on top, 14-11, at the quarter and 25-23 at the half. In the third period Arlington started to hit and outrebound the Pirates on offense going into a 10 point lead at one time but winding up on top, 45-41, at the three quarter mark.

In the final period Goetz and Eck hit long shots to put Palatine ahead 46-45 with 3½ minutes to play but Sujack got three baskets in a row and Maher and Striegel came through to give Arlington a decisive margin.

From a 53-51 score with a minute and a half to go Arlington rolled in eight points to convince their supporters that the fadeout against Woodstock was not going to happen again.

THE STORY of the game hinges on the fact that Arlington Heights got 74 shots at the basket to Palatine's 41. The Cards, in the second half, got closer shots and captured the rebounds when they missed for extra attempts.

Palatine, on the other hand, shot from longer range and seldom got a second chance if they missed.

The Pirates had the unusual distinction of losing a game in which the yshot 48.8 per cent from the field. The trouble was that they got too few shots and let their oppenents get too many. Arlington's 27 out of 74 gave them 36.4 per cent, usually good enough to win most games.

DENNIS MAHER and John Su-Jack were the dead eye shots for Arlington with 18 and 15 points as each hit seven from the field. Dennis Striegel, Wayne Malzahn, and Bill Randag did some nice rebounding, and in the second half were responsible for Arlington getting so many shots.

Alan Eck with 23 points topped Palatine, hitting 11 of 15 shots from the field. John Goetz scored 12.

It was the 15th time the Arlington Cards have whipped Palatine in 20 "Sleigh Bell" games. palatine won last year 61-59 after Arlington had triumphed nine times in a row.

ARLINGTON WON the frosh-soph preliminary, 53-40, with Dan Vittum getting nine field goals for 18 points. Bruce Bjorklund also scored 14. Arlington, as expected, pulled away in the frosh-soph game, but it was nothing like last year's rout.

Palatine gained encouragement through the fact that three freshmen looked good on the Pirate starting five and scored 19 of the 40 points.

Sophomore, Roy Hahnfeldt was Palatine's best point getter with 15. Palatine cashed in on free throws as Hahnfeldt scored seven out of eight and Jim Eldridge eight out of 13. Arlington led all the way, taking a 16-9 edge in the first quarter, holding this margin through the second and third periods, and extending the advantage in the final period.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

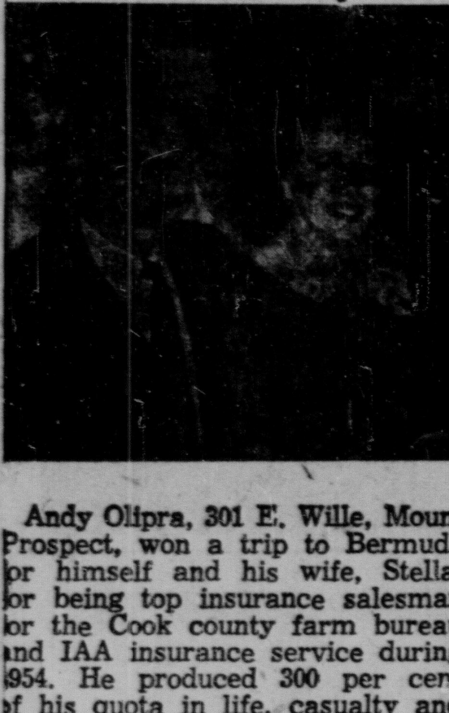
Maywood Banker Named Red Cross Chairman In Fund Drive

Louis E. Nelson, president of the First National Bank of Maywood, has been named chairman of the county communities division of the 1955 Chicago Chapter Red Cross fund campaign, Robert S. Ingersoll, general chairman reports to Forrest Davis, 827 N. Chestnut st., Red Cross public information representative for Arlington Heights.

Nelson will head up the March campaign in 129 county communities in the Chicago chapter area which includes all of Cook and DuPage counties and the south half of Lake county, said Davis.

He will work directly with local Red Cross fund chairmen in each of the communities and with volunteer workers who will carry the Red Cross appeal to the 1,500,000 residents in all suburban and outlying communities surrounding Chicago.

Wins Bermuda Trip



Andy Olipra, 301 E. Wille, Mount Prospect, won a trip to Bermuda for himself and his wife, Stella, for being top insurance salesman for the Cook county farm bureau and IAA insurance service during 1954. He produced 300 per cent of his quota in life, casualty and fire insurance sales.

They will leave Friday by plane for New York, and sail from there on the Bermuda Queen. They will be gone for 6 days. Upon returning to New York, Olipra will attend the American farm bureau federation meeting as a member of the all-American insurance team from Illinois.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

"Sleeping Dogs"

"Let sleeping dogs lie" is as good advice today as it was when the adage was first created.

When a sleeping dog is suddenly awakened, his first instinct is defense, and his primary means of defense are his teeth. Any person foolhardy enough to awaken a strange dog by poking a finger at him, or in some other manner, can blame no one for the consequences.

Many cases of dog bites have been caused by teasing or molesting of a dog by a small child who has never been taught the difference between toys and living beings. Parents who permit their children to pull a dog's fur, ears or tail, poke him in the eyes or mouth, clamber over him, and the like, without stopping or correcting him, are simply inviting trouble.

There is less chance of trouble with a mature dog than a puppy, and with a large dog than one of the smaller breeds. Why the latter seems to be true is anyone's guess; however, it is thought that perhaps the large dog seems to have a feeling within itself that because of size it can take care of itself a little better than the smaller dog if trouble suddenly appears on the scene.

Christmas Puppy

With thoughts of Thanksgiving over and all minds more or less thinking ahead toward Christmas it would be a good idea to plan now about that puppy that has been promised for the family.

Such things as where the pup will sleep, who is going to feed the dog — mother usually ends up doing it, and who is going to take care of the puppy when the time comes to take him for a walk should be worked out now and not on Christmas Day.

Also the breed of dog should be decided upon taking into consideration the area in which the dog will be kept and under what conditions. All of these things are items which more or less are quite important if you plan to buy a pup and above all as has been mentioned every year by your editor, do not wait until Christmas Day to introduce the animal to its new home. With so much excitement going on the poor pup sometimes has a rough time of it and is often left to his own devices which usually end up in trouble. By having him in the house prior to Christmas Day, his schedule and just who is to be responsible for him will be more or less established and the result will be a happier day for all.

Songs

Speaking about Christmas, youngsters and pups brings to mind that the song writers, I guess, could not let the year go by without writing a sequel to that "Doggie in the Window" routine.

Now they have one making the rounds with the title "I Want a Puppy in My Stocking for Christmas." Sorry Dad,—looks as if you just can't win these days.

A trip to the veterinary recently got me to thinking about the fact that they have found that dogs, like humans, have blood groups—at least 6 and also that there has been established in some areas regular blood banks for dogs.

Texas Has The Bestest And The Mostest In Football! Don't Shoot, Pardnuhs

Proud Midwesterners argue that the Big Ten plays the finest brand of football. Pennsylvania states the case for graduates of its schoolboy program located from Maine to Missoula.

Football had its roots in the East, and conquests on the striped green are as rich to the Southern memory as the Battles of Manassas.

But the best football in the country, pardner, is played in the State of Texas, according to records submitted to The Sporting News.

AT ANY HOUR of the day or night somebody is kicking a ball or passing it or running with it in the 801-mile vastness extending from Brownsville to Amarillo.

Boys in the biggest state grow up dreaming not of being president, but All-Texas.

Before other sections cry that Texas is better at kicking the bull than the ball, it's necessary to present the evidence.

The Lone Star state sponsors the biggest and most varied high school and college program of its kind in the nation. There isn't another state even close. Organized football is offered at 890 high schools — the figure doesn't include private and parochial institutions — and they supply the talent for the state's 52 junior and senior colleges while also lending a hand to such neighboring institutions as Oklahoma, Tulane and LSU.

WHILE BIG TEN is represented by seven states and draws its talent from throughout the Midwest, six-sevenths of the Southwest conference is made up of Texas members, and they stay right at home to do their recruiting.

There's the highest percentage of home-grown talent in the country competing in the SWC.

Texas, always a favorite for the conference championship, depends entirely on native sons this year. All 55 Longhorns stayed in the state for their training. Rice offered only one out-of-state player on its 58-man squad, Texas Christian went for three "foreigners" out of 56, Baylor had four imports out of 61 and six non-Texans were members of the 62-man SMU squad.

ONLY THE TEXAS Aggies, rebuilding under Paul Bryant, show signs of breaking away from the stay-at-home trend.

On the varsity squad of 47, the Aggies had nine out-of-staters. Unable to meet with a great deal of success proselyting in his first season in the Southwest, principally because of a late start, Bryant went heavily for products of other regions and the freshman squad was represented by 17 players from ten states.

Even Arkansas, the only member of the Southwest conference from out of Texas, has begun to appreciate the value of its neighbor's product.

Four Texas champions are crowned, and the 4,656 varsity games played in the 1953 season were witnessed by more than 7,000,000 fans. Rhea Williams, director of the Texas interscholastic league, estimates that 40,000 boys play high school, junior high and B team football.

Glenbrook Loses

Bob Middleton scored 24 points, half on free throws, as he led Zion-Benton to a 70 to 59 nonconference prep basketball victory over Glenbrook Friday in Zion.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

By Eddie Meier

Duck Leg Pie

Some hunters get around the tedious task of picking their ducks by merely taking the breasts of the birds, contending the small amounts of meat on the legs and back are not worth the battle! Well, if you're skinning your ducks to get the breasts, you might as well go just a bit farther and salvage the legs. Put them in a container in the freezer and when you have sufficient, make a duck leg pie!

Place legs in a large stew pan, cover with water, add 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, 2 stalks celery and 2 small onions. Cook until the meat falls from the bone.

Put 4 cups of the meat in a casserole along with 1 cup canned tomatoes (drained), ½ cup diced carrots, ½ cup diced celery and 2 tablespoons chopped onion. Thicken 3 cups of the liquid in which the duck legs were cooked with 4 tablespoons flour, season with ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 5 or 6 drops tobasco sauce and 1 tablespoon horseradish. Pour over meat and vegetables and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Add 1 cup diced potatoes (which have been simmered 5 minutes in slightly salted water) and one 4-oz. can mushrooms and continue baking 30 minutes. Cover with baking powder biscuits and bake until done.

Seek Answer To Dwindling Pheasant Supply By Providing Cover For Birds

by BOB YOUNG

Observant pheasant hunters in Illinois have been appalled during the recent pheasant season at the very evident lack of cover in our pheasant range. They question the possibility of survival of an adequate breeding stock and are very perturbed about the almost nonexistant safe nesting area for next spring. This in spite of one of the best pheasant hunting seasons on record.

With good weather farmers have harvested practicaly all the corn and soy beans and in addition have completed a great deal more fall plowing than usual. A blizzardy winter could play hob with the pheasant population surviving the hunters' guns. As there is only a very minor area furnishing any sort of cover at all, pheasants are likely to concentrate in these small areas to become victims of every predator and bad storm of the winter.

THE OUTLOOK for good nesting ground next spring is certainly dismal. The vast acreages of corn and soy beans to be planted are no good at all for nesting. Wheat and oats are very poor producers and there is very little hay land in the pheasant range. What little there is will likely be cut just at the height of the nesting season, destroying not only the next but the hen pheasant also.

As long as it pays the farmers more to produce corn and beans than to produce wildlife then human nature will dictate what he plants.

Unless the sportsman can develop some means of making it worthwhile for the farmer to raise pheasants either by developing adequate cover to grow them in the wild or raise them artificially as he now raises chickens, then pheasant hunting in Illinois is going to continue to be a very limited proposition.

WE KNOW NOW what it takes to produce a pheasant crop, the question is, how are we going to pay the cost?

With poor prices for chickens and eggs it might be possible to interest many farmers in switching to pheasant production. It may be the farmer could develop another cash crop on his farm that would pay more than chickens, certainly more than chickens have paid this year.

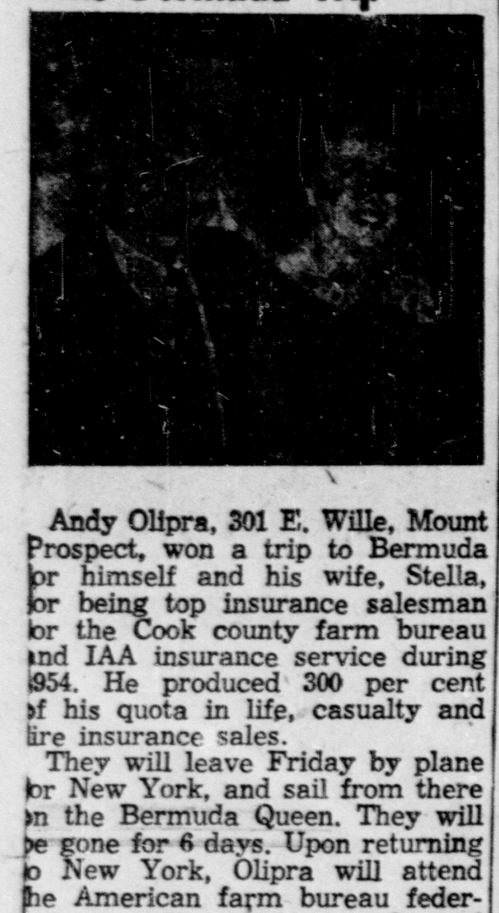
Maywood Banker Named Red Cross Chairman In Fund Drive

Louis E. Nelson, president of the First National Bank of Maywood, has been named chairman of the county communities division of the 1955 Chicago Chapter Red Cross fund campaign, Robert S. Ingersoll, general chairman reports to Forrest Davis, 827 N. Chestnut st., Red Cross public information representative for Arlington Heights.

Nelson will head up the March campaign in 129 county communities in the Chicago chapter area which includes all of Cook and DuPage counties and the south half of Lake county, said Davis.

He will work directly with local Red Cross fund chairmen in each of the communities and with volunteer workers who will carry the Red Cross appeal to the 1,500,000 residents in all suburban and outlying communities surrounding Chicago.

Wins Bermuda Trip



Andy Olipra, 301 E. Wille, Mount Prospect, won a trip to Bermuda for himself and his wife, Stella, for being top insurance salesman for the Cook county farm bureau and IAA insurance service during 1954. He produced 300 per cent of his quota in life, casualty and fire insurance sales.

They will leave Friday by plane for New York, and sail from there on the Bermuda Queen. They will be gone for 6 days. Upon returning to New York, Olipra will attend the American farm bureau federation meeting as a member of the all-American insurance team from Illinois.

Unable to meet with a great deal of success proselyting in his first season in the Southwest, principally because of a late start, Bryant went heavily for products of other regions and the freshman squad was represented by 17 players from ten states.

Even Arkansas, the only member of the Southwest conference from out of Texas, has begun to appreciate the value of its neighbor's product.

Four Texas champions are crowned, and the 4,656 varsity games played in the 1953 season were witnessed by more than 7,000,000 fans. Rhea Williams, director of the Texas interscholastic league, estimates that 40,000 boys play high school, junior high and B team football.

Duck Leg Pie

Some hunters get around the tedious task of picking their ducks by merely taking the breasts of the birds, contending the small amounts of meat on the legs and back are not worth the battle! Well, if you're skinning your ducks to get the breasts, you might as well go just a bit farther and salvage the legs. Put them in a container in the freezer and when you have sufficient, make a duck leg pie!

Place legs in a large stew pan, cover with water, add 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, 2 stalks celery and 2 small onions. Cook until the meat falls from the bone.

Put 4 cups of the meat in a casserole along with 1 cup canned tomatoes (drained), ½ cup diced carrots, ½ cup diced celery and 2 tablespoons chopped onion. Thicken 3 cups of the liquid in which the duck legs were cooked with 4 tablespoons flour, season with ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 5 or 6 drops tobasco sauce and 1 tablespoon horseradish. Pour over meat and vegetables and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Add 1 cup diced potatoes (which have been simmered 5 minutes in slightly salted water) and one 4-oz. can mushrooms and continue baking 30 minutes. Cover with baking powder biscuits and bake until done.

Seek Answer To Dwindling Pheasant Supply By Providing Cover For Birds

by BOB YOUNG

Observant pheasant hunters in Illinois have been appalled during the recent pheasant season at the very evident lack of cover in our pheasant range. They question the possibility of survival of an adequate breeding stock and are very perturbed about the almost nonexistant safe nesting area for next spring. This in spite of one of the best pheasant hunting seasons on record.

With good weather farmers have harvested practicaly all the corn and soy beans and in addition have completed a great deal more fall plowing than usual. A blizzardy winter could play hob with the pheasant population surviving the hunters' guns. As there is only a very minor area furnishing any sort of cover at all, pheasants are likely to concentrate in these small areas to become victims of every predator and bad storm of the winter.

THE OUTLOOK for good nesting ground next spring is certainly dismal. The vast acreages of corn and soy beans to be planted are no good at all for nesting. Wheat and oats are very poor producers and there is very little hay land in the pheasant range. What little there is will likely be cut just at the height of the nesting season, destroying not only the next but the hen pheasant also.

As long as it pays the farmers more to produce corn and beans than to produce wildlife then human nature will dictate what he plants.

Unless the sportsman can develop some means of making it worthwhile for the farmer to raise pheasants either by developing adequate cover to grow them in the wild or raise them artificially as he now raises chickens, then pheasant hunting in Illinois is going to continue to be a very limited proposition.

WE KNOW NOW what it takes to produce a pheasant crop, the question is, how are we going to pay the cost?

With poor prices for chickens and eggs it might be possible to interest many farmers in switching to pheasant production. It may be the farmer could develop another cash crop on his farm that would pay more than chickens, certainly more than chickens have paid this year.

At DeKalb

Cwens, national honorary society for sophomore women, will be installed on the campus of Northern Illinois state teachers college on Sunday, December 5.

Northern will be designated the Omicron chapter of Cwens, and the DeKalb school becomes the first in the state of Illinois to gain admission into that national organization. Cwens replaces a local honorary, Nu Alpha Lambda, at Northern.

Requirements for membership are: an overall scholastic average of "B" during the first semester of the freshman year and outstanding qualifications in leadership and service. No less than five per cent and no more than 10 per cent of each freshman class will be pledged.

Officers of the Omicron chapter are: Therese Murphy of Rockford, president; Priscilla Schneider of Itasca, vice-president; Barbara Podeszwa of Rockford, secretary; Janice Burton of Wheaton, treasurer; Elizabeth Rugg of Blue Island, ritual chairman; and Leona Swanson of Woodstock, editor.

Initiated into the group Sunday will be Lenore Fitzsimmons, 35 Kerwood St., Palatine; Janis Olson, 2401 Eastman St., Arlington Heights; Priscilla Schneider, 503 North St., Itasca; and Jane Torreyson, RFD 1, Box 251, Mount Prospect.

At Michigan State

Fall term commencement exercises for 490 Michigan State college students will be held Monday, Dec. 6 at 8 p.m. in the M. S. C. auditorium.

The class will include 340 undergraduates and 150 candidates for advanced degrees, according to Robert S. Linton, college registrar.

Candidate for bachelor of science degree at the end of the fall term is Donald Paul Russell, son of John H. Russell, 430 N. Maple, Itasca.

At Bradley

Victor E. Grimm has pledged Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at Bradley university. A freshman, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grimm of 113 S. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

At Bradley

James Thomson has pledged Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at Bradley university. A sophomore, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomson of 1017 N. Vail st., Arlington Heights.

At Washington U.

Approximately 11,000 students have been enrolled in day and evening divisions of Washington university for the current semester, university officials announced recently at St. Louis.

Among those students registered in the day division are Miss Jean Kaye Beatty, 701 South Dunton, Arlington Heights, a sophomore in the college of liberal arts; and Richard Harold Morrow Jr., 622 Mayfair road, Arlington Heights, a freshman in the school of medicine. Miss Beatty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Beatty. Morrow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harold Morrow.

Joanne Shelkop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Shelkop, R. R. 3 Box 172, Palatine, recently appeared in an Oratorio presentation by the Hancock county-Carthage college Oratorio chorus and orchestra. "St. Paul" by Mendelssohn, was given by the 150-member chorus and orchestra.

Announce Date For Annapolis Examination

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church, (R), 13th District announces that her competitive examination for all candidates for appointment to fill two vacancies for the 13th district scheduled to occur at the United States naval academy in 1955 will be held under the auspices of the United States civil service commission Monday, January 17. The examination will be held at Chicago, Des Plaines, Evanston, and Waukegan. The place where the examination will be held will be furnished to applicants at a later date.

All candidates must be actual residents of the 13th district, of sound physical health and good moral character, and must be not less than 17 nor more than 22 years of age July 1, 1955. The 13th congressional district is composed of the townships of Barrington, Elk Grove, Evanston, Hanover Leyden, Maine, New Trier, Niles, Northfield, Palatine, Schaumburg, Wheeling, and that part of Norwood Park township west of the center line of Canfield road, in Cook county, and all of Lake county.

The applicant should designate where it would be most convenient for him to take the examination. If temporarily absent from the 13th District, he may be examined elsewhere, at points where the Civil Service Commission maintains an officer or examiner, or in the armed forces under his commanding officer.

Letters of application must be postmarked before midnight, December 8, addressed to Representative Marguerite Stitt Church, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Handy Incinerator

FOR burning household rubbish, an incinerator built of concrete blocks on a concrete foundation is excellent. The base is 4 by 5 feet, and the concrete should be reinforced with chicken wire, according to Family Handyman.

Use standard size building blocks, setting the first course on a thin layer of mortar and leaving two 8"x8" spaces at the front to provide ample draft for complete incineration.

The cover is turkey wire, 1"x2" mesh, with welded joints so the wires won't separate due to the heat. Eye-bolts may be inserted in the joints between two of the top building blocks, if you want to hinge the mesh cover by looping down two pieces of the wire into the metal eyes.

New Buildings At DeKalb College

Construction of four proposed new buildings for the campus of the Northern Illinois state teachers college received approval by the state teachers college board meeting in Chicago.

In approving the proposed budgets for the coming biennium for the state colleges at DeKalb, Charleston, Macomb, and Normal, the board sanctioned a building program to cost approximately $10,000,000 to provide seriously needed additional classroom, laboratory and dormitory facilities on the four college campuses.

Marine Reserves Open Drive For Xmas Toys

No child in the Chicago area will go without a Christmas toy this year if members of the marine corps reserve have their way about it.

With the cooperation of National Tea Co. and Colgate Palmolive Co., the Marines hope to accomplish this through their annual "Toys for Tots" campaign.

Between now and December 18, shoppers may donate a "Story Book Doll" to the Marines campaign with the tops from two giant size boxes of Fab Detergent or four regular size box tops. The tops are to be deposited in receiving stations in each of the 292 National Food Stores in the Chicago area.

Provision is also made at these National stores for the collection of dolls or toys of any kind that generous Chicagoans want to donate to needy children.

Do not speak of the "reoccurrence" of winter. Say, "The recurrence of winter."

Do not say, "The money we earn is not scarcely enough for expenses." Omit "not."

Do not say, "Because of the train being derailed, his arrival was delayed." Say, "Because of the train's being derailed."

The "Scots" is much preferred to the "Scotch," when speaking of the people of Scotland.

Do not say, "I read the letter he wrote with much interest." Your meaning will be much clearer if you say, "I read with much interest the letter he wrote."

Words Often Mispronounced

Cerebral. Preferred pronunciation is with accent on first syllable.

Contrite. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Mousse (frozen dessert). Pronounce as "moose."

Initiative. Pronounce in-ish-i-a-tiv, all i's as in it, a as in ate, principal accent on second syllable, and place a secondary accent on the fourth syllable.

Occultism. Pronounce o-kul-tiz'm, o as in on, u as in cult, accent on second syllable.

Chimera. Pronounce ki-mer-a, i as in kite, e as in me, a unstressed, accent second syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Bric-a-brac; no k's following the c's. Holy (sacred); holey (having a hole or holes); wholly (completely). Assessor; four s's, and or. Gasoline, ine preferred; kerosene, ene. Penitentiary; observe the two i's and the a. Heir (one who inherits); though pronounced as air.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Cryptic; hidden; occult; mysterious. "His speech contained a number of cryptic phrases."

Transcendent; surpassing others in excellence. "The countryside presented a view of transcendent beauty."

Incredulous; refusing belief; skeptical. "He listened with an incredulous mind."

Apprehend; to arrest. "The embezzler was soon apprehended by the police."

Advocate (verb); to plead in favor of; to support or recommend publicly. "He advocated the suggestions made by the president."

With Uncle Sam

In Germany

Cpl. Robert R. Wires, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wires, W. Bartlett road, Bartlett, will leave Germany soon for rotation to the U.S.

Now serving as a clerk in service battery of the 1st infantry division's 7th field artillery battalion, Corporal Wires arrived overseas in July 1953. Before entering the army in January, 1953, he was employed by Set Screw & Mfg. Co.

In Austria

Army private Donald P. Mesko, brother of Mary Heidorn, 415 W. Sigwalt st., Arlington Heights, recently arrived for duty with U.S. forces in Salzburg, Austria.

Troops serving with USFA are part of a four-power security force on duty in Austria since the end of World War II. They also operate the Leghorn, Italy, port of embarkation which handles all personnel and supplies coming to USFA.

Private Mesko, who entered the army last May, was previously stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

In Japan

Cpl. James E. Lorden, 21, whose sister, Mars. Mary Thomson, lives at 169 S. Bothwell, Palatine, recently spent a seven-day rest and recreation leave from his unit in Korea at Kobe, one of Japan's largest metropolitan areas.

Sight-seeing and entertainment facilities in Japan provided him with a welcome break in the task of maintaining security on the peninsula.

Lorden, assigned to the 1st field artillery observation battalion, entered the army in February, 1953, and arrived overseas in November of that year.

In Missouri

Pvt. Fredric Pfingsten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pfingsten, Schaumburg, is home on furlough from Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, where he has completed his eight weeks of basic. He reported to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., December 3.

In Japan

Pfc. James N. Intravartola, Arlington Heights, is now stationed in Japan. His new address is: Pfc. James N. Intravartola, U.S. 55421749, "B" Btry., 955 F.A. Bn., APO 547, San Francisco, Calif.

Marine Reserves Open Drive For Xmas Toys

No child in the Chicago area will go without a Christmas toy this year if members of the marine corps reserve have their way about it.

With the cooperation of National Tea Co. and Colgate Palmolive Co., the Marines hope to accomplish this through their annual "Toys for Tots" campaign.

Between now and December 18, shoppers may donate a "Story Book Doll" to the Marines campaign with the tops from two giant size boxes of Fab Detergent or four regular size box tops. The tops are to be deposited in receiving stations in each of the 292 National Food Stores in the Chicago area.

Provision is also made at these National stores for the collection of dolls or toys of any kind that generous Chicagoans want to donate to needy children.

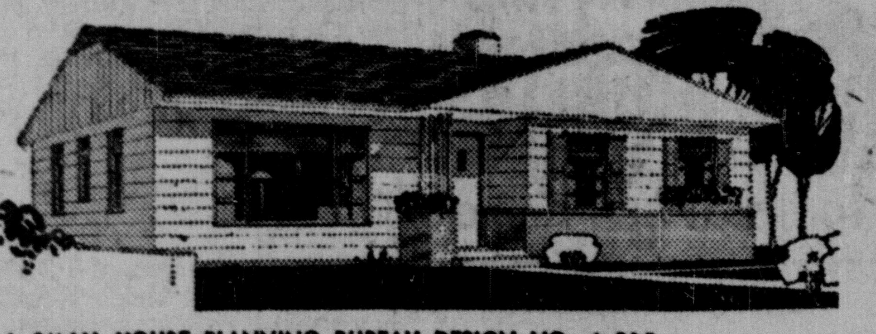
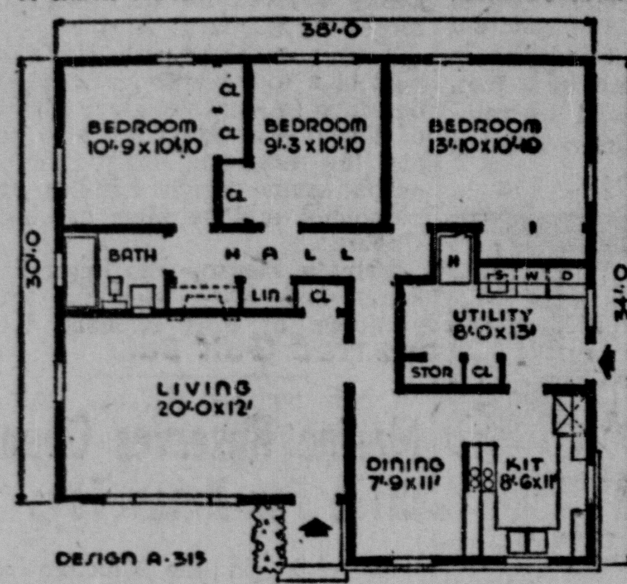
New Ideas In Homes



A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. A-315



Design A-315. This house has practically every feature required in a small house, from its attractive exterior appearance to its numerous closets. The combination kitchen-dinette is at the front, while the good size bedrooms are located on the quiet side of the house.

Plans call for an insulated floor slab on gravel fill, frame construction with siding and a touch of face brick.

The dotted lines indicate the possible location of a fireplace in the space shown as a hall storage closet. The floor area is 1,210 square feet and the cubage is 14,464 cubic feet. For further information about Design A-315, write to the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Here Are Ways To Whip Mildew, Moth Problems In Closets

If you're plagued with the problem of mildew or moths in a closet, try these tips on for size. They may well be the answer to your difficulties.

Simple ventilation may correct the mildew condition. If it does not, place hygroscopic salts in the closet. That will dry the air eliminating the cause of mildew.

An alternative, if the condition is not severe, is to keep a light burning in the closet constantly. This is especially recommended if you own stock in the local power company.

To discourage visitation by moths, line the closet with aromatic red cedar, available at lumber dealers. Moths loathe the fragrance of cedar and avoid it as much as possible. They have good reason for their prejudice, too, for the cedar aroma is a noted killer of their newly hatched larvae.

Agricultural Engineers On Farm TV Show

Engineers will show how better buildings and methods can mean better farming on the "Farmtown, U.S.A." television program Sunday, Dec. 5.

Three agricultural engineers and a power company official will use models of buildings and farms to demonstrate new ideas. They will be attending the winter meeting of the American society of agricultural engineers Dec. 5-8 in Chicago.

'Farmtown, U.S.A." is an educational feature presented in cooperation with the Illinois agricultural association and the Pure Milk association. It may be seen each Sunday at 2 p.m. over station WBBM-TV, channel 2.

George B. Nutt, head of the agricultural engineering department at Clemson agricultural college, and two engineers from Michigan State college, Don Brown and B. F. Cargill, will show new ideas in loose housing for dairy cattle. They'll also discuss feed and water handling on the farm.

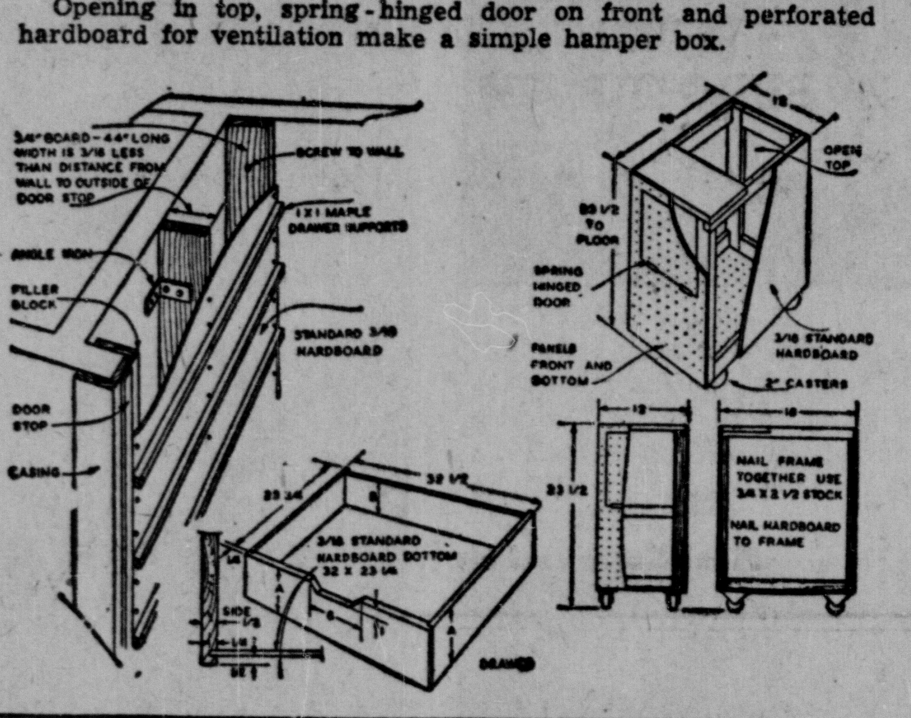
Here's How to Build a Linen Closet Compactly Designed to Save Space

There will be no digging through high piles of materials to find what you want in this linen closet, which features wide, flat drawers. Roll-out hamper and an open space for vacuum sweeper or luggage complete the facilities. Here are directions from Home Modernizing on how to build it:

Frame sidewalls of the closet. Line sides with hardboard. Attach drawer slides with screws through both these boards.

Simple drawer construction is snag-proof because of hard-board bottom.

Opening in top, spring-hinged door on front and perforated hardboard for ventilation make a simple hamper box.



In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

When you are dealing with the emotions of people, you have to be careful of surface impressions. There are some persons who endeavor to conceal their feelings by an over-show of modesty; there are others who try to hide their feelings by an over-show of interest.

Some people try to look better than they are, and some try to look worse. This, perhaps, is nowhere more true than when you deal with people in their religious aspirations. Dig beneath the hard-shell of a cynic and you may find a mystic. Look beneath the gilded halo of a seeming saint and you may find a hard core of disbelief.

TWO STORIES help to indicate the truth of this. On the TV program, "The Marriage," last summer, Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy went to a PTA meeting. As they went into their son's classroom, they saw a bold statement on the blackboard, in their son's handwriting, "Amy Hauser stinks." Looking about the room, there was another statement on a second blackboard, "Amy Hauser stinks on ice." But on the underside of the boy's desk, there were these words, "I love Amy Hauser."

The other came out of a revival meeting in one of the ecstatic groups. The young men of the town wished to have some fun. One of their number was dressed in a devil's costume; he walked into the church. One by one the people faded and left; even the minister ceased his preaching and disappeared. There was left only one woman in a wheelchair at the front. She spoke familiarly, "I'm always here in the front row; I'm the first to give my testimony; I'm the first to lead in prayers—but I've always been on your side!"

SOME FUNCTIONS of our culture have worked against the Christian participation of men, for example. If one is to be a man among men and still be serious in his religious concerns, he often has to show a bluff exterior to his contemporaries. Women and invalids, on the other hand, have often been denied participation in what may be assumed to be the real affairs of the community. Their personal fulfillments have had to be sought in spiritual concerns, often regarded as not quite pertinent to life as it is lived.

Those who are concerned about the relevance of religious faith to life as we live it have to recognize this fact. Many churches are now in, or have just completed, the program of encouraging pledges for 1955. The various callers of many churches have met these two aspects of emotional concealment. Many of the churches in our growing area conduct visitation programs to encourage new residents to participate in Christian fellowship and worship. They meet this effort to look better, or worse, than one really is.

THIS IS PART of what Jesus referred to so often in His disputes with the religious leaders of His day over His relationships with sinners and publicans (tax-collectors). "They who (think they) are well, do not need a physician. I came not to call (the ones who think they are) righteous, but sinners to repentance."

Of course, this is not the whole story, some apparent saints are the chosen ones of God; some apparently hardened sinners are just as hard as they look. But the servant of the Lord must endeavor to distinguish the yearning hearts—and if an error must be made, let it always be on the side of charity.

Small Tree Plans For City Streets Seen Safety Aids

The bigger they are the harder they fall is particularly true of street and highway trees in the path of hurricanes or other severe wind storms.

So says W. C. Lauck, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who would like to see smaller trees as the keystones in community tree planting programs. Many street and highway trees are poorly anchored in their locations. That's because their roots are confined to limited areas and further curtailed by sewers, drains, gas lines, telephone cables, curbs and other essential roadway improvements.

The many public trees uprooted during Hurricane Carol and Edna point up the need for reevaluation of city and town tree needs, according to the expert. Careful consideration must be given to smaller species now being recommended to meet modern urban conditions.

Arboreal giants still have their place, and always will, where space permits. However, modern streets and highways place more and more limitations on living space for trees. The trend to ranch-type homes gives aesthetic impetus, as well, to smaller tree species.

New communities are favoring such shade and decorative species as flowering crabapple, certain types of hawthorns, globe locust, trident maples, evodia trees and many others. These new trends will require years for their fulfillment.

In the meantime, municipal authorities should insist upon frequent checks of all street and highway trees to meet safety requirements.

Subject:
Clay

Is there anything more basically elemental to work with than clay? Down through the ages Man has made dishes, weapons and ornaments from it; has used it as a protection against heat and cold . . . The Bible student will tell you that God created man, himself, "out of the dust" . . . Perhaps in our present state of civilization where every man becomes a specialist — and everything is produced en masse—it is a relief and a natural reaction —to want to get back to "earthiness"; to at least make the gesture of reaching back to the self-sufficiency of our fathers and grandfathers who could (and did) practice many different trades.

The nine to fourteen-year-old Art-Craft students have been working with a self-hardening clay, newly presented on the market—and are fascianted by it. Actually, the "hardening" process can be speeded up by firing in a kitchen oven at 150 degrees F., and this degree of heat will also fire the glazes and decorations . . . In my own work, I find that this clay has fine texture and modeling qualities—and is very easy to work, no cracking, warping or distortion and the original sculpture becomes truly an original because it does not need to go through the transferal stage of being cast into plaster, stone or bronze . . . When thoroughly dry it is water and weather proof and can readily take the place of stone for permanence.

Of course, if more than one model is needed, then the usual reproduction steps are taken—making a mold and making casts from that . . .The kind of mold that is made should be determined by what final casting material is to be used. For instance, if you want to use casting plaster (almost all figurines are cast from this or some variation) then you cannot use a plaster-of-paris mold —and latex is the solution for small molds — anything up to 6" or 8" high. For larger reproductions, I find that an "exterior" mold of plaster in conjunction with latex can be used satisfactorily to strengthen and support . . . Even on some of the smaller molds it is wise to reinforce if you expect to use repeatedly.

On the day that we had our Autograph party for Bettye Kummerle (the song writer) I got the "urge" to try my hand at a likeness and within the next twelve hours, had completed a satisfactory small bust . . . I do not mean that she "sat" for twelve hours (actually she did not know that I was "doing" her—and did not pose at all in the usual sense) but I managed to catch certain facial characteristics in a few hours time which I later kept in mind as I finished the piece . . . I mounted the original clay on a bookend-base and liked the effect well enough to set about making a mold; even one pair of bookends requires two reproductions! After painting the original with the first coating of latex and letting it dry, I added the second coat and it was at this point I added small pieces of bias-tape, trying out the "trick" of reinforc- of latex were added and then (crossing my fingers) I stripped off the mold . . . I was a little worried by a deep undercut created by the hat—and sure enough, the latex would not quite stretch over it . . . The mold seemed tough, strong and rubbery so I slit it at the crucial point and then it slipped off like a glove . . . Taping the slit with adhesive, I then poured casting plaster and in twenty minutes I had not one "Bettye"—but two—and theoretically, in several hours, there should have been a dozen! However, it doesn't quite work out this fast because the base was cast separately (using a wax-coated candy box) and then the two pieces were joined together securely. Later, of course, came the decorating and finishing the bottoms of bases with felt.

Sound like fun? If it does, I suggest that you start by doing first things, last! Get the feel of color and glazes by decorating unpainted figurines. The intermediate step of mold-making is technical and anyone can do it . . . Sculping your own model out of clay is the truly creative part of the venture—and possibly not as hard as you think. If you can draw in two dimensions, you can learn to model in three! . . .Clay —"the good earth"—can become a hobby, a pastime or a career!

Scented Golf Ball

A new pine-scented golf ball is to be put on the market. The advantage of a perfumed odor to the man who has just missed a two-foot putt seems to be remote. More practical would be the development of a radio-active paint for the golf ball with a low-priced Geiger counter that could be carried into the rough and the woods.

Here is "Chic Chex" for the winter playground in Florida this year, or on local beaches next summer, fashioned by Rose Marie Reid, with the crisp look of cotton, yet with impeccable fit of lastex.

Typically abreast of fashion there's the new higher, rounded bra line, banded with decoratively stitched cuffs that are repeated slant-wise at hips for simulated pockets.

Members who attended the first worship service of the new United Lutheran church in Arlington Heights. The service was held November 21 in the auditorium at Dryden school, where services will be held each Sunday at 10:45 a. m. Lovely sideboard console is a charming addition to any woman's dining or living room. It is shown here in what might be termed an off-duty setting. Smartly accented with metal handles and ferrules, its distinctive lines add beauty and utility to the contemporary home. For additional dining service, the center section pulls out and extends to a serving capacity of seven persons. Fully extended dining surface measures 40" x 76", height 29". An additional center leg gives it the sturdy support required to hold complete dining service. It is available in either combination, cherry or mahogany. This particular finish is described as "dry sherry."

Safe, below the 17th parallel but hungry, homeless and frightened, this Vietnam refugee mother holds fast to her child. Because the food situation in free Vietnam has reached a crisis, CARE is appealing to residents to extend friendship and aid to the brave people of Vietnam who have given up everything in their flight to freedom.

$5 sent to CARE will enable that agency to distribute a 23 pound food package which will feed 5 refugees for at least 3 days. Every CARE package distributed in Vietnam will be clearly identified as a gift from the American people and will carry the message of freedom and friendship. Contributions in any amount are urgently needed and should be sent to: CARE for Vietnam refugees, Chicago.

Here is "Chic Chex" for the winter playground in Florida this year, or on local beaches next summer, fashioned by Rose Marie Reid, with the crisp look of cotton, yet with impeccable fit of lastex.

Typically abreast of fashion there's the new higher, rounded bra line, banded with decoratively stitched cuffs that are repeated slant-wise at hips for simulated pockets.

Mary Lou Fenlon Weds James J. Charleston

At the appointed hour of 11 o'clock Saturday, November 6, Miss Mary Lou Fenlon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Fenlon, became the bride of James J. Charleston, son of Mrs. J. Charleston of Franklin Park.

The Rev. H. O'Hara officiated at the service, held in Our lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore an antique taffeta gown with lace applique and a fingertip veil that fell from a juliette cap of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Five sisters of the bride and a sister of the groom served as attendants to the bride. Mrs. P'ta Fenlon Schmidt was matron of honor wearing a purple velvet gown, face veil and matching slippers. She carried a bouquet of orchids. The Misses Margaret Mary, Dorothy Ann, Kay and Jacqueline Fenlon and Miss Mildred Charleston were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's gown.

William Charleston, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were Lawrence Fenlon Jr., William Fenlon, Donald Schmidt, Frank Cassidy and Charles Joyce.

Mrs. Fenlon, escorted down the aisle by her son, Richard Fenlon, wore a Dior blue gown with matching accessories and a corsage of Amazon lilies. The groom's mother was gowned in royal blue, complemented with dark pink camellias.

A reception for 400 guests was held in the American Legion home, Palatine, immediately following the ceremony.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Charleston honeymooned in the Ozarks and are now residing in their new home in Virginia Terrace.

Words & Music

by ERICA FLOYD

"BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE"

I wasn't quite convinced that Gillian Holroyd (Jerre Hasse) was endowed with the power of witchcraft in the performance of "Bell, Book and Candle" given by Palatine Players last Friday and Saturday evenings. One felt more as if he were looking in on an intimate love scene instead of being bewitched by the mystic powers of a "Class A" witch.

Nevertheless, Miss Hasse made a good witch in most of the scenes and had the love scenes been a little less "torrid" she could have been credited with an excellent performance.

"Auntie" Holroyd (Virginia Warner) gave a professional touch to the entire play. She convinced the audience she had "strange powers" and they loved her every minute she was on the stage.

Shepherd Henderson (Rodger Taggart) was put under the spell cast by beautiful Gillian in short order and it was easy to see he had little control over whether or not he was going to fall in love with her.

Bill Connon, as the brother of Gillian, gave a realistic portrayal of a young man taken up with his power of witchcraft and using it for practical jokes. Don Kreml, as Sidney Redlitch, author of the latest book on witchcraft, combined his interest in the "bottle" with his research on magic, but he seemed more interested in the "bottle."

All in all the players did a fine job on a difficult show and the ector, Sylvia Paulson, should be commended for her work.

A good play without a proper setting could easily be a flop, but the oduction staff did an excellent job on the set. Furnishings and colors re chosen to lend a mystic air and immediately set the stage for the y to be unfolded.

Last but not least, a word of praise should go to the beautiful altese cat who portrayed the part of "Pyetucket," Gillian's "familiar." He lent much to the atmosphere of the play and behaved on stage like a real trooper.

Doris Pascoe Becomes Mrs. Robert Niemann

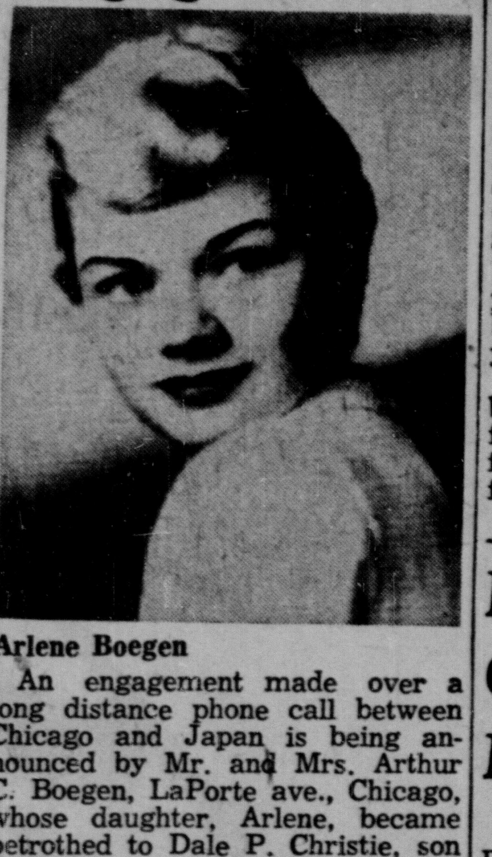
Miss Doris Pascoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Pascoe, 206 MacArthur dr., Mount Prospect, became the bride of Robert B. Niemann in a double ring ceremony November 26 at the Community church in Park Ridge. Mr. Niemann is the son of the Robert J. Niemanns, Park Ridge.

Mrs. Joseph Thiry of Skokie, served as matron of honor to the bride and Jack Giblin of Park Ridge, as best man to the groom.

A reception for family and friends was held at Tam O'Shanter Country club following the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon in Canada, the couple will live in Port Huron, Mich., where the groom is associated with the Morton Salt company as an engineer.

Announce Engagement



Arlene Boegen

An engagement made over a long distance phone call between Chicago and Japan is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Boegen, LaPorte ave., Chicago, whose daughter, Arlene, became betrothed to Dale P. Christie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Christie, rt. 2, Des Plaines.

Miss Boegen is a graduate of Schurz high school and is employed with Henry Rose, Inc. Mr. Christie, a graduate of Arlington Heights high school, is now in the air force stationed in Tokyo.

No definite plans have been set for the wedding.

Favorites For Flavor

Because Mrs. Henry M. Corbett had so many fine recipes worth recommending, we decided to print four of them in this column.

The first is an unusual dessert called Nut Pie. Delicious as well as easy to prepare, this dessert contains a unique ingredient, crushed Ritz Crackers. It has a chewy, nutty flavor and is elegant topped with whipped cream or ice cream.

An appropriate recipe for the coming holiday season is Mrs. Corbett's Christmas Cookie Balls. These cookies consist of only four ingredients, butter, confectioner's sugar, flour and nutmeats. When removed from the oven the cookies are shaken in a bag of confectioner's sugar. They are very rich and of the melt-in-your-mouth variety.

Then we have her chocolate frosting and hot chocolate sauce recipes. The frosting can be prepared in about 10 minutes, is milk-chocolate in color and flavor, and is very smooth.

Smooth also describes the texture of the chocolate sauce, which can be served either hot or cold. It is chewy on ice cream and very yummy.

The Corbetts live at 338 S. Bristol in Arlington Heights. They have one son, Michael, who is in second grade at Dryden school. Mrs. Corbett is a member of the PTA and the Evening circle of the First Presbyterian church.

Nut Pie

18 Ritz crackers, crushed fine
4 egg whites, beaten until stiff
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup walnuts or pecans, chopped.

Grease 8-inch pie plate and dust lightly with flour. Mix ingredients together.

Bake for 25 to 30 minutes in 350 degree oven. Top with whipped cream or ice cream. Serves 6.

Christmas Cookie Balls

½ pound butter at room temperature
6 tablespoons confectioner's sugar
2 cups sifted flour
2 cups chopped English or black walnuts

Work ingredients together. If too soft to roll into balls, refrigerate for a short time.

Roll dough into small balls, about the size of a hickory nut. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet for 30 minutes in 300 degree oven.

While slightly warm, shake cookies in a bag of confectioner's sugar. Makes 45 cookies.

Chocolate Frosting

¾ cup granulated sugar
7 tablespoons Half and Half
Lump of butter
Pinch of salt

Mix ingredients together and boil for exactly two minutes. Add:
½ package choclate bits
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat until thick enough to frost cake.

Hot Chocolate Sauce

1 square unsweetened chocolate
1 cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons corn sirup
1 tablespoon butter
1/3 cup boiling water
½ teaspoon vanilla
Pinch of salt

Melt chocolate over low flame and add butter. Add boiling water gradually.

Bring to a boil, add sugar, mix well, and add corn sirup. Boil for four to five minutes. Cool. Add vanilla and salt. Serve hot or cold.

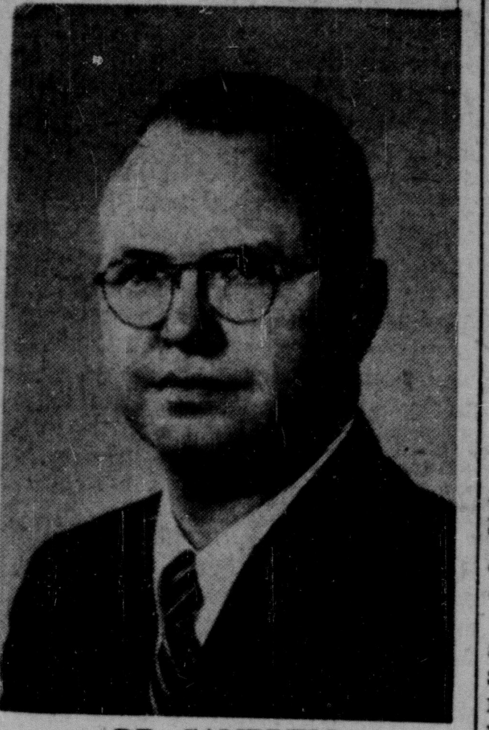
MISS HEISE



DR. CAMPBELL

Cutting hall of Palatine high school will be the scene of the second annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by Town and Country chorus, December 12, at 8:15 p.m.

Two of the artists featured in this year's presentation will be remembered for their performances last year.

Miss Mercie Heise, organist, will be one of the two accompanists for the evening. Miss Heise has, for several years, been organist for the First Methodist church of Palatine. She is well known through the area for her musicianship and talent.

Dr. Wayland E. Campbell, also of Palatine, will again be tenor soloist this year. Dr. Campbell studies with Thomas N. MacBurney of Chicago. He has been a featured soloist in nearly all of the chorus' concerts and performances.

Tickets at $1 each can be obtained from members of the chorus. A small block of tickets is being reserved for sale at the door.

Words & Music

"BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE"

I wasn't quite convinced that Gillian Holroyd (Jerre Hasse) was endowed with the power of witchcraft in the performance of "Bell, Book and Candle" given by Palatine Players last Friday and Saturday evenings. One felt more as if he were looking in on an intimate love scene instead of being bewitched by the mystic powers of a "Class A" witch.

Nevertheless, Miss Hasse made a good witch in most of the scenes and had the love scenes been a little less "torrid" she could have been credited with an excellent performance.

"Auntie" Holroyd (Virginia Warner) gave a professional touch to the entire play. She convinced the audience she had "strange powers" and they loved her every minute she was on the stage.

Shepherd Henderson (Rodger Taggart) was put under the spell cast by beautiful Gillian in short order and it was easy to see he had little control over whether or not he was going to fall in love with her.

Bill Connon, as the brother of Gillian, gave a realistic portrayal of a young man taken up with his power of witchcraft and using it for practical jokes. Don Kreml, as Sidney Redlitch, author of the latest book on witchcraft, combined his interest in the "bottle" with his research on magic, but he seemed more interested in the "bottle."

All in all the players did a fine job on a difficult show and the director, Sylvia Paulson, should be commended for her work.

A good play without a proper setting could easily be a flop, but the production staff did an excellent job on the set. Furnishings and colors were chosen to lend a mystic air and immediately set the stage for the story to be unfolded.

Last but not least, a word of praise should go to the beautiful maltese cat who portrayed the part of "Pyetucket," Gillian's "familiar." He lent much to the atmosphere of the play and behaved on stage like a real trooper.

No definite plans have been set for the wedding.

Favorites For Flavor

Because Mrs. Henry M. Corbett had so many fine recipes worth recommending, we decided to print four of them in this column.

The first is an unusual dessert called Nut Pie. Delicious as well as easy to prepare, this dessert contains a unique ingredient, crushed Ritz Crackers. It has a chewy, nutty flavor and is elegant topped with whipped cream or ice cream.

An appropriate recipe for the coming holiday season is Mrs. Corbett's Christmas Cookie Balls. These cookies consist of only four ingredients, butter, confectioner's sugar, flour and nutmeats. When removed from the oven the cookies are shaken in a bag of confectioner's sugar. They are very rich and of the melt-in-your-mouth variety.

Then we have her chocolate frosting and hot chocolate sauce recipes. The frosting can be prepared in about 10 minutes, is milk-chocolate in color and flavor, and is very smooth.

Smooth also describes the texture of the chocolate sauce, which can be served either hot or cold. It is chewy on ice cream and very yummy.

The Corbetts live at 338 S. Bristol in Arlington Heights. They have one son, Michael, who is in second grade at Dryden school. Mrs. Corbett is a member of the PTA and the Evening circle of the First Presbyterian church.

Nut Pie

18 Ritz crackers, crushed fine
4 egg whites, beaten until stiff
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup walnuts or pecans, chopped.

Grease 8-inch pie plate and dust lightly with flour. Mix ingredients together.

Bake for 25 to 30 minutes in 350 degree oven. Top with whipped cream or ice cream. Serves 6.

Christmas Cookie Balls

½ pound butter at room temperature
6 tablespoons confectioner's sugar
2 cups sifted flour
2 cups chopped English or black walnuts

Work ingredients together. If too soft to roll into balls, refrigerate for a short time.

Roll dough into small balls, about the size of a hickory nut. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet for 30 minutes in 300 degree oven.

While slightly warm, shake cookies in a bag of confectioner's sugar. Makes 45 cookies.

Chocolate Frosting

¾ cup granulated sugar
7 tablespoons Half and Half
Lump of butter
Pinch of salt

Mix ingredients together and boil for exactly two minutes. Add:

½ package choclate bits
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat until thick enough to frost cake.

Hot Chocolate Sauce

1 square unsweetened chocolate
1 cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons corn sirup
1 tablespoon butter
1/3 cup boiling water
½ teaspoon vanilla
Pinch of salt

Melt chocolate over low flame and add butter. Add boiling water gradually.

Bring to a boil, add sugar, mix well, and add corn sirup. Boil for four to five minutes. Cool. Add vanilla and salt. Serve hot or cold.

Bake Sale

The newly organized Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club is eagerly looking forward to their first big event, a community bake sale, which will be held this Friday evening to give Rolling Meadowites a chance to start their weekend shopping early. The sale will be held between 7 and 10 p.m. at the Community church building at 2500 Meadow dr. It is under the direction of Rose Roesler and Jean Ehard, bake sale co-chairmen. Credit should also go to the president of the Junior Woman's club, Billie Traub, who has been working hard on the sale. Every member of the Junior Woman's club has been made responsible for five donations, but the club would be very grateful for further contributions from the community. Baking contributions should be at the Community church building between 4 and 5 p.m. Friday, the day of the sale. Remember, the sale starts at 7 p.m.

Accident

That cute little tyke who has been walking about on Eastman st. with both hands completely bandaged is Randy Zaccard. Randy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zaccard of 2200 Eastman, is only 2 years old—not quite old enough to know that hot tar is dangerous. Randy was out riding his tricycle and fell beside a newly paved driveway, plunging both hands into the hot tar immediately after it was poured. The worried workmen, who hadn't even seen him playing in the vicinity, immediately sent him home. Randy is going to be all right, but it was a painful experience for such a little boy. If any of your neighbors are having their driveways asphalted please warn your older children of the dangers of the freshly poured tar, and keep little ones safely in the house—or at least far away from the vicinity of the danger.

Visitors

Bill and Dorothy Dow of 2304 Sigwalt st. really enjoyed an old-fashioned family Thanksgiving this year. Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geegh of Grand Rapids, Mich., visited their daughter and her family for five days over the Thanksgiving holiday, to the complete delight of their little granddaughter, Nancy. Following their visit Mr. and Mrs. Geegh drove on to Pella, Iowa, to visit Dorothy's aunt who lives there.

Hospitalized

That worried look on the face of Rolling Meadows milkman, John Walker, has been caused by the illness of his wife, Bobbie. Mrs. Walker was rushed from their home at 2310 Sigwalt st. to the hospital with a suspected appendicitis attack. Upon her arrival at the hospital, however, it was found she was suffering from a rare instance of blood poisoning from which she quickly recovered. Mrs. Walker has now returned home.

Also hospitalized this last week was Ann Jaske of 2407 Sigwalt st. Ann was in the hospital in Chicago for a checkup, and Eddie Jaske took their little 19 month old son to stay with his grandparents temporarily until his mother was feeling better.

Birthday Celebrations

Two birthday parties in two days for the same group of little playmates is a pretty good record, and certainly gives a special group of children their share of cake and ice cream. November 27, little Linda Kay Vlaminck entertained a group of her little friends at her fourth birthday celebration. Linda Kay, who is the pretty little daughter of Henry and Dolores Vlaminck of 2301 Sigwalt st., was feted on her birthday by Cindy Golz, Randy Kunz, Linda Langhoff, Diane Paulsen and several little friends from Chicago.

Just two days later, one of Linda Kay's birthday guests, little Cynthia (Cindy) Golz celebrated her own fourth birthday. Monday, Cindy was hostess to Diane Paulsen, Randy Kunz Linda Langhoff and Linda Kay Vlaminck, as well as several little Chicago friends. Cindy is the young daughter of Leonard and Dorothy Golz of 2205 Sigwalt st.

Baby Sitting

The baby sitting registry which was initiated by Mrs. Marjorie Hansen of 2317 Bluebird dr. has really developed into a successful enterprise for a group of 19 Rolling Meadows women. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Hansen is looking for additional "sitters" to take care of some of her calls, particularly in the evening and on weekends. The group which held a combination social and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Hansen Monday has developed some rules and regulations for the protection of the baby sitting registry clients and for the sitters themselves. The women are enthusiastic about the success of the plan, as are many mothers from Rolling Meadows and the surrounding communities who now can rely upon finding an experienced baby sitter when the need arises. If you are interested in joining the group, or in finding a baby sitter, you are invited to call Mrs. Hansen at CLearbrook 5-0854.

Home Demonstration Party

Millie Braiske of 2310 Fremont st. was the hostess at a home demonstration party last Friday. Several of her Rolling Meadows neighbors were guests including Mrs. T. Zographos, 2402 Fremont st.; Mrs. Elaine Hughes, 2308 Fremont st.; Mrs. E. Swanson, 2405 Fremont st.; and Mrs. Helen Oker, 2404 Fremont st. Also in attendance were Mrs. H. W. Decker and Miss Sue Schneider of Chicago. It was a real "Rolling Meadows party" throughout though—the demonstrator was Rolling Meadows resident Mrs. Dolores Szwiec, also of Fremont st. Following the discussion of home products, Mrs. Braiske served refreshments to her guests, who managed to combine some personal and Christmas shopping with a relaxed and pleasant evening.

Ill

Bob and Lois Meyers of 2502 Sigwalt st. are thanking their lucky stars these days over the swift recovery of their little girl, Nancy. Nancy, who was visiting her grandparents in Chicago, had been suffering from a bad cold. Suddenly she took a turn for the worse ,and was bedded down on the verge of pneumonia. Luckily she recovered without any ill effects, and Bob and Lois now have her back home in Rolling Meadows.

Christmas Trees

Almost every Rolling Meadows family is eagerly looking forward to that first Christmas in their new home (second Christmas for a few of us). High on the list of "musts" for the important occasion will be a Christmas tree. The Women's Association of the Community church has already planned for that purchase—both for the enrichment of their treasury (needless to say for worthy causes, and for the savings of their Rolling Meadows neighbors. A variety of Christmas trees will be on sale at "The Barn" on Kirchhoff rd. just west of Meadow dr. starting with the "barn-warming" this Saturday, Dec. 4. The trees, which range in size from about 5 feet to about 8 feet, will be sold every evening and Saturday thereafter until Christmas, and, most important of all, prices will be extremely reasonable—lower than comparable prices in Chicago and the surrounding communities.

New Rolling Meadows Citizen

What could be more appropriate for a brand-new house than a brand-new baby to make it a home? Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reinhardt of 2702 Fremont st. really were "on schedule" with the arrival of their first child, little Glen Alan, who arrived November 22, just about a week after the Reinhardts moved into their new home in Rolling Meadows. He weighed 8 pounds.

Visitors

Michael and Vera Medley of 2303 Wing st. were hosts to Michael's sister and her family for a recent visit. Mr. Medley's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney De Weerd, and Mrs. Martha De Weerd of Kalamazoo, Mich., stayed with the Medley family recently for a short visit. Apparently the pleasant visit which they had with the De Weerds gave Michael the "yen" to visit more of his family. He has just returned from a four day visit to Pana, Ill., where he enjoyed a brief sojourn with other members of his family.

Cub Scouts

The first pack meeting of the Rolling Meadows cub scout pack which was held November 22 was an enthusiastic success from the viewpoint of everyone concerned—the boys, their parents, and the hard-working cub pack committee. The meeting, which almost turned to failure before it started, was well attended by parents and others interested in cub work. The scheduled meeting place in the new school building was inadvertently locked, however, when the crowd began to gather, and a substitute meeting hall had to be found on the spur of the moment. The meeting was transferred to one of the temporary school buildings on Campbell st., and the wait in the cold didn't seem to dampen any of the enthusiasm of anyone in attendance. The cub scouts sang several songs for their audience, and one of the dens presented a skit depicting a cub scout's training to do "good deeds." Following the program, the new cubmaster for the new cub pack, Leif Maseng of George st., gave a brief talk on cub scout work and its aims, explaining the program and objects of the cub pack to the many parents in attendance. Following Mr. Maseng's speech, the highlight of the evening came with the presentation of the "Bobcat Buttons" to the parents of new cubs. The parents then pinned their respective sons with their important "first" cub award. The pins were presented upside-down, only to be turned upright upon the completion of the new cub's first "good deed," which you can be sure was enthusiastically undertaken by all of the boys.

The boys who received their Bobcat Buttons were Kenneth Heinrich, Donald Rajkowski, Robert Pina Jr., Terry Martin, Bill Adduci, Frederich Kunz, Jimmie Jansen and Joseph Lacascio, all of whom are members of den 1 under the direction of den mothers Eleanor Keller and Grace Martin. Members of den 2, under the direction of den mothers LaVerne Sladek and Myrla Garrity, also received their Bobcat buttons. They are Michael Griesman, Paul Garrity, Peter Holden, Allen Lapinski, Arthur Kraus, Reggie Rybak and George Sladek.

Attending the pack meeting to help with the initiation ceremonies were three Rolling Meadows boy scouts. Kenny Keller, Willie Klouthis and Bill Jansen gladly attended the meeting to lend a helping hand under the direction of scouting representative Pete Keller.

Because of the success of the first meeting, everyone concerned—parents, cubs and cub officials—are enthusiastically looking forward to the second pack meeting which has been scheduled for Monday evening, Dec. 20, at The Barn. The second pack meeting will be a Christmas observance of the group, and should be as successful as the first .

Surprise Party

Shirley Piekarski of Dove st. was the surprised guest of honor at a birthday celebration planned and attended by her Dove st. neighbors. The party was held Friday in collaboration with her husband Al, was in observance of her "past 21 and stopped counting" birthday. On hand to help Shirley observe the important date were George and Marge Schmidt, Donna and Ed Anderson, Marge Duffy, Les and Billie Traub, and Emmie and John Macior.

Pizza Party

A group of Wing st. neighbors were entertained recently at a "Pizza party" by Otto and Myrna Novak of 2403 Wing st. The party which featured games and singing by everyone in attend ance, really hit a highlight of the evening when a wire recording of the harmonious renditions of the group was played back. On hand for the choral melodies and the pizza were Fred and Evelyn Jesper, Joe and Loretta Stapleton, Leonard and Dorothy Scott, Keith and Lucy Holden and Al and Mary Estrella.

Barn Warming

This is a final reminder that Saturday is the big day for the "barn warming"—and everyone is invited! Activities will start at 6 p.m. and there will be something for everyone to do! Believe me, this is one of those community affairs that is a "must" for everyone — you can't help but enjoy yourself with your other Rolling Meadows neighbors. There are a few things you should plan to bring with you—other than your own good spirits, of course. You sould bring a hot dish, a salad, and your own silver. Coffee, milk, rolls and desert will be provided by the women of the Community church. There will be all sorts of activities for the entire family. There will be games and a grab bag for the children under the direction of Marjorie Konishi. There will be dancing for the adults from 9 to 12 with a "real live" orchestra under the direction of Clarence Dahm. In charge of the over-all planning for the "Barn Warming" is busy Helen Bol, who is the president of the Women's association and General Chairman of the affair. Besides Marjorie Konishi and Clarence Dahm, Florence Nyblin and LaVerne DeBonis have proved to be able right-hand workers. Florence Nyblin will arrange for the decorations in the "Barn" — which will be no little job. LaVerne DeBonis is the supper chairman, and you know how much work that will prove to be!

Another highlight of the "Barn Warming" will be a bazaar. Besides the Christmas trees which will be sold from Saturday until Christmas, many other items will be on sale. You will be able to purchase Christmas cards and wrappings, toys and many items of hand work There will be a Food Sale, too, so that no phase of your shopping will be neglected. If you would like to assist the busy women of the Women's Association in this worth-while enterprise with the donation of some piece of hand work or article for the food sale you can be sure your contribution will be greatly appreciated. Mrs. LaVerne DeBonis of 2311 Sigwalt st. will be glad to hear from you regarding your contribution — Her telephone number is CLearbrook 3-8331.

Remember, the "Barn" will be devoted to all forms of community activities, not only church work, although that will play an important part in its place in the community. The Barn will be available for boy scouts, girl scouts, Home Owners' association meetings, little league, cub scouts, brownies, and other groups.

Everyone in the community is invited to the "Barn Warming" celebration regardless of religious inclinations — this is a community celebration, not a secular observance.

See you there!

Bake Sale

The newly organized Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club is eagerly looking forward to their first big event, a community bake sale, which will be held this Friday evening to give Rolling Meadowites a chance to start their weekend shopping early. The sale will be held between 7 and 10 p.m. at the Community church building at 2500 Meadow dr. It is under the direction of Rose Roesler and Jean Ehard, bake sale co-chairmen. Credit should also go to the president of the Junior Woman's club, Billie Traub, who has been working hard on the sale. Every member of the Junior Woman's club has been made responsible for five donations, but the club would be very grateful for further contributions from the community. Baking contributions should be at the Community church building between 4 and 5 p.m. Friday, the day of the sale. Remember, the sale starts at 7 p.m.

Accident

That cute little tyke who has been walking about on Eastman st. with both hands completely bandaged is Randy Zaccard. Randy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zaccard of 2200 Eastman, is only 2 years old—not quite old enough to know that hot tar is dangerous. Randy was out riding his tricycle and fell beside a newly paved driveway, plunging both hands into the hot tar immediately after it was poured. The worried workmen, who hadn't even seen him playing in the vicinity, immediately sent him home. Randy is going to be all right, but it was a painful experience for such a little boy. If any of your neighbors are having their driveways asphalted please warn your older children of the dangers of the freshly poured tar, and keep little ones safely in the house—or at least far away from the vicinity of the danger.

Visitors

Bill and Dorothy Dow of 2304 Sigwalt st. really enjoyed an old-fashioned family Thanksgiving this year. Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geegh of Grand Rapids, Mich., visited their daughter and her family for five days over the Thanksgiving holiday, to the complete delight of their little granddaughter, Nancy. Following their visit Mr. and Mrs. Geegh drove on to Pella, Iowa, to visit Dorothy's aunt who lives there.

Hospitalized

That worried look on the face of Rolling Meadows milkman, John Walker, has been caused by the illness of his wife, Bobbie. Mrs. Walker was rushed from their home at 2310 Sigwalt st. to the hospital with a suspected appendicitis attack. Upon her arrival at the hospital, however, it was found she was suffering from a rare instance of blood poisoning from which she quickly recovered. Mrs. Walker has now returned home.

Also hospitalized this last week was Ann Jaske of 2407 Sigwalt st. Ann was in the hospital in Chicago for a checkup, and Eddie Jaske took their little 19 month old son to stay with his grandparents temporarily until his mother was feeling better.

Birthday Celebrations

December executive meeting will be held Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. at the schoolhouse.

Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, Health chairman, and Miss Cunningham, the school nurse, completed the hearing tests of the Feehanville pupils last week Tuesday.

Program committee with several volunteer helpers had a meeting scheduled for last Tuesday evening to plan the Christmas program for the school. Tentative plans have been discussed, and Mrs. Karnuth, chairman, will appreciate help from anyone who can contribute time, labor or suggestions.

Scouts

A day at the Museum of Natural History with a quick trip to the Aquarium was the program of the day last Friday for the Brownie Troop and Intermediate Girl Scout troop. Mrs. Eva Anderson and Mrs. Mae Schmitz, leaders, were in charge of the Brownie troop along with several little guests, and Mrs. Marguerite Broberg, Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth and Mrs. I. A. Hanson, leaders, were in charge of the Intermediates. Mrs. Houzer, mother of Mary Alice, came along to help with the girls. Lunches were carried, and the girls purchased dessert and milk in the lunchroom.

Civic Association

At the November meeting the nominating committee selected by the board of directors was announced and is as follows: Robert Unger and I. A. Hanson, from the northwest area, James Brewer and Jeanne Duncanson from the southwest area, Red Bischof and Helen Murphy from the northeast area, and William Phares and Betty Arkell from the southeast area. The members nominating committee, selected at this meeting, were as follows: Eva Anderson and Rita Badalamenti from the northwest area, Richard Kozel and Walter Swiatowy from the southwest area, Mrs. Toth and Irwin Phar, from the northeast area, and Doris Milz and Mr. Young from the southeast area. There is one director from each section to be elected, and a president. The names of the nominees will be posted at the Community house by the secretary.

Robert Unger, a heating and ventilating expert who has already spent a great deal of time improving the heating system at the Community house, offered his services, subject to the approval of the assembly to do a more permanent and satisfactory job.

Mrs. Roberta Phar suggested that the funds raised by the teenagers at their ice cream social be put to use, and it was decided that Rudy Gerstung install the much-needed sink at the refreshment counter. Louis Bartucci offered to get some of the material needed and to help do the work.

Refreshment committee for November were Mrs. Ruth Bischof and Mrs. Louis Bartucci.

Christmas party committte had a meeting scheduled for last Tuesday to list the children in the neighborhood, get the gifts ordered, line up the entertainment and take care of the thousand and one details connected with a project of this sort.

Rainroad Crossing

Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, secretary of the Forest River Home Owners Civic association, and Mrs. A. R. Hanson, secretary of the school board, went to Chicago last week Monday to attend the hearing on the Foundry Road Soo Line crossing, only to hear another continuance had been granted on the grounds that "they are working out an agreement—they had agreed to agree." The next hearing is set for March 29, 1955, and will probably be a report on progress made toward installing the signal lights.

Fire Department

Richard Kozel, chief of the Forest River Fire department, expressed concern over a recent development. He said, "It has come to the attention of the fire department that there is someone selling fire extinguishing apparatus in the subdivision. They state that the Forest River fire department has recommended this apparatus. This is not the case, as the Forest River Fire department has neither endorsed nor condemned the apparatus."

Community News

Mrs. H. Sandquist, Mrs. A. Brandt and Mrs. I. A. Hanson thoroughly enjoyed the beautifully executed Thanksgiving program presented by the Prospect Heights and Wilson schools last week Wednesday. Thomas Daniels played several selections on his violin, the seventh and eighth grade pupils sang seven musical numbers, and there were three tabloids presented. Janet Sandquist portrayed Priscilla in the first tabloid. In the second, the classic Spirit of '76 was brought to life by Billy Phar with his piccolo, Ray Olson with the drum and Pete Gregory carrying the flag. The third tabloid showed silhouettes illustrating the song, "Grandmother's Thanksgiving."

Phil Roos, Gail Wiltshire, John Hanson, Bonnie Mitchell and Robert Levine of this area were among the forty Hi-C members who embarked on a progressive dinner last week Tuesday and proved it is possible to eat heartily of every course of a many-course dinner and still have room for dessert. They met at the home of Bud Meyer in Des Plaines and drove to the Nelson home for appetizers. The Swanson home in Park Ridge was the next stop for the salad course. The Hustons, also in Park Ridge, provided the main course which was turkey with all the trimmings. Dessert was served in the McLennan home after which they all enjoyed a speech by a prominent businessman.

The Emert Rooses undoubtedly sang "To Grandmothers' House We Go" last week as they left for Michigan to spend Thanksgiving day at the home of Lola's parents.

The Jack Levines drove to Indianapolis, Ind., for a week-end trip last Friday.

The Nippers of Westgate road entertained Miss Myra Howe of Decatur Thanksgiving day.

Bobby Laser, who has been hospitalized for nearly a week, came home last week Wednesday and is doing fine.

At a six o'clock ceremony at the Presbyterian church in Arlington Heights last Saturday, Lois May Messner of Meadow Lane road, became the bride of William Lee Hoag of Monticello, Ark. Maid of honor was Barbara Messner, junior bridesmaids were Betty and Gail Messner. The best man was Theodore Messner Jr. of Des Plaines, and the ushers were John Watson of Des Plaines and Lee Keener of Vicksville. The reception was held at Fred's Community hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Marty Messner wishes to thank her good neighbors who helped so much with the arrangements, Mrs. James Young, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zschack, Mrs. Bertha Toemmel and Miss Idyl Nippers.

Brand-new in Wedgewood

Two baby boys born in different towns are going to be neighbors in Wedgewood and probably close friends since they are only four days apart in age.

First to come was Stephan Jeffery Hartness, an 8½ lb. son born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hartness, 402 S. Meadow lane, on November 18 at Elmhurst Memorial hospital. He has a brother, John, who is welcoming him with all the enthusiasm of a 19-month-old.

Stephan's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Dilla of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Hartness of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Next to come onto the world stage was Kenneth Russell Kukulski, a hefty 9 lb. 3 oz. boy, born November 22 at Resurrection hospital in Chicago. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kukulski, E. Euclid. Brothers and sisters in his family are Richard, 15, Leon, 14, Tina, 8, and Nancy, 7. Kenneth has a paternal grandfather, A. G. Rutkowski, LaGrange.

Brownie Troop 303, whose members are from Prospect Meadows and Wedgewood Terrace, are busy with Christmas preparations now. Last Tuesday they were planning to start their Christmas projects which are to be a surprise for Mother and Dad when they are finished.

So, the secret must be kept from

Last week they finished their Santa Claus dolls which are for their own party that they are to have. The dolls were made of clothespins, cotton, hair, pipe cleaner arms, and crepe paper clothing. Leaders of this troop are Mrs. John Revus and Mrs. Joseph De Pasquale.

The Revuses took time off from Brownie thoughts to visit with grandmother, Mrs. Susan Revus, in the city at Thanksgiving time.

Christmas Party Plans

Officers of the Arlington Terrace home owner's association met at the home of Mrs. M. Johnson, 926 North Douglas avenue, last Monday night to plan the children's Christmas party. Arrangements have been made for the party to be held at the North school on the afternoon of December 19. Movies will be shown, refreshments served, and Santa will interview all the children. Cards will be sent to all members as a reminder, and members are requested to send in replies as soon as possible.

Visitor

Mr. Joseph Kaminsky of Reno, Nev., is here visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kaminsky, 926 N. Beverley lane.

The women of Douglas ave. met this month at the home of Marge Elgas, 902 N. Douglas ave. Fourteen ladies were there to enjoy the homemade angel food cake and coffee. The Christmas party will be held this year on December 15 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Sitarz.

T.V. Debut

Jackie Irmen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Irmen, 1005 N. Douglas ave., made his television debut last Saturday morning at 9 a.m. on the "I Would Like to Be" program. Jackie sat in the magic wishing chair and wished he was a cowboy. When he opened his eyes, there was a real cowboy and a live horse was standing there. After the horse did some tricks, Jackie got to ride him.

Prospect Meadows

At Last

Well, we finally did it. The leftover turkey is no more! From our soundings of the Meadowites most of them spent Thanksgiving at home "counting their blessings." Now thoughts fly on toward Christmas.

Santa Claus is Coming to Town

We have it on good authority that a committee of ladies of the Prospect Meadows Women's auxiliary has made contact with Kris Kringle. They have spread the word that, after careful consideration, Santa will make a preview visit to all the good children in the Meadows. The date set is December 23—so have your lists ready kids. Santa's visit is designed to acquaint him with the terrain and requests for the big day, December 25. Of course, the jolly fellow never comes empty handed. There will be treats for the good little children. Don't forget, mamas, if you forgot to turn the flyer in to your block captain, hurry. Yesterday was set as the deadline!

Auxiliary Meets

The ladies are not to be forgotten in the festivities. November and December meetings have been combined. The auxiliary will meet December 8 at the Village hall. Everyone is asked to bring a 50 cent grab bag gift. Games and Christmas songs are on the agenda. The meeting will start at 8:30 p.m.

Child Study Meets

December meeting of the child study group will be foregone because of Christmas activities. The members will meet January 18 at the Prospect Heights school, corner of Palatine and Schoenbeck rd. The speaker for the evening is Dr. E. Jones, Ph. D. from the Association of Family Living. His topic will be "Sharing." Business meeting begins at 8:15 p.m. and Dr. Jones will speak at 8:30 p.m. Since most families in the community have more than one child, the subject "Sharing" should have much to offer us.

Girl Scout News

Intermediate scouts met Wednesday at the Doyle home. Major topic at the meeting was the possibility of finding a new meeting place, and also the formation of a car pool.

Brownies completed favors for the Christmas party and last Tuesday started work on gifts for mom and dad.

Cub Scout News

There is nothing new on our cub scouts in den 13. At last Friday's meeting they practiced their parts in the forthcoming induction ceremony.

Visitors

The Rubin Potratzes of Larkdale lane had weekend guests from Fredericksburg, Iowa, last week. Mr. Portratz' brother and his family enjoyed their visit in the Meadows and little Evan Potratz had a grand time with his two cousins.

A Light on the Subject!

We understand something new will be added to our stone abutment walls at the Foundry rd. entrance. The Property Owners association has procured lights which will be installed as soon as volunteers come forward.

The Jack Levines drove to Indianapolis, Ind., for a week-end trip last Friday.

The Nippers of Westgate road entertained Miss Myra Howe of Decatur Thanksgiving day.

Bobby Laser, who has been hospitalized for nearly a week, came home last week Wednesday and is doing fine.

At a six o'clock ceremony at the Presbyterian church in Arlington Heights last Saturday, Lois May Messner of Meadow Lane road, became the bride of William Lee Hoag of Monticello, Ark. Maid of honor was Barbara Messner, junior bridesmaids were Betty and Gail Messner. The best man was Theodore Messner Jr. of Des Plaines, and the ushers were John Watson of Des Plaines and Lee Keener of Vicksville. The reception was held at Fred's Community hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Marty Messner wishes to thank her good neighbors who helped so much with the arrangements, Mrs. James Young, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zschack, Mrs. Bertha Toemmel and Miss Idyl Nipper.

Christmas Party Plans

Officers of the Arlington Terrace home owner's association met at the home of Mrs. M. Johnson, 926 North Douglas avenue, last Monday night to plan the children's Christmas party. Arrangements have been made for the party to be held at the North school on the afternoon of December 19. Movies will be shown, refreshments served, and Santa will interview all the children. Cards will be sent to all members as a reminder, and members are requested to send in replies as soon as possible.

Visitor

Mr. Joseph Kaminsky of Reno, Nev., is here visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kaminsky, 926 N. Beverley lane.

The women of Douglas ave. met this month at the home of Marge Elgas, 902 N. Douglas ave. Fourteen ladies were there to enjoy the homemade angel food cake and coffee. The Christmas party will be held this year on December 15 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Sitarz.

T.V. Debut

Jackie Irmen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Irmen, 1005 N. Douglas ave., made his television debut last Saturday morning at 9 a.m. on the "I Would Like to Be" program. Jackie sat in the magic wishing chair and wished he was a cowboy. When he opened his eyes, there was a real cowboy and a live horse was standing there. After the horse did some tricks, Jackie got to ride him.

Prospect Meadows

At Last

Well, we finally did it. The leftover turkey is no more! From our soundings of the Meadowites most of them spent Thanksgiving at home "counting their blessings." Now thoughts fly on toward Christmas.

Santa Claus is Coming to Town

We have it on good authority that a committee of ladies of the Prospect Meadows Women's auxiliary has made contact with Kris Kringle. They have spread the word that, after careful consideration, Santa will make a preview visit to all the good children in the Meadows. The date set is December 23—so have your lists ready kids. Santa's visit is designed to acquaint him with the terrain and requests for the big day, December 25. Of course, the jolly fellow never comes empty handed. There will be treats for the good little children. Don't forget, mamas, if you forgot to turn the flyer in to your block captain, hurry. Yesterday was set as the deadline!

Auxiliary Meets

The ladies are not to be forgotten in the festivities. November and December meetings have been combined. The auxiliary will meet December 8 at the Village hall. Everyone is asked to bring a 50 cent grab bag gift. Games and Christmas songs are on the agenda. The meeting will start at 8:30 p.m.

Child Study Meets

December meeting of the child study group will be foregone because of Christmas activities. The members will meet January 18 at the Prospect Heights school, corner of Palatine and Schoenbeck rd. The speaker for the evening is Dr. E. Jones, Ph. D. from the Association of Family Living. His topic will be "Sharing." Business meeting begins at 8:15 p.m. and Dr. Jones will speak at 8:30 p.m. Since most families in the community have more than one child, the subject "Sharing" should have much to offer us.

Girl Scout News

Intermediate scouts met Wednesday at the Doyle home. Major topic at the meeting was the possibility of finding a new meeting place, and also the formation of a car pool.

Brownies completed favors for the Christmas party and last Tuesday started work on gifts for mom and dad.

Cub Scout News

There is nothing new on our cub scouts in den 13. At last Friday's meeting they practiced their parts in the forthcoming induction ceremony.

Visitors

The Rubin Potratzes of Larkdale lane had weekend guests from Fredericksburg, Iowa, last week. Mr. Portratz' brother and his family enjoyed their visit in the Meadows and little Evan Potratz had a grand time with his two cousins.

A Light on the Subject!

We understand something new will be added to our stone abutment walls at the Foundry rd. entrance. The Property Owners association has procured lights which will be installed as soon as volunteers come forward.

Belated Birthday Wishes

Many birthday wishes to Mrs. Kenneth Hartman whose birthday was Wednesday, November 25.

Charlotte Keller celebrated her birthday Saturday, November 20. The following guests were present to wish her a happy birthday: the Misses Patricia Hall, Louise Prasnikar, Kathleen Branka, Mary and Sandra Moehling, Patricia Cleary, Delores Thon, and Eugene Moehling and Mike Stashko.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brodnan and family spent Thanksgiving day at the Walter Schroeder home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swearingen and family had Thanksgiving dinner at the Alvin Moehling home.

Out-of-Town Guests

Recent visitors at the Robert Hutchings home were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Antill and son George, of Stevens Point, Wis.; Warren Stokes of Milwaukee, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nawrot and children, Mrs. J. R. Phoenix, and Mrs. Emma Hutchings, all from Chicago.

The James Burton family spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Burton's mother, Mrs. Gina Hensrud, in Danville.

The Joseph Mueller family had Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. Mueller's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Spada in Chicago. In the evening, they went to see Mrs. Mueller's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Koff, who was 83 recently.

Visit Relatives

The Carl Graves Sr. family spent the Thanksgiving holidays visiting relatives of Mr. Graves at Scottsville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keller and daughter, Charlotte, enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hall in Arlington Heights.

Hunters' Luck

Chester Petersen and a group of friends went deer hunting in Hayward, Wis., Thanksgiving weekend. Luck was with them, and they brought back 3 deer.

Tom Sullivan Sr. and Tom Jr. went hunting Thanksgiving afternoon and Tom Jr. shot his first pheasant with the first shot of his new gun, which was the biggest thrill of his life. The gun was a Thanksgiving gift from his father.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Jr. and sons enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Grismer's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Angel, in Evansville, Ind. They also visited at Santa Claus, Ind., with Santa himself and his main mailing headquarters there.

Holiday with Friends

The Stan Luczak family motored to Canton, Ill., over the Thanksgiving holiday to visit friends, Mr. and Mrs. Shelbv Johns. They not only enjoyed turkey with all the trimmings, but also brought home a turkey, a gift from the Johns for their Christmas dinner, one of the thirteen turkeys which the Johns raised themselves.

Visits from Florida

Michael Scussel, a former resident of Arlington Heights, who lived on Seegers rd. about 12 years ago and now is a permanent resident of Tampa, Fla., visited here briefly. He came back to help his former partner and now owner of the Arlington Glass co., who suffered a heart attack and will have to take it easy for a while. Mr. Scussel previously owned the Arlington Glass co. with his brother, George, who now is also a home owner in Chain-O-Lakes, Fla.

A Reminder

A reminder to mothers of the Forest View mothers' club who volunteered to bake cupcakes for our Anniversary party, that it will be held Saturday, December 4, at the Forest View school at 8 p.m. It's to be a combination square dance, card and bunco party with table and door prizes. Please contact any member for tickets or buy them at the door. The general public is invited. For those of you who want to do your part but can't attend or sell tickets, you may make a donation for door prizes by contacting either Mrs. Marty Sundblad, CLearbrook 3-2821, or Mrs. Julia Luczak, CLearbrook 3-6346.

Meeting

Forest View mothers club's regular monthly meeting will be Tuesday, December 7 at Forest View school at 8 p.m. Christmas party plans and other business will be discussed.

Forest View Mothers' Club To Hold Anniversary Party

An anniversary party will be given by the Forest View Mothers' club Saturday, December 4, at 8 p.m., at the Forest View school, ½ block north of Algonquin road on S. State road, Elk Grove township.

A donation of $1 per person is asked. There will be square dancing, called by Alvin Weitzel of Palatine, and cards and bunco will also be played.

Table prizes and door prizes will be given, and refreshments will be served. The general public is invited. Tickets may be purchased either from Mrs. Marty Sundblad, CLearbrook 3-2821, or Mrs. Julia Luczak, CLearbrook 3-6346, or at the door.

School News

The teachers of all grades profited from the reading and science workshop which was held Monday afternoon. Mrs. Carolyn Karstetter visited each room and conferences were held in the afternoon. John R. Shafer gave the teachers many new ideas in the science field. Our thanks to Scott, Foresman Co. for this service.

Christmas Program

Elk Grove's Christmas program will be held for the parents on Thursday evening, December 16 at 7:30 p.m. Each class will participate. Milton Case, music director, will be in charge.

Mothers' Club

Elk Grove Mothers' club will hold their regular meeting and book fair Thursday, December 9, at 1:30 p.m. Books will be on display in the new building and children will have an opportunity to view the books Wednesday. A list of the books will be sent home next week — so plan now on buying your Christmas books at the book fair!

Thanksgiving Program

Last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Grosche's fifth and sixth grades and Mrs. Coston's eighth grade presented two Thanksgiving plays for the students. The band played three numbers in its initial appearance and Anthony Lochinger and Kenneth Anderson played a saxaphone duet. Billy Johnson played a trumpet solo.

Locals

The Future Homemakers 4-H Club held a meeting November 8 at the home of Bernice Pfluger. This is the first of a series of monthly meetings combining handicraft and a social hour. Plans for Christmas were discussed and each member chose a name to buy a Christmas gift to exchange. The Christmas party will be held December 13 at the home of Susan Horbus.

Miss Pfluger gave a report on her trip to Camp Seiger. Election for officers were held with the following elected: Bernice Pfluger, president, Janet Cosman, vice president and Pat Krause, secretary. Also elected for office was Vern Krause and Carol Mayhew. After the meeting was adjournd, the members made hot pads out of rug yarn and rubber jar rings. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed the meeting. Also attending the meeting were Mary Kaiser, Rosemarie Razim and Lois Von Bergen.

Tim and Eddie Moder, sons of the Ed Moders of Lincoln st., have had their tonsils removed at St. Anne's hospital in Chicago.

Mrs. Shirley Steffy of Biesterfield rd. entertained at a copper party Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Irene Woss is recovering rapidly from her recent surgery at Resurrection hospital.

The Girls' club of the Lawndale subdivision have made beautiful table decorations for the coming holidays. The last meeting was held at the home of Miss Judy Wille. A fashion demonstration will be given next Sunday at the home of Ann Fritchley with a few friends and neighbors attending.

Send all news items to Ann Fritchley, Box 408, Route 2, Des Plaines or phone Va 4-0347.

Dr. John B. Collet, foot specialist of Des Plaines, is now a resident of Elk Gove township. He recently moved to his new home on Algonquin road. When asked if he thought he would have time to keep the grass mowed, he said he hoped so.

Wedgewood Terrace

Brand-new in Wedgewood

Two baby boys born in different towns are going to be neighbors in Wedgewood and probably close friends since they are only four days apart in age.

First to come was Stephan Jeffery Hartness, an 8½ lb. son born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hartness, 402 S. Meadow lane, on November 18 at Elmhurst Memorial hospital. He has a brother, John, who is welcoming him with all the enthusiasm of a 19-month-old.

Stephan's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Dilla of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Hartness of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Next to come onto the world stage was Kenneth Russell Kukulski, a hefty 9 lb. 3 oz. boy, born November 22 at Resurrection hospital in Chicago. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kukulski, E. Euclid. Brothers and sisters in his family are Richard, 15, Leon, 14, Tina, 8, and Nancy, 7. Kenneth has a paternal grandfather, A. G. Rutkowski, LaGrange.

Brownie Troop 303, whose members are from Prospect Meadows and Wedgewood Terrace, are busy with Christmas preparations now. Last Tuesday they were planning to start their Christmas projects which are to be a surprise for Mother and Dad when they are finished. So, the secret must be kept from

Last week they finished their Santa Claus dolls which are for their own party that they are to have. The dolls were made of clothespins, cotton, hair, pipe cleaner arms, and crepe paper clothing. Leaders of this troop are Mrs. John Revus and Mrs. Joseph De Pasquale.

The Revuses took time off from Brownie thoughts to visit with grandmother, Mrs. Susan Revus, in the city at Thanksgiving time.

It was a ham that Mrs. James Sailer served her guests when they came the day after Thanksgiving to visit with the Sailers. It was Mrs. Sailer's sister and family, the Robert Molls, and the

Prior Service Airmen Are Enlisting Again

"Three times as many prior service airmen are enlisting again in the United States air force in 1954 as compared with the number for last year," it was announced recently by Master Sgt. Walter J. Heck, air force recruiter.

During July, August and September 1954 a total of 6,312 airmen who took their discharge with no apparent intention of returning to the service nevertheless again enlisted. Compared to the same three months in 1953 only 2,141 in the same category came back in the service.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about the air force can contact the air force recruiting office located at 1518 Park Place, Des Plaines, Phone VA 4-5025.

EDDIE the EDUCATOR says

When I was in school, a lot of kids quit in seventh or eighth grade. Now they nearly all go to high school. It costs us more, but it's the American way.

Prior Service Airmen Are Enlisting Again

"Three times as many prior service airmen are enlisting again in the United States air force in 1954 as compared with the number for last year," it was announced recently by Master Sgt. Walter J. Heck, air force recruiter.

During July, August and September 1954 a total of 6,312 airmen who took their discharge with no apparent intention of returning to the service nevertheless again enlisted. Compared to the same three months in 1953 only 2,141 in the same category came back in the service.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about the air force can contact the air force recruiting office located at 1518 Park Place, Des Plaines, Phone VA 4-5025.

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money."—H. C. Paddock, 1898-[illegible]

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Fifty Years Ago

December 2, 1904

The Palatine Republican club held its annual meeting last week in Hunneberg hall and elected the following officers: C. E. Julian, president; Milan Reynolds, first vice-president; G. H. Arps, second vice-president; William V. Harz, third vice-president; Ira W. Frye, treasurer; C. D. Taylor, secretary ,and Ernest Beutler Sr., assistant secretary.

Edwin Mueller, Bensenville, is looking for agents to promote a patent he has on a new cook stove which has no pipes and can be placed anywhere in a room.

Johnny Martens is out of the Elk Grove school because he was vaccinated and still has a sore arm.

There are those in Palatine who feel a humane society should be organized to take care of the horses that stand outside from morning until late at night without feed or drink while their owners drink to the disgrace of their families and themselves.

Members of the Palatine high school honor roll are: Laura Schrader, Elsie and Cassandra Gainer, Betty Bollman, James Kazda, Grace Van Horne, Cora Bergman, Edwin Clay, Lucille, Daisy and Jeanette Paddock and Hattie Comfort.

Forty Years Ago

December 4, 1914

Deaths this week: Thomas McCune, 82, Arlington Heights, November 27; Nine-year old Harvey Benhart, Roselle, November 25; Mrs. Frank Holstine, formerly of Roselle, Sunday; Joseph Fiedler, Roselle pioneer, November 24.

Louis Bartholomew was united in marriage with Louise Muller Saturday evening in his home northeast of Arlington Heights.

The new Palatine Lutheran church was dedicated November 22 as the Palatine Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church.

Also dedicated recently was St. Paul's new church in Bloomingdale which was built by Louis Menke.

Postmaster F. E. Davis has added 54 more boxes in the Arlington Heights post office to better handle the increasing demand.

Word has arrived from the John Kleinschmidt family, formerly of Bensenville, that they have arrived safely in their new home in Elberta, Alabama.

There are now 14 daily trains and 10 on Sundays to serve Mount Prospect and the surrounding region.

Thirty Years Ago

December 5, 1925

The last section of Northwest highway through Arlington Heights was thrown open to traffic Wednesday and all detours from Barrington to Des Plaines were thus eliminated.

With actual construction begun, Arlington Heights will have its own movie house within four months.

Lucille Mieske, Chicago, was married in her home November 26 to Oscar Holste, Palatine.

Married the afternoon of November 29 at the home of the bride's parents in Medinah were Ada Broker and George Voss, Palatine.

Experimenting with radio receivers and getting pretty good results in Bensenville are Orland Duntemann, Walter Schroeder, Fred Sprandel and Harry Elfring. They have picked up programs from London, Paris and the Phillipine Islands.

It's finally been decided that there shall be bowling alleys in the new Addison school.

Addison town's four precincts and the three in Bloomingdale township all went solidly for Coolidge over Davis in the recent presidential election.

Twenty Years Ago

December 7, 1934

William Busse, Mount Prospect, was on hand for ceremonies Monday as the new Cook County board of commissioners officially took office. He is beginning his ninth term as the dean of the group in the point of service.

All day parking in downtown Arlington Heights is slated to come to an end. The village board met Monday night and decided to turn the project over to the Lions club in response to a number of complaints over the practices of some motorists who have parked throughout the day in front of business houses.

A petition signed by 152 residents may delay or possibly kill the PWA water works project in Mount Prospect, it was disclosed the past week by the village board.

The question of safety gates to protect the citizenry of Palatine has been turned over to the Illinois Commerce commission. Louis Freise, head of the village board's judiciary committee, will take a resolution asking for an opinion to the ICC offices in Chicago.

Frank Sutherland, a Milwaukee road railway engineer for the past 51 years, died in Bensenville Thanksgiving morning at the age of 73.

Ten Years Ago

December 9, 1944

With several reports of missing bikes submitted, Arlington Heights police went on a search and came up with four such vehicles only to learn later that only three had been absent.

Extensive rumors concerning large scale plans for postwar building in Arlington Heights prompted the village board to launch work on a revised building code.

Fathers included in the latest draft call are: William Stockdale and Edward Pakan, both of Arlington Heights; Orville Kruse, Wheeling; Eugene Haase, Bartlett; Noel Bruns and William Stanley, both of Palatine; Howard Dugger, Long Grove, and Raymond Dvorasek, Prairie View.

Henry C. Gaare of Gaare Motor Sales, Arlington Heights, has decided to go out of business and move to California. Formerly a garage operator in Roselle, he moved the business to Arlington about 30 years ago.

Mrs. Fred W. Schmidt, Arlington Heights, passed away Tuesway after six weeks illness.

Stephen Owens Sr., a railway executive who held a number of high positions, died Friday in his home on N. Wood Dale road, Wood Dale, after a lingering illness at the age of 59.

The people of Palatine expressed a liking to the new National bank by depositing a record $108,000 in the first day of operation of the new institution.

89 Years Ago

This was news April 10, 1865, in a Chicago newspaper:

The Old Flag Vindicated

This Department has received official report of the surrender this day of Gen. Lee and his army to Lieut. Gen. Grant on the terms proposed by Gen. Grant. Details will be given as speedily as possible.

Five days later:

The Terrible End

The terrible news from Washington will send a pang of profound grief throughout the nation. The news reaches us just as we are going to press, and we hold our forms open to the latest moment. The mournful, terrible dispatches explain themselves. The President has been assassinated by a rebel desperado who shot him while at Ford's Theater. Secretary Seward and his son were stabbed by another desperado, but their wounds are not fatal. We can not write more. The news is too fearful, the blow has fallen too suddenly almost to comprehend. In it have culminated all the horrors of the accursed rebellion. It plunges the whole nation into profound sorrow.

From San Francisco

Recent explorations have demonstrated that the Colorado river is navigable, for small steamers and sailing vessels, for 600 miles above its mouth to a point within 400 miles of Salt Lake, and it is quite certain to be the highway between Arizona, Utah, and California.

138 Years Ago

Letters of courtship as conducted in the letter writers published in 1836 and now on file in the Palatine public library.

The gentleman to the lady's father:

Sept. 8, 1816

Dear Sir:

Having made an application to hand, she has given her consent, provided you and her mother will condescent to sanction it. This, I flatter myself, you will do, my circumstances, family, and character, being well known to you both. I shall only add, that my happiness or misery through life depends upon your reply, and that I will make any settlement upon your dear daughter which you may judge necessary. My happiness will be founded on the promoting of hers, with the possession of your esteem and approbation. Entreating you to give a favorable reply, I have the honor, my dear sir, to subscribe myself,

Your faithful and obliged humble servant.

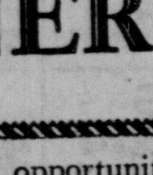
JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE



Dear Peg:

I really should turn out the light and go to sleep, since Bob and I are driving to Dayton tomorrow and I'd rather not arrive at Dot and Westi's with circles under my eyes. However, I'm going to take a few minutes, while the house is dark and quiet and everyone is sleeping, to write a little note to you before going to sleep myself.

I hope you had a happy Thanksgiving Day—We certainly did. Ours was spent at home, in Indianapolis, with Mother and the family (have you ever noticed how people born and raised in Indiana, regardless of where they finally settle, continue to refer to the place of their birth as "home"?)

FOR THE MOST PART, our family did about what everyone else did on Thanksgiving—talked a lot, laughed a lot and ate a huge turkey dinner that left us all stuffed. But, the day offered more too. For me, it was a very unusual and never-to-be-forgotten Thanksgiving experience.

My mother belongs to the Unitarian church and each year the congregation of this church and the Hebrew congregation of the Temple in Indianapolis join together for a Thanksgiving service. One year the service is held in the Unitarian church with the speaker and music planned by them; and the next year it is held in the Temple with the congregation arranging the program.

THIS WAS THE YEAR for the service to be held in the Temple and Mother suggested that Bob and I attend it with our favorite Aunt Dot (Mother's sister, who has always lived with our family and like Mother, is a Unitarian), since Dr. Fabien Sevitzky, conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, was to give the address.

Having never been inside of a Jewish temple or synagogue, I was naturally curious; and feeling sure that Dr. Sevitzky would offer a worthwhile message, I was delighted that we were to have the opportunity to go—so was Bob. I was more inspired by this memorable experience than I've ever been or ever hope to be on Thanksgiving Day—for here we were, actually, living our "freedom of religion" for which we thank God on Thanksgiving day and every other day. No one told us we had to go to church, or told us we were not to go to church, this day. Nor did anyone insist we go to a specific church or stop us, as Gentiles, from entering a Jewish temple to worship.

SO, HERE WE AMERICANS sat, differing in many of the facets of our religious beliefs, but agreeing on the right to worship our Creator in whatever way each of us sees fit. I don't know whether all temples are arranged this way or not, but it was interesting to me to see that the rows of pews formed a semicircle around the small stage upon which stood the pulpit and several chairs. Above the stage was a choir loft from which the temple octet sang several stirring hymns.

Dr. Sevitzky, though speaking in a broken English, sometimes difficult to understand, delivered a Thanksgiving message of hope and optimism, the essence of which was this: despite the tyranny and war that has swept over all the world from time to time, for centuries, humanity has managed to survive and has somehow gone on progressing intellectually and spiritually.

THEREFORE, WE SHALL NOT destroy ourselves with an atomic bomb for we have an intelligence capable of handling that which we have made, and of utilizing its energy for the good of humanity. For our survival and the promise of progress for all humanity, we are truly grateful.

In a house of God, a group of Jews and Christians joined together to offer thanksgiving for their common Creator for the rights to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," cherished by every American.

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Got a report the other day that there is a group in Washington who are upset because Ike is all out for peace. Said group seems to think we should show someone, reds of course, that we can lick the socks off any nation in the world. Boyohboy, are we tough.

Now, we wish to make it clearly understood that the following opinion is strictly our own and we are stuck with it. We make no claims to being politically or internationally wise. We are just a poor little old broken down voter who should know better than to have an opinion. We are presumptuous.

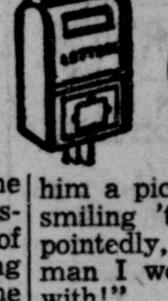
Our opinion is that the government and all concerned should try every means of working out amicable settlements short of war. It seems to us that so far in history it has been proven again and again that war never leads to anything except another war. In the last one, not the Korea police action, several friends and relatives had the dubious distinction of giving their lives for their country. We were proud of them to be sure but pride is cold comfort on long winter days and nights.

We are willing to wager a vast sum of cash and household effects that not one wife, mother, sister, or sweetheart is just aching to stand on the sidelines waving her little flag goodbye to a boy they might never see again. We say no to war unless all else that is honorable has failed. We don't feel very tough.

We are about to be trite and leap on the George Gobel band wagon. He is one comedian about whom we have never read an adverse criticism. And we like to think we know why. He never makes faces. He either smiles rather shyly or more often he just doesn't smile. He does not leap, jump, run, or generally jerk around. Then too, when he comes upon a quotable quip that has the nation saying that "you can't hardly get them no more," he leaves it out of his next program entirely instead of working it to death. We wouldn't miss his show for the world and our only complaint is that it is too short.

Well, back to the Christmas secrets and lists and here's hoping the old spirit of St. Nick enters our being soon so we can get to that shopping.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER



BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

When elderly people reach the retirement age, they are supposed to have reached the end of useful productivity. Fine sounding phrases are used to cushion the blow, but to the elderly person, accustomed to a lifetime of useful activity and knowing that he is still capable, it is a frightful one.

Yet elderly people are to blame for their own troubles when they simply give up, settle down to endless days and years of empty idleness.

"I don't see why the Lord doesn't take me," an eighty year old grandmother complained. "All I am good for is baby sitting. There is no reason why I should keep on living!

CONTRAST THIS with a sprightly old grandmother whom I know. Crippled with painful arthritis, her eyes dimmed, she is still very much alive and has no intention of dying in the forseeable future. Her natural curiosity makes her a tremendous reader and even though she has to use a large reading glass she is up to date on the latest important events. Her witty, pointed comments are stimulating or amusing to those around her. Backed by 90 years of living, they serve as guideposts to those in the family who need help and advice. When her 'teen age grandson felt downhearted because of a dirth of girl friends, Grandma showed him a picture of a neatly dressed, smiling 'teen ager and remarked pointedly, "This, Jim, is the young man I would most like to go out with!"

Jim got the point and his girl troubles were ended. When her daughter remarked that her husband paid less attention to her than he did the car, Grandma remarked: "Well, it's a high powered car, trim and neat and rarin' to go. That's the way Tom likes things."

HER DAUGHTER turned angrily to find grandma rocking gently in her chair, looking innocent as a lamb, knitting. Her gentle face and quiet primness sent her daughter storming out of the room—but it wasn't long before she, too, had that trim, neat look, was "high powered and rarin' to go."

It isn't age that whips us oldsters; it's lack of spirit. We lose our grip on life, our knowledge of affairs, because we give up; but even at ninety nine, some elderly people get a bang out of life. It's because they are still carrying the fight to their enemy, old age. Each life should be fought courageously, agressively, from the cradle to the grave. Whether we fight or give in depends on the stuff we are made of, and how happily we live the evening of our lives.

Stocking Fund

A drive in support of the 71st annual "Christmas Stocking Fund" of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society was launched last week.

The familiar appeal for special funds makes it possible for this privately supported agency to provide each of the hundreds of children under its care with at least one Christmas gift.

Techny Postmaster Retires After 35 Years Of Service

John Wacker, postmaster at Techny, Ill., the past 35 years, was pensioned by the government recently when he reached the 70-year age limit.

Known to fellow Divine Word Missionaries as Brother Anthony, S.V.D., he began working in the Techny post office in the fall of 1919. On the first of the following year he advanced from clerk to acting postmaster and on June 4, 1920, he was commissioned regular postmaster. His original commission, still in his possession, was signed by A.S. Burleson, then postmaster general, and president Woodrow Wilson.

The Techny post office was established in 1906 in one of the rooms of what today is known as St. Mary's Mission House, training center for Divine Word Missionaries, a world-wide missionary organization.

Born in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1884, Brother Anthony was a carpenter and contractor by trade before joining Divine Word Missionaries at Techny in 1914. He kept up his trade until sciatica forced him to give up carpentry in 1919, when his superiors sought an indoor job for him. Since retiring he has returned to his former trade.

This year the assistant postmaster, Leo Hart, 2018 Linneman, Glenview, completed 25 years of service in the Techny post office. He began working in the post office in 1929 and became assistant postmaster in 1942.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

On Two Points

The extensive, vague and garbled letter by Mrs. Grant in last week's Fence Post concerning "Our High School" would hardly be worthy of a retort if it were not for the fact that the author was a member of The Citizens Lay Advisory committee for Arlington Heights high school.

There are many who served on this committee and devoted long hours to studying the problem who did not entirely agree with all of the recommendations. However, the final report was adopted in the belief that it was a satisfactory compromise of widely differing opinions.

It was felt that if this large group of representative citizens could produce a compromise solution to which each member could in good conscience give his wholehearted support, that the voters of the district would express their confidence and approval in a bond issue. The Board of Education accepted the committee's report on the same basis.

THE MOTIVES which have prompted Mrs. Grant to publicly file her own individual evaluation are both unfortunate and suspect. By so doing she has opened the door for every other member to do likewise thus creating all over again the factional bickering which the committee was organized to dispel.

She has undermined months of work, placed the compromise solution under suspicion as a "fix" and taken a backhanded slap at the board (which a year ago recommended the same solution in reverse order).

The author disclaimed any association with the Committee of 100 of a year ago, yet the major portion of her long letter is devoted to a re-broadcast of the propaganda line put out by that group. The entire tone of her letter is critical and negative; in fact, she includes what amounts to an ultimatum to the board and faculty and the implication that if a shift system should become a temporary necessity, the integrity and abilities of these persons should be questioned.

HER ONE STATEMENT at the conclusion that she hopes the voters will support the next bond issue appears to be only a weak sop to enable her to escape criticism for her apparent desire to dwell on issues and controversies which we all hoped and thought were over the hill. One wonders if Mrs. Grant placed her signature on the Lay committee's final report and if so, with what covert qualifications it was done.

It would have been refreshing if Mrs. Grant had chosen instead to publish a positive and constructive account; an account which indicated that she, as well as the rest of the Lay committee and the board, were looking confidently ahead instead of critically and negatively backward.

There are many specific points raised by Mrs. Grant which should command an answer. However, I choose to refer only to two, confident that in time the others will be exposed for their true value.

MRS. GRANT was a member of the Lay committee and is fully aware of the two reports on enrollment and growth of the district. Thus, there is no excuse for her attempt to minimize the critical nature of the problem that exists.

Also, I wish to sharply refute and challenge her statement that our children's education must be determined by what we can afford. Those of us who still have children who are or will become of high school age know and believe that in this community, as has been historically true in America, we must afford whatever is necessary to give our children an education not just as good as ours was, but even better.

It is unfortunate that so often those who no longer have children to educate forget that there is a price tag on quality education just as there is on every other product and that where our children are concerned, the best is none too good.

Memorial Library

I am afraid the Arlington Heights people who make use of our public library do not realize the memorial feature of that structure. They just accept it as other civic assets, such as the field house and the swimming pool.

It was made possible because the veterans of World War II wanted a permanent memorial. The members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion spearheaded the campaign for the bond issue that made the library possible. As post advocate of the VFW, I had a part in the presentation to the village of $10,000 of funds accumulated for the purpose of establishing a suitable war memorial. It was my understanding as a war memorial the names of all Arlington Heights boys serving in World War II would appear in its lobby.

I think there should be no further delay. If the library board hasn't the funds, I think there are civic organizations in Arlington Heights who would be willing to provide the money. The boys who served in World War II certainly deserve the honor.

Great Publication

You surely have built this paper into a great publication. We all enjoy it here and are happy to be able to receive the news of Palatine and vicinity.

This fall is the most beautiful. The oaks and maples as well as the many other trees are colored beyond one's highest imagination. The weather is also at it's best. The days have been pleasantly warm, hitting about 70 degrees and the nights 50 degrees. It is beautiful and a most enjoyable climate. We think it is swell.

We lost only seven turkeys this year and they are the best ones we have ever laid eyes on, four months old with the Toms weighing over 17 pounds already. They will hit twice this before Christmas.

I guess we have all learned a lot after a year's try, especially how to raise turkeys. It really is a job in itself. All of us like our work here and think this is just about the best country there is.

Traffic Hazard

Three times today I was in the line of traffic that had to jam on its brakes in front of the Arlington Elevator Co. What is the plan of Arlington Heights to eliminate the increasing traffic hazard at this spot?

What special immunity from traffic violations do the drivers of trucks and vehicles that operate on the highway in front of this business have that other drivers do not have? What would happen to the driver of a ten ton truck who pulled out into Campbell avenue on the wrong side of the street into the oncoming traffic? Would he be ignored by our police? What would happen to drivers of other trucks who stopped for long loading periods and parked perpendicular to the curb, blocking two lanes of traffic? Would they be ignored by our police?

If there were no traffic menace caused by this elevator it seems to me that its existence refutes many arguments that have been put forth concerning our village. Not long ago our paper stated that the available space for parking along the railroad would not be utilized because it would spoil the beauty of the Arlington Heights back yard. Is this not incongruous when one block further we have one of the ugliest eye sores between here and Chicago along the Northwestern?

Light industry that would bring in taxes and have landscaped grounds has been discouraged. Would it be less objectionable than this elevator that carries on its business on the main highway of this town? Can such a business be oblivious to the ill feeling it is creating? Does it not feel some responsibility toward the village?

If this business is thus oblivious to the potential accidents it might cause and does not feel a responsibility to the village, it seems to me that it is up to the village board to take some kind of action in this matter.

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Fifty Years Ago

December 2, 1904

The Palatine Republican club held its annual meeting last week in Hunneberg hall and elected the following officers: C. E. Julian, president; Milan Reynolds, first vice-president; G. H. Arps, second vice-president; William V. Harz, third vice-president; Ira W. Frye, treasurer; C. D. Taylor, secretary ,and Ernest Beutler Sr., assistant secretary.

Edwin Mueller, Bensenville, is looking for agents to promote a patent he has on a new cook stove which has no pipes and can be placed anywhere in a room.

Johnny Martens is out of the Elk Grove school because he was vaccinated and still has a sore arm.

There are those in Palatine who feel a humane society should be organized to take care of the horses that stand outside from morning until late at night without feed or drink while their owners drink to the disgrace of their families and themselves.

Members of the Palatine high school honor roll are: Laura Schrader, Elsie and Cassandra Gainer, Betty Bollman, James Kazda, Grace Van Horne, Cora Bergman, Edwin Clay, Lucille, Daisy and Jeanette Paddock and Hattie Comfort.

Forty Years Ago

Deaths this week: Thomas McCune, 82, Arlington Heights, November 27; Nine-year old Harvey Benhart, Roselle, November 25; Mrs. Frank Holstine, formerly of Roselle, Sunday; Joseph Fiedler, Roselle pioneer, November 24.

Louis Bartholomew was united in marriage with Louise Muller Saturday evening in his home northeast of Arlington Heights.

The new Palatine Lutheran church was dedicated November 22 as the Palatine Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church.

Also dedicated recently was St. Paul's new church in Bloomingdale which was built by Louis Menke.

Postmaster F. E. Davis has added 54 more boxes in the Arlington Heights post office to better handle the increasing demand.

Word has arrived from the John Kleinschmidt family, formerly of Bensenville, that they have arrived safely in their new home in Elberta, Alabama.

There are now 14 daily trains and 10 on Sundays to serve Mount Prospect and the surrounding region.

Thirty Years Ago

December 5, 1925

The last section of Northwest highway through Arlington Heights was thrown open to traffic Wednesday and all detours from Barrington to Des Plaines were thus eliminated.

With actual construction begun, Arlington Heights will have its own movie house within four months.

Lucille Mieske, Chicago, was married in her home November 26 to Oscar Holste, Palatine.

Married the afternoon of November 29 at the home of the bride's parents in Medinah were Ada Broker and George Voss, Palatine.

Experimenting with radio receivers and getting pretty good results in Bensenville are Orland Duntemann, Walter Schroeder, Fred Sprandel and Harry Elfring. They have picked up programs from London, Paris and the Phillipine Islands.

It's finally been decided that there shall be bowling alleys in the new Addison school.

Addison town's four precincts and the three in Bloomingdale township all went solidly for Coolidge over Davis in the recent presidential election.

Twenty Years Ago

December 7, 1934

William Busse, Mount Prospect, was on hand for ceremonies Monday as the new Cook County board of commissioners officially took office. He is beginning his ninth term as the dean of the group in the point of service.

All day parking in downtown Arlington Heights is slated to come to an end. The village board met Monday night and decided to turn the project over to the Lions club in response to a number of complaints over the practices of some motorists who have parked throughout the day in front of business houses.

A petition signed by 152 residents may delay or possibly kill the PWA water works project in Mount Prospect, it was disclosed the past week by the village board.

The question of safety gates to protect the citizenry of Palatine has been turned over to the Illinois Commerce commission. Louis Freise, head of the village board's judiciary committee, will take a resolution asking for an opinion to the ICC offices in Chicago.

Frank Sutherland, a Milwaukee road railway engineer for the past 51 years, died in Bensenville Thanksgiving morning at the age of 73.

Ten Years Ago

December 9, 1944

With several reports of missing bikes submitted, Arlington Heights police went on a search and came up with four such vehicles only to learn later that only three had been absent.

Extensive rumors concerning large scale plans for postwar building in Arlington Heights prompted the village board to launch work on a revised building code.

Fathers included in the latest draft call are: William Stockdale and Edward Pakan, both of Arlington Heights; Orville Kruse, Wheeling; Eugene Haase, Bartlett; Noel Bruns and William Stanley, both of Palatine; Howard Dugger, Long Grove, and Raymond Dvorasek, Prairie View.

Henry C. Gaare of Gaare Motor Sales, Arlington Heights, has decided to go out of business and move to California. Formerly a garage operator in Roselle, he moved the business to Arlington about 30 years ago.

Mrs. Fred W. Schmidt, Arlington Heights, passed away Tuesway after six weeks illness.

Stephen Owens Sr., a railway executive who held a number of high positions, died Friday in his home on N. Wood Dale road, Wood Dale, after a lingering illness at the age of 59.

The people of Palatine expressed a liking to the new National bank by depositing a record $108,000 in the first day of operation of the new institution.

89 Years Ago

This was news April 10, 1865, in a Chicago newspaper:

The Old Flag Vindicated

This Department has received official report of the surrender this day of Gen. Lee and his army to Lieut. Gen. Grant on the terms proposed by Gen. Grant. Details will be given as speedily as possible.

Five days later:

The Terrible End

The terrible news from Washington will send a pang of profound grief throughout the nation. The news reaches us just as we are going to press, and we hold our forms open to the latest moment. The mournful, terrible dispatches explain themselves. The President has been assassinated by a rebel desperado who shot him while at Ford's Theater. Secretary Seward and his son were stabbed by another desperado, but their wounds are not fatal. We can not write more. The news is too fearful, the blow has fallen too suddenly almost to comprehend. In it have culminated all the horrors of the accursed rebellion. It plunges the whole nation into profound sorrow.

From San Francisco

Recent explorations have demonstrated that the Colorado river is navigable, for small steamers and sailing vessels, for 600 miles above its mouth to a point within 400 miles of Salt Lake, and it is quite certain to be the highway between Arizona, Utah, and California.

Sept. 8, 1816

Dear Sir:

Having made an application to hand, she has given her consent, provided you and her mother will condescent to sanction it. This, I flatter myself, you will do, my circumstances, family, and character, being well known to you both. I shall only add, that my happiness or misery through life depends upon your reply, and that I will make any settlement upon your dear daughter which you may judge necessary. My happiness will be founded on the promoting of hers, with the possession of your esteem and approbation. Entreating you to give a favorable reply, I have the honor, my dear sir, to subscribe myself,

Your faithful and obliged humble servant.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

I really should turn out the light and go to sleep, since Bob and I are driving to Dayton tomorrow and I'd rather not arrive at Dot and Westi's with circles under my eyes. Howver, I'm going to take a few minutes, while the house is dark and quiet and everyone is sleeping, to write a little note to you before going to sleep myself.

I hope you had a happy Thanksgiving Day—We certainly did. Ours was spent at home, in Indianapolis, with Mother and the family (have you ever noticed how people born and raised in Indiana, regardless of where they finally settle, continue to refer to the place of their birth as "home"?)

FOR THE MOST PART, our family did about what everyone else did on Thanksgiving—talked a lot, laughed a lot and ate a huge turkey dinner that left us all stuffed. But, the day offered more too. For me, it was a very unusual and never-to-be-forgotten Thanksgiving experience.

My mother belongs to the Unitarian church and each year the congregation of this church and the Hebrew congregation of the Temple in Indianapolis join together for a Thanksgiving service. One year the service is held in the Unitarian church with the speaker and music planned by them; and the next year it is held in the Temple with the congregation arranging the program.

THIS WAS THE YEAR for the service to be held in the Temple and Mother suggested that Bob and I attend it with our favorite Aunt Dot (Mother's sister, who has always lived with our family and like Mother, is a Unitarian), since Dr. Fabien Sevitzky, conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, was to give the address.

Having never been inside of a Jewish temple or synagogue, I was naturally curious; and feeling sure that Dr. Sevitzky would offer a worthwhile message, I was delighted that we were to have the opportunity to go—so was Bob. I was more inspired by this memorable experience than I've ever been or ever hope to be on Thanksgiving Day—for here we were, actually, living our "freedom of religion" for which we thank God on Thanksgiving day and every other day. No one told us we had to go to church, or told us we were not to go to church, this day. Nor did anyone insist we go to a specific church or stop us, as Gentiles, from entering a Jewish temple to worship.

SO, HERE WE AMERICANS sat, differing in many of the facets of our religious beliefs, but agreeing on the right to worship our Creator in whatever way each of us sees fit. I don't know whether all temples are arranged this way or not, but it was interesting to me to see that the rows of pews formed a semicircle around the small stage upon which stood the pulpit and several chairs. Above the stage was a choir loft from which the temple octet sang several stirring hymns.

Dr. Sevitzky, though speaking in a broken English, sometimes difficult to understand, delivered a Thanksgiving message of hope and optimism, the essence of which was this: despite the tyranny and war that has swept over all the world from time to time, for centuries, humanity has managed to survive and has somehow gone on progressing intellectually and spiritually.

THEREFORE, WE SHALL NOT destroy ourselves with an atomic bomb for we have an intelligence capable of handling that which we have made, and of utilizing its energy for the good of humanity. For our survival and the promise of progress for all humanity, we are truly grateful.

In a house of God, a group of Jews and Christians joined together to offer thanksgiving to their common Creator for the rights to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," cherished by every American.

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Got a report the other day that there is a group in Washington who are upset because Ike is all out for peace. Said group seems to think we should show someone, reds of course, that we can lick the socks off any nation in the world. Boyohboy, are we tough.

Now, we wish to make it clearly understood that the following opinion is strictly our own and we are stuck with it. We make no claims to being politically or internationally wise. We are just a poor little old broken down voter who should know better than to have an opinion. We are presumptuous.

Our opinion is that the government and all concerned should try every means of working out amicable settlements short of war. It seems to us that so far in history it has been proven again and again that war never leads to anything except another war. In the last one, not the Korea police action, several friends and relatives had the dubious distinction of giving their lives for their country. We were proud of them to be sure but pride is cold comfort on long winter days and nights.

We are willing to wager a vast sum of cash and household effects that not one wife, mother, sister, or sweetheart is just aching to stand on the sidelines waving her little flag goodbye to a boy they might never see again. We say no to war unless all else that is honorable has failed. We don't feel very tough.

We are about to be trite and leap on the George Gobel band wagon. He is one comedian about whom we have never read an adverse criticism. And we like to think we know why. He never makes faces. He either smiles rather shyly or more often he just doesn't smile. He does not leap, jump, run, or generally jerk around. Then too, when he comes upon a quotable quip that has the nation saying that "you can't hardly get them no more," he leaves it out of his next program entirely instead of working it to death. We wouldn't miss his show for the world and our only complaint is that it is too short.

Well, back to the Christmas secrets and lists and here's hoping the old spirit of St. Nick enters our being soon so we can get to that shopping.

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

When elderly people reach the retirement age, they are supposed to have reached the end of useful productivity. Fine sounding phrases are used to cushion the blow, but to the elderly person, accustomed to a lifetime of useful activity and knowing that he is still capable, it is a frightful one.

Yet elderly people are to blame for their own troubles when they simply give up, settle down to endless days and years of empty idleness.

"I don't see why the Lord doesn't take me," an eighty year old grandmother complained. "All I am good for is baby sitting. There is no reason why I should keep on living!

CONTRAST THIS with a sprightly old grandmother whom I know. Crippled with painful arthritis, her eyes dimmed, she is still very much alive and has no intention of dying in the forseeable future. Her natural curiosity makes her a tremendous reader and even though she has to use a large reading glass she is up to date on the latest important events. Her witty, pointed comments are stimulating or amusing to those around her. Backed by 90 years of living, they serve as guideposts to those in the family who need help and advice. When her 'teen age grandson felt downhearted because of a dirth of girl friends, Grandma showed him a picture of a neatly dressed, smiling 'teen ager and remarked pointedly, "This, Jim, is the young man I would most like to go out with!"

Jim got the point and his girl troubles were ended. When her daughter remarked that her husband paid less attention to her than he did the car, Grandma remarked: "Well, it's a high powered car, trim and neat and rarin' to go. That's the way Tom likes things."

HER DAUGHTER turned angrily to find grandma rocking gently in her chair, looking innocent as a lamb, knitting. Her gentle face and quiet primness sent her daughter storming out of the room—but it wasn't long before she, too, had that trim, neat look, was "high powered and rarin' to go."

It isn't age that whips us oldsters; it's lack of spirit. We lose our grip on life, our knowledge of affairs, because we give up; but even at ninety nine, some elderly people get a bang out of life. It's because they are still carrying the fight to their enemy, old age. Each life should be fought courageously, agressively, from the cradle to the grave. Whether we fight or give in depends on the stuff we are made of, and how happily we live the evening of our lives.

Stocking Fund

A drive in support of the 71st annual "Christmas Stocking Fund" of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society was launched last week.

The familiar appeal for special funds makes it possible for this privately supported agency to provide each of the hundreds of children under its care with at least one Christmas gift.

Techny Postmaster Retires After 35 Years Of Service

John Wacker, postmaster at Techny, Ill., the past 35 years, was pensioned by the government recently when he reached the 70-year age limit.

Known to fellow Divine Word Missionaries as Brother Anthony, S.V.D., he began working in the Techny post office in the fall of 1919. On the first of the following year he advanced from clerk to acting postmaster and on June 4, 1920, he was commissioned regular postmaster. His original commission, still in his possession, was signed by A.S. Burleson, then postmaster general, and president Woodrow Wilson.

The Techny post office was established in 1906 in one of the rooms of what today is known as St. Mary's Mission House, training center for Divine Word Missionaries, a world-wide missionary organization.

Born in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1884, Brother Anthony was a carpenter and contractor by trade before joining Divine Word Missionaries at Techny in 1914. He kept up his trade until sciatica forced him to give up carpentry in 1919, when his superiors sought an indoor job for him. Since retiring he has returned to his former trade.

This year the assistant postmaster, Leo Hart, 2018 Linneman, Glenview, completed 25 years of service in the Techny post office. He began working in the post office in 1929 and became assistant postmaster in 1942.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

On Two Points

The extensive, vague and garbled letter by Mrs. Grant in last week's Fence Post concerning "Our High School" would hardly be worthy of a retort if it were not for the fact that the author was a member of The Citizens Lay Advisory committee for Arlington Heights high school.

There are many who served on this committee and devoted long hours to studying the problem who did not entirely agree with all of the recommendations. However, the final report was adopted in the belief that it was a satisfactory compromise of widely differing opinions.

It was felt that if this large group of representative citizens could produce a compromise solution to which each member could in good conscience give his wholehearted support, that the voters of the district would express their confidence and approval in a bond issue. The Board of Education accepted the committee's report on the same basis.

THE MOTIVES which have prompted Mrs. Grant to publicly file her own individual evaluation are both unfortunate and suspect. By so doing she has opened the door for every other member to do likewise thus creating all over again the factional bickering which the committee was organized to dispel.

She has undermined months of work, placed the compromise solution under suspicion as a "fix" and taken a backhanded slap at the board (which a year ago recommended the same solution in reverse order).

The author disclaimed any association with the Committee of 100 of a year ago, yet the major portion of her long letter is devoted to a re-broadcast of the propaganda line put out by that group. The entire tone of her letter is critical and negative; in fact, she includes what amounts to an ultimatum to the board and faculty and the implication that if a shift system should become a temporary necessity, the integrity and abilities of these persons should be questioned.

HER ONE STATEMENT at the conclusion that she hopes the voters will support the next bond issue appears to be only a weak sop to enable her to escape criticism for her apparent desire to dwell on issues and controversies which we all hoped and thought were over the hill. One wonders if Mrs. Grant placed her signature on the Lay committee's final report and if so, with what covert qualifications it was done.

It would have been refreshing if Mrs. Grant had chosen instead to publish a positive and constructive account; an account which indicated that she, as well as the rest of the Lay committee and the board, were looking confidently ahead instead of critically and negatively backward.

There are many specific points raised by Mrs. Grant which should command an answer. However, I choose to refer only to two, confident that in time the others will be exposed for their true value.

MRS. GRANT was a member of the Lay committee and is fully aware of the two reports on enrollment and growth of the district. Thus, there is no excuse for her attempt to minimize the critical nature of the problem that exists.

Also, I wish to sharply refute and challenge her statement that our children's education must be determined by what we can afford. Those of us who still have children who are or will become of high school age know and believe that in this community, as has been historically true in America, we must afford whatever is necessary to give our children an education not just as good as ours was, but even better.

It is unfortunate that so often those who no longer have children to educate forget that there is a price tag on quality education just as there is on every other product and that where our children are concerned, the best is none too good.

Bits O' Business

Department store sales in New York climbed 10 per cent in the November 20 week, but much of the gain was due to Wanamaker's closeout sale . . .

Memorial Library

I am afraid the Arlington Heights people who make use of our public library do not realize the memorial feature of that structure. They just accept it as other civic assets, such as the field house and the swimming pool.

It was made possible because the veterans of World War II wanted a permanent memorial. The members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion spearheaded the campaign for the bond issue that made the library possible. As post advocate of the VFW, I had a part in the presentation to the village of $10,000 of funds accumulated for the purpose of establishing a suitable war memorial. It was my understanding as a war memorial the names of all Arlington Heights boys serving in World War II would appear in its lobby.

I think there should be no further delay. If the library board hasn't the funds, I think there are civic organizations in Arlington Heights who would be willing to provide the money. The boys who served in World War II certainly deserve the honor.

S. Greschner,
Post Advocate,

Great Publication

You surely have built this paper into a great publication. We all enjoy it here and are happy to be able to receive the news of Palatine and vicinity.

This fall is the most beautiful. The oaks and maples as well as the many other trees are colored beyond one's highest imagination. The weather is also at it's best. The days have been pleasantly warm, hitting about 70 degrees and the nights 50 degrees. It is beautiful and a most enjoyable climate. We think it is swell.

We lost only seven turkeys this year and they are the best ones we have ever laid eyes on, four months old with the Toms weighing over 17 pounds already. They will hit twice this before Christmas.

I guess we have all learned a lot after a year's try, especially how to raise turkeys. It really is a job in itself. All of us like our work here and think this is just about the best country there is.

Traffic Hazard

Three times today I was in the line of traffic that had to jam on its brakes in front of the Arlington Elevator Co. What is the plan of Arlington Heights to eliminate the increasing traffic hazard at this spot?

What special immunity from traffic violations do the drivers of trucks and vehicles that operate on the highway in front of this business have that other drivers do not have? What would happen to the driver of a ten ton truck who pulled out into Campbell avenue on the wrong side of the street into the oncoming traffic? Would he be ignored by our police? What would happen to drivers of other trucks who stopped for long loading periods and parked perpendicular to the curb, blocking two lanes of traffic? Would they be ignored by our police?

If there were no traffic menace caused by this elevator it seems to me that its existence refutes many arguments that have been put forth concerning our village. Not long ago our paper stated that the available space for parking along the railroad would not be utilized because it would spoil the beauty of the Arlington Heights back yard. Is this not incongruous when one block further we have one of the ugliest eye sores between here and Chicago along the Northwestern?

Light industry that would bring in taxes and have landscaped grounds has been discouraged. Would it be less objectionable than this elevator that carries on its business on the main highway of this town? Can such a business be oblivious to the ill feeling it is creating? Does it not feel some responsibility toward the village?

If this business is thus oblivious to the potential accidents it might cause and does not feel a responsibility to the village, it seems to me that it is up to the village board to take some kind of action in this matter.

Card Party

In behalf of my committee, I wish to thank everyone who helped make our recent card party in Palatine such a huge success.

Although it would be impossible to list each person individually who aided to achieve our goal of equipping one entire baseball team, we are especially grateful to Stuart Paddock for his wonderful publicity, and understanding in the promotion of this worthy cause.

Mrs. Normon A. Sietman
Chairman, Palatine Boys

Man without a party

He was ashamed to invite his friends over. His patio was dull, drab, dingy. His porch was weatherbeaten and ugly, too.

His best friend told him: "Get ONCRETE, chum. Give your patio and porch a beauty coat. Do it yourself with a brush or roller."

ONCRETE did it! He's got the partyingest patio and porch in town! And he had enough ONCRETE left over for his basement, too!

Give an ONCRETE beauty coat to your concrete or brick floors, walls—outdoors or in! Goes on easily—stays on for lasting beauty! So economical, too!

Give It Color! 6 Gay Colors plus black, white, clear!

Newsstand Of The Week

The delicatessen business at Mt. Prospect has been rushing the past six years since Bill Golden, pictured above, first went into business at 35 S. Maine. Golden's is one of 60 newsstands selling more than 8,000 copies of Paddock Publications weekly.

Bill enlarged his delicatessen, then opened another on the south side of Mt. Prospect at 15 E. Prospect. Selling newspapers, but no magazines, is a part of Bill's business at both stores, with Mrs. Ila Hansen operating the north side location, Bill the south.

Helping him when needed is Bill's wife, Wilma, when she isn't at home taking care of five-year-old Cindy and seven-year-old Patty.

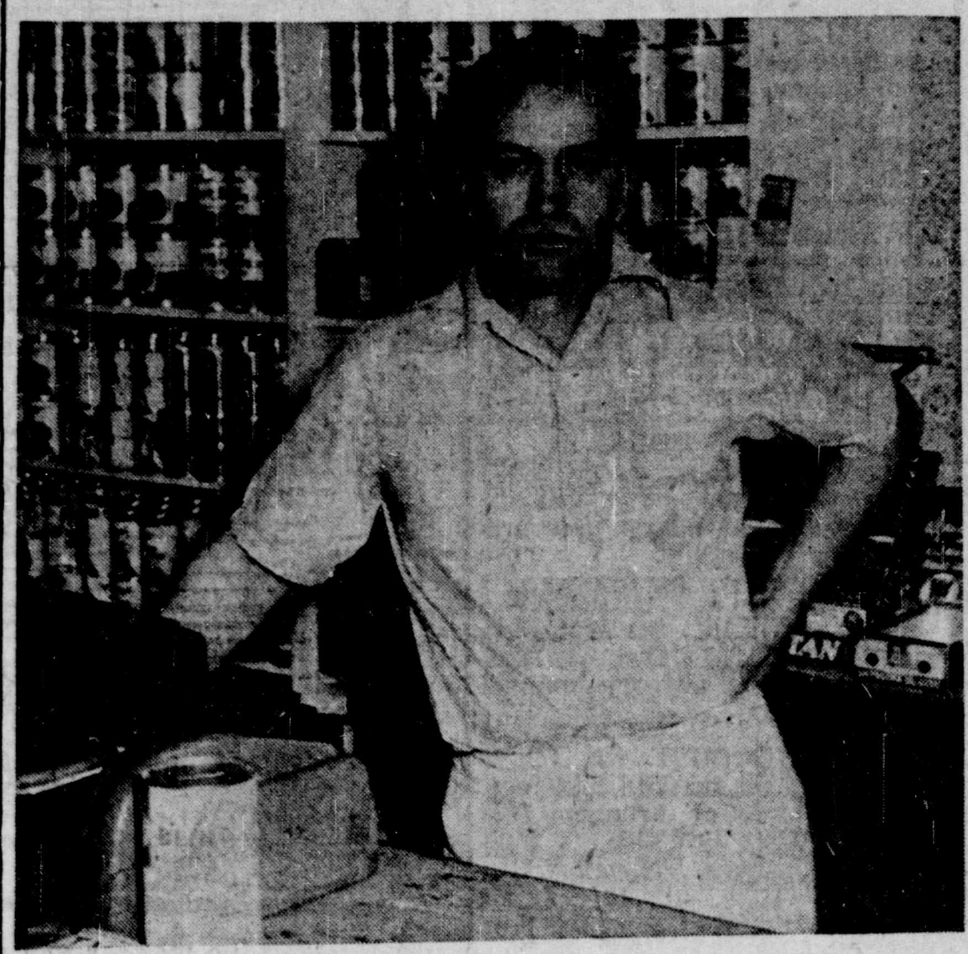
Newsstand Of The Week



The delicatessen business at Mt. Prospect has been rushing the past six years since Bill Golden, pictured above, first went into business at 35 S. Maine. Golden's is one of 60 newsstands selling more than 8,000 copies of Paddock Publications weekly.

Bill enlarged his delicatessen, then opened another on the south side of Mt. Prospect at 15 E. Prospect. Selling newspapers, but no magazines, is a part of Bill's business at both stores, with Mrs. Ila Hansen operating the north side location, Bill the south.

Helping him when needed is Bill's wife, Wilma, when she isn't at home taking care of five-year-old Cindy and seven-year-old Patty.

Reorganize Cook County Extension Service

The Cook county extension service is being re-organized, Carl F. Mees, farm advisor, announced this week.

He conferred Monday with Dr. W. G. Kammlade, associate director of extension for the U. of Illinois, who was in Arlington Heights to discuss the addition of another extension worker to the local program.

Mees already has an assistant in Tinley Park.

The broadened program will stress the marketing of agricultural products

"... and now for a practical demonstration in dam building."

Farmers Balance Milk Production By Cows' Habits

Dairy farmers deserve credit for reducing government purchase of milk under the price support system in recent months, according to W. D. Knox, editor of Hoard's Dairyman.

Farmers, by having more of their dairy cows freshen in the fall of the year instead of the "flush period" in the spring, have smoothed out production of milk, Knox said.

"This has controlled production better than the present price support program," the speaker said.

"DURING THE PAST four years, the low production month has moved from November to October. And apparently now this low production month comes in late August and early September," he continued.

"A marked change is taking place," Knox said, adding that "breeding programs of farmers have a great influence on government purchases of dairy products."

Knox said an estimated increase in total milk production in the United States will complicate the many problems now facing dairy farmers unless immediate action is taken along these lines:

(1) PROVIDE DAIRY farmer's 'insulation' from diverted acres. Knox said cutbacks in planting of corn, wheat, and other basic crops have aggravated the dairy industry since some farmers affected by the cutbacks have started dairying.

Existing surpluses of dairy products will be swelled to even greater proportions if dairy farmers aren't given some protection, Knox said.

(2) Dairy farmers should be encouraged to produce enough milk for the domestic market at a "fair" parity price. Knox said conditioning of consumers to "unrealistically" low prices for dairy products would be detrimental to farmers.

(3) Congress should pass legislation embodying a "self-help" program for dairymen.

Grade 'A' Milk Law

Farming About With Your Farm Advisor

An important part of our extension program is the 4-H work. Many of you know that 4-H work is for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21. Their motto is to always try to make the best better. Last year there were 353 4-H club members enrolled in Cook County. We have only 10 percent of the eligible farm youth.

Our challenge in 1955 is to double our enrollment. We will need your help and will appreciate it very much. We will also need your help as a local leader.

Local leaders give much in time and effort to the club program. The only reward they receive is the satisfaction of seeing these young club members grow up and really do a good job farming. Occasionally they are rewarded with a recognition banquet. This is what happened in Springfield November 23. Two of our 4-H leaders were honored in being asked to attend. They were Harold Bergman, leader of the Palatine township 4-H club and Floyd Adair, leader of the Bloom Aggies. Both of these men have led clubs for a good number of years. We are particularly proud when our leaders can attend such an affair.

4-H CAMPING period for 1955 will be June 20-24. We can send 44 boys and girls from the Agricultural clubs. 4-H members should plan now to attend, for it is a week of worthwhile pleasure and experience.

A few days ago I was trying to think of a program to get our school children to consume more milk. I was wondering why we couldn't sell one-third quarts instead of ½ pints. I wrote Dr. R. W. Bartlett, University of Illinois, agricultural economics department about this.

He immediately followed up on the idea and has found the program would be acceptable under the school lunch program. We are going to continue to follow this up. If we can get it adopted it will mean our school children will get 25 per cent more milk. The cost of the milk would be two-thirds cent more per container at the present price of milk on the farm.

THIS COULD easily solve two problems. It would raise the average consumption of milk per school child from 16 quarts to 21 quarts and would also help relieve us of some of our surplus.

To the city consumer you may say the latter statement is a selfish way to get rid of your milk. If you think so ponder over these facts, they are your children; to have an adequate diet every school child in Cook county should consume 45 quarts of milk during the school year. Our average last year was 16 quarts.

Would it be selfish for the dairy farmer to promote his product so your child would more readily have an adequate diet? At 21 quarts he would consume less than ½ of the amount he really needs. Milk is the most nearly perfect food we have. Why don't we use more of it!

WE KNOW from research that an adequate diet for growing children should include about 45 quarts of milk during the school year. The average in Cook county schools is 16 quarts per year. I am proud to say that in Arlington Heights high school the average yearly consumption for 1953 was 27 quarts per student, still low, but much better than average.

We feel that by contacting the school and trying to work out a program whereby more milk will be used, we can accomplish two things. First provide a more adequate diet for the children and secondly market some of our surplus milk. You dairy farmers should recognize that this is your program and should contact your school boards and superintendents to help you on the program.

To market vegetables through roadside stands has a great possibility. With over a million people in the suburbs of Cook county, we can see no reason why a greater percentage of our fresh vegetables cannot be marketed through this source. We are conducting a survey now and in the future hope to offer you some good pointers on how to increase your volume of sales at roadside stands.

Reorganize Cook County Extension Service

The Cook county extension service is being re-organized, Carl F. Mees, farm advisor, announced this week.

He conferred Monday with Dr. W. G. Kammlade, associate director of extension for the U. of Illinois, who was in Arlington Heights to discuss the addition of another extension worker to the local program.

Mees already has an assistant in Tinley Park.

The broadened program will stress the marketing of agricultural products

"... and now for a practical demonstration in dam building."

Farmers Balance Milk Production By Cows' Habits

Dairy farmers deserve credit for reducing government purchase of milk under the price support system in recent months, according to W. D. Knox, editor of Hoard's Dairyman.

Farmers, by having more of their dairy cows freshen in the fall of the year instead of the "flush period" in the spring, have smoothed out production of milk, Knox said.

"This has controlled production better than the present price support program," the speaker said.

"DURING THE PAST four years, the low production month has moved from November to October. And apparently now this low production month comes in late August and early September," he continued.

"A marked change is taking place," Knox said, adding that "breeding programs of farmers have a great influence on government purchases of dairy products."

Knox said an estimated increase in total milk production in the United States will complicate the many problems now facing dairy farmers unless immediate action is taken along these lines:

(1) PROVIDE DAIRY farmer's 'insulation' from diverted acres. Knox said cutbacks in planting of corn, wheat, and other basic crops have aggravated the dairy industry since some farmers affected by the cutbacks have started dairying.

Existing surpluses of dairy products will be swelled to even greater proportions if dairy farmers aren't given some protection, Knox said.

(2) Dairy farmers should be encouraged to produce enough milk for the domestic market at a "fair" parity price. Knox said conditioning of consumers to "unrealistically" low prices for dairy products would be detrimental to farmers.

(3) Congress should pass legislation embodying a "self-help" program for dairymen.

Grade 'A' Milk Law

Farming About With Your Farm Advisor

An important part of our extension program is the 4-H work. Many of you know that 4-H work is for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21. Their motto is to always try to make the best better. Last year there were 353 4-H club members enrolled in Cook County. We have only 10 percent of the eligible farm youth.

Our challenge in 1955 is to double our enrollment. We will need your help and will appreciate it very much. We will also need your help as a local leader.

Local leaders give much in time and effort to the club program. The only reward they receive is the satisfaction of seeing these young club members grow up and really do a good job farming. Occasionally they are rewarded with a recognition banquet. This is what happened in Springfield November 23. Two of our 4-H leaders were honored in being asked to attend. They were Harold Bergman, leader of the Palatine township 4-H club and Floyd Adair, leader of the Bloom Aggies. Both of these men have led clubs for a good number of years. We are particularly proud when our leaders can attend such an affair.

4-H CAMPING period for 1955 will be June 20-24. We can send 44 boys and girls from the Agricultural clubs. 4-H members should plan now to attend, for it is a week of worthwhile pleasure and experience.

A few days ago I was trying to think of a program to get our school children to consume more milk. I was wondering why we couldn't sell one-third quarts instead of ½ pints. I wrote Dr. R. W. Bartlett, University of Illinois, agricultural economics department about this.

He immediately followed up on the idea and has found the program would be acceptable under the school lunch program. We are going to continue to follow this up. If we can get it adopted it will mean our school children will get 25 per cent more milk. The cost of the milk would be two-thirds cent more per container at the present price of milk on the farm.

THIS COULD easily solve two problems. It would raise the average consumption of milk per school child from 16 quarts to 21 quarts and would also help relieve us of some of our surplus.

To the city consumer you may say the latter statement is a selfish way to get rid of your milk. If you think so ponder over these facts, they are your children; to have an adequate diet every school child in Cook county should consume 45 quarts of milk during the school year. Our average last year was 16 quarts.

Would it be selfish for the dairy farmer to promote his product so your child would more readily have an adequate diet? At 21 quarts he would consume less than ½ of the amount he really needs. Milk is the most nearly perfect food we have. Why don't we use more of it!

WE KNOW from research that an adequate diet for growing children should include about 45 quarts of milk during the school year. The average in Cook county schools is 16 quarts per year. I am proud to say that in Arlington Heights high school the average yearly consumption for 1953 was 27 quarts per student, still low, but much better than average.

We feel that by contacting the school and trying to work out a program whereby more milk will be used, we can accomplish two things. First provide a more adequate diet for the children and secondly market some of our surplus milk. You dairy farmers should recognize that this is your program and should contact your school boards and superintendents to help you on the program.

To market vegetables through roadside stands has a great possibility. With over a million people in the suburbs of Cook county, we can see no reason why a greater percentage of our fresh vegetables cannot be marketed through this source. We are conducting a survey now and in the future hope to offer you some good pointers on how to increase your volume of sales at roadside stands.

Slight Drop In Farm Income, To Hold 85-95% Of Parity

by L. H. SIMERL

U. S. department of agriculture officials at the recent outlook conference made two key statements: (1) Net farm income will probably shrink slightly in 1955, and (2) average prices of farm products are expected to range between 85 and 95 per cent of parity during the next few years.

Some quarters described these statements as presenting a "glum" outlook. On the other hand, they seem to present a more realistic picture of the prospect ahead than has been given in Washington in some previous years.

NET FARM INCOME has shown a persistent down-trend since 1947, declining in six of the seven years. The lone exception was 1951, when the inflation that came with the war in Korea caused an increase. Net farm income in 1954 is estimated at about 12½ billion dollars, off about 5 per cent from a year ago but a bit higher than the previous postwar low in 1950.

The price-support program has helped to sustain farm income in recent years, but much less real help from this source seems likely in the future. In supporting prices, Uncle Sam has gathered in over six billion dollars' worth of farm products. Thus farmers have already been paid for over six billion dollars' worth of farm products that consumers have not yet used. (Government stocks are equal to about one-fifth of a year's total output, but consist mostly of wheat, corn and cotton.)

FUTURE FARM programs will surely provide a better balance between price support and production control than we have had in recent years. Some farmers and some members of Congress urge the continuation of price supports at recent levels, though this would mean more drastic production controls. Others prefer to bring about a better balance by gradually reducing price supports. Each of these routes seems to lead to somewhat lower farm income—the first through having less to sell and the second through receiving lower prices.

Prices of farm products started downward on the party scale back in 1948, and they have worked lower each year except in 1950, when the war in Korea touched off a wave of inflation. In October, farm prices averaged 87 per cent of parity, the lowest percentage of parity since 1941.

THERE'S NO GENERAL agreement on what percentage of parity is "normal." The long-time average of farm prices, 1910-1954, is 97 percent of parity. But this average includes the three periods of war inflation as well as the years of the great depression.

For the ten years 1921-30, farm prices averaged 88 per cent of parity. This average was made without production controls and with no price support except in the last year. In seven of these years industrial production and employment were high.

For the years 1931-40, farm prices averaged 78 per cent of parity. In this 10-year period both price supports and production controls were in effect most of the time. Unemployment ranged from 7 to 13 million persons and averaged 10 million.

In summary, the better of the between-the-wars decades brought average farm prices near 90 per cent of parity, while the poorer decade brought prices that averaged less than 80 per cent of parity. Thus it may be dangerous for either farmers or candidates for public office to plan on average farm prices much above recent levels on the parity scale.

Modified Live Viruses Take Over Control Of Hog Cholera

New modified live viruses have about taken over in the control of hog cholera, according to Ray Cunningham, president of the Illinois farm bureau serum association.

The serum president reported that sales of the modified live virus vaccine increased by 60 per cent during fiscal 1954, from 382,000 doses in 1953 to 648,000 doses.

He said a new anti-erysipelas bacterin introduced last March is also becoming more popular, with Illinois hog raisers. "Thousands of hogs have been vaccinated against erysipelas, the second largest killer of swine, using the new bacterin," Cunningham said.

Cullen B. Sweet, assistant secretary of organization for IAA, said atomic energy may provide long-sought-for answers regarding efficient hog production.

"Research is already going on to study the rate at which dairy cows absorb needed elements from feed," Sweet said. "Scientists can use radioactive tracer elements for such experimental work.

"The future may hold some startling discoveries about feeding of hogs and other farm animals through the atomic sciences," Sweet concluded.

Need Water

Although water is far cheaper than roughage and concentrate for dairy cows, and just as important, it is most often the part of the ration that is neglected, says a University of Illinois dairy specialist.

Moisture

Watch out for moisture build-up in your farm-stored grain when cold weather hits.

Old Method of Heating Water Gives Way as Electricity Comes to Farm

By JANE BAIRD

Like so many other city people with a rural background we've always wanted to get back to that good country living we remembered as youngsters. So when the real estate man said he had found just the "old farm house" for our family we didn't hesitate. But with the down payment came the awakening. Now we're part-time carpenters and full-time planners.

Of course, we wouldn't destroy any of the charm of our home for anything. But that pot stove to heat water must go. And what to do—and how to heat the water, with electricity or bottled gas, is a stickler. At least it was until we read a bulletin published by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This Bureau, by the way, recently had its name changed to Housing and Equipment Section of the Home Economics Research Branch.

The booklet is entitled "Technical Bulletin No. 1073—Comparative Utilization of Energy by Household Electric and Liquefied Petroleum Gas Ranges, Refrigerators and Water Heaters." It's based, in part, on the results of tests conducted with comparable electric and bottled gas water heaters of 66 and 30-gallon storage capacities, respectively.

Three engineering studies were conducted, with each based on a different drawoff schedule. In each case, according to the Technical Bulletin, electric water heaters proved more efficient than bottled gas water heaters by ratios ranging from 1.62 to 1 to 2 to 1. This was because electric water heaters required fewer heat units (Btu) to heat water than did the bottled gas water heaters.

Then we did a little figuring on our own. Our information showed that we would need 1,340 gallons of hot water every 30 days. Even if we heated that amount to 100 degrees above the incoming water temperature—a test requirement but not necessary for many household tasks—electric water heaters proved more efficient than bottled gas water heaters by a ratio of 1.9 to 1.

Dairy Cows Need Lots Of Water For Top Production

Water is just as important as roughage and concentrates in the rations of dairy cows.

"But water, the cheapest of the three, is most often the part of the ration that is neglected," says J. D. Burke, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Dairymen can see how important water is for their cows if they will remember that there are 87 pounds of water in every 100 pounds of milk. That's nearly seven times the total of protein, fat, sugar and minerals. In addition, cows need water for body maintenance.

MILKING cows will drink three to six times as much water as the milk they produce. The amount will vary with the temperature and the water content of the feed in the ration. Cows will average 12 to 15 gallons of water a day, but high producers may need as much as 40 gallons.

What's more, cows like their water often. They will take an average of 10 drinks a day if they have free access to water. They especially like water with their meals. Experiments show that cows will produce three to four per cent more milk when they have free access to water than when they are watered once a day, the dairy specialist says.

PRESSURE BOWLS work best for cows housed in stanchion barns. A tank or trough equipped with a float valve is good enough for loose housing. You'll need to protect water and pipes from freezing. Its a good idea to get expert advice on heaters to avoid fire hazards.

LAW on the FARM

Game Laws
And the Farmer

The farmer enjoys special privileges with respect to taking fish and game on his property. The fish code of 1947 provides that owners or tenants and their children residing on the land have the right to catch fish with a hook and line without a license. However, they must fish only during the lawful season.

If the farm has a lake of fewer than 30 acres that is not supplied by a stream or river, the owner or tenant may use a net without obtaining a license. There are, however, minimum mesh requirements, depending on the kind of net used, and the length cannot exceed 100 yards. All fish except large, small and spotted bass may be taken with the net between April 1 and November 30. Legal minnow seines may be used during June, July and August.

THE GAME CODE, passed in 1941, also contains exemptions to persons residing on the land: "The owners and tenants residing on the land shall have the right to hunt upon such lands and waters thereon without procuring a hunting license, provided hunting is done during lawful season."

The following summary may help clarify these laws:

1. Only occupants of the land are excused from procuring a license. Even the children of an occupant must live at home in order to enjoy this privilege. An owner who does not reside on his land must procure a license to hunt, fish or trap on his own land.

2. The law simply excuses occupants from the need to procure a license to hunt, fish or trap. It does not excuse them from other provisions of the Fish and Game Code, nor does it excuse them from securing a license if they go on the land of other people.

OF GENERAL interest to all boys and girls, is a law excusing persons under 16 years of age from procuring a license to fish with hook and line. The same exemption is provided for persons serving in the military or naval forces of the United States. This license exemption does not exist with respect to hunting and trapping, however.

Hunting and trapping licenses can be issued to persons under 16 years of age only with the consent of a parent or guardian.

In order that farmers may protect their crops and livestock from wild animals or birds without incurring a penalty under the game code, the following law was enacted: "The owners and tenants of lands may destroy any wild bird or wild animal, other than a game bird or migratory game bird, when such wild bird or wild animal is destroying property upon his or her land, but no poison or poisonous substance shall be used."

Flood Control Concerns Upstream Watershed, Too

Illinois farmers should consider the principle of controlling floods in the upper reaches of a watershed if they seek water use laws in the next session of the state legislature.

Charles C. Butler, director of the land and water use department of the American farm bureau federation, made this statement.

"From the very beginning, people in the states must make the necessary plans to accept the rights given them under terms of a new law enacted by the 83rd congress," Butler said.

THE NEW LAW, known as the "watershed protection and flood prevention act," places responsibility for flood control on the states and local agencies, the speaker said.

"This law is significant because it establishes for the first time a nationwide program of conservation practices based on the concept that farms, streams, forests and towns and cities are all interrelated parts of a watershed.

"It recognizes that the upstream part of a watershed, as well as the downstream part, must be taken into our plans if we are to have the water that we vitally need in solving problems of soil erosion, floods and drouth."

REFERRING TO flood control programs of the past, Butler charged that upstream watershed were sadly neglected in favor of downstream large dam projects.

Between 1944 and 1953, Butler said, a total of $41 million was appropriated for use on watershed protection projects. During this same period, downstream projects were authorized and were in various stages of completion at a total cost of $10 billion he said.

Farmers and their representative groups have become very dissatisfied with this badly-managed flood control program, the speaker said.

"AND THEY KNOW that flood control programs on the local level can materially reduce damages from flood water in the upper reaches of streams. And it would help control floods further downstream," he said.

Among other things, Butler said the new law requires local people to:

(1) Acquire necessary land, easements and rights-of way.

(2) Bear an equitable share of the cost of installing works of improvement.

(3) Bear the entire cost of providing capacity in structures for any purpose other than flood prevention.

(4) Operate and maintain works of improvement on non-federal lands.

(5) Acquire necessary water rights in accordance with state law.

(6) Agree to carry out proposal soil conservation measures on at least 50 per cent of the drainage area above each flood retarding and any works of improvement for drainage or irrigation.

Urge Greater Stress On A Soil Conservation Program

Greater stress on a soil conservation acreage allotment program and a shift from the traditional acreage controls on specific crops in the nation's farm program is favored by Illinois farmers.

A resolution favoring this turn away from so much government regulation and toward the soil acreage allotment idea was passed by the 539 voting delegates representing every county in the state at the final session of the 40th annual meeting of the IAA. The first change in this direction was indicated at last year's annual meeting, but this year's action outlines a more clearcut plan.

In his annual address before the voting delegates and guests at the convention, Shuman advocated a new type of farm program that would give each farmer a soil conservation allotment.

THE PLAN, he explained, would require a certain percentage of cultivated land of each farm to be placed in soil conserving crops or practices. A farmer would be free to choose the crops he wished to produce on the rest of his cultivated acreage.

Praising the agricultural act of 1954, Shuman added, "Before its flexible price support program can be expected to work properly, we must find a way to dispose of the huge government-owned stocks of surplus farm commodities.

"The large stocks will result in trouble for the producers of those commodities at some future time. It has proved politically unfeasible to reduce acreage sufficiently to materially affect production. The present method of controlling production merely encourages farmers to shift from one crop to another and thus spread the surplus problem to more and more crops."

Discuss Ways To Get More Meat-Type Hogs

"If packers would pay us $2 a hundredweight extra, they'd get all the meat-type hogs they could use."

That was a summarizing remark in a panel discussion on livestock marketing, held as a part of the Illinois agricultural association's annual meeting. The "meat-type hogs" referred to are developed by careful breeding and feeding. Many farmers and packers are interested in the type because housewives prefer lean pork and there is no longer a big demand for lard.

Julius DeDecker of Annawan, Ill., commented during the panel discussion the meat type hogs are worth from $1 to $3 a hundred more than lardy hogs, but that "most packers now are prorating back to the farmer only about 25 cents and that isn't enough."

THOUGH FARMERS agreed on the desirability of the meat-type hog, there was much less agreement on the problems of producing them. DeDecker said the type could be produced more economically than fat hogs, while F. R. Winegerter of Huntley, in McHerty county, said he didn't believe a farmer could count on getting meat type hogs up to market weight as economically as the "fat" hogs, at least in every instance.

Dealing with another subject brought up in the panel, Edwin Gumm, Galesburg, a panel member and an IAA district director, said there were two main ways a farmer could reduce the costs of hog production. He named a careful study of transportation of livestock and a reduction of the number of shipping points at which a farmer sells his livestock as two areas for greater efficiency.

"SMALL CONCENTRATIONS of hogs for shipment cost us a lot of money," Gumm stated. "We need to get a big volume of livestock handled at the most efficient shipping points," he concluded.

Carl Dunber, a McDonough county farmer and member of the panel, stated that Illinois farmers need a better way of marketing sheep. "Pools are the answer to this marketing problem," he said, "especially where small flocks are concerned. And the pools would do the same thing for veal calves."

Spraying to control weeds in soybeans can be very effective, says a University of Illinois agronomist.

Slight Drop In Farm Income, To Hold 85-95% Of Parity

by L. H. SIMERL

THERE'S NO GENERAL agreement on what percentage of parity is "normal." The long-time average of farm prices, 1910-1954, is 97 percent of parity. But this average includes the three periods of war inflation as well as the years of the great depression.

For the ten years 1921-30, farm prices averaged 88 per cent of parity. This average was made without production controls and with no price support except in the last year. In seven of these years industrial production and employment were high.

For the years 1931-40, farm prices averaged 78 per cent of parity. In this 10-year period both price supports and production controls were in effect most of the time. Unemployment ranged from 7 to 13 million persons and averaged 10 million.

In summary, the better of the between-the-wars decades brought average farm prices near 90 per cent of parity, while the poorer decade brought prices that averaged less than 80 per cent of parity. Thus it may be dangerous for either farmers or candidates for public office to plan on average farm prices much above recent levels on the parity scale.

Modified Live Viruses Take Over Control Of Hog Cholera

New modified live viruses have about taken over in the control of hog cholera, according to Ray Cunningham, president of the Illinois farm bureau serum association.

The serum president reported that sales of the modified live virus vaccine increased by 60 per cent during fiscal 1954, from 382,000 doses in 1953 to 648,000 doses.

He said a new anti-erysipelas bacterin introduced last March is also becoming more popular, with Illinois hog raisers. "Thousands of hogs have been vaccinated against erysipelas, the second largest killer of swine, using the new bacterin," Cunningham said.

Cullen B. Sweet, assistant secretary of organization for IAA, said atomic energy may provide long-sought-for answers regarding efficient hog production.

"Research is already going on to study the rate at which dairy cows absorb needed elements from feed," Sweet said. "Scientists can use radioactive tracer elements for such experimental work.

"The future may hold some startling discoveries about feeding of hogs and other farm animals through the atomic sciences," Sweet concluded.

By JANE BAIRD

Like so many other city people with a rural background we've always wanted to get back to that good country living we remembered as youngsters. So when the real estate man said he had found just the "old farm house" for our family we didn't hesitate. But with the down payment came the awakening. Now we're part-time carpenters and full-time planners.

Of course, we wouldn't destroy any of the charm of our home for anything. But that pot stove to heat water must go. And what to do—and how to heat the water, with electricity or bottled gas, is a stickler. At least it was until we read a bulletin published by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This Bureau, by the way, recently had its name changed to Housing and Equipment Section of the Home Economics Research Branch.

The booklet is entitled "Technical Bulletin No. 1073—Comparative Utilization of Energy by Household Electric and Liquefied Petroleum Gas Ranges, Refrigerators and Water Heaters." It's based, in part, on the results of tests conducted with comparable electric and bottled gas water heaters of 66 and 30-gallon storage capacities, respectively.

Three engineering studies were conducted, with each based on a different drawoff schedule. In each case, according to the Technical Bulletin, electric water heaters proved more efficient than bottled gas water heaters by ratios ranging from 1.62 to 1 to 2 to 1. This was because electric water heaters required fewer heat units (Btu) to heat water than did the bottled gas water heaters.

Then we did a little figuring on our own. Our information showed that we would need 1,340 gallons of hot water every 30 days. Even if we heated that amount to 100 degrees above the incoming water temperature—a test requirement but not necessary for many household tasks—electric water heaters proved more efficient than bottled gas water heaters by a ratio of 1.9 to 1.

Dairy Cows Need Lots Of Water For Top Production

Water is just as important as roughage and concentrates in the rations of dairy cows.

"But water, the cheapest of the three, is most often the part of the ration that is neglected," says J. D. Burke, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Dairymen can see how important water is for their cows if they will remember that there are 87 pounds of water in every 100 pounds of milk. That's nearly seven times the total of protein, fat, sugar and minerals. In addition, cows need water for body maintenance.

MILKING cows will drink three to six times as much water as the milk they produce. The amount will vary with the temperature and the water content of the feed in the ration. Cows will average 12 to 15 gallons of water a day, but high producers may need as much as 40 gallons.

What's more, cows like their water often. They will take an average of 10 drinks a day if they have free access to water. They especially like water with their meals. Experiments show that cows will produce three to four per cent more milk when they have free access to water than when they are watered once a day, the dairy specialist says.

PRESSURE BOWLS work best for cows housed in stanchion barns. A tank or trough equipped with a float valve is good enough for loose housing. You'll need to protect water and pipes from freezing. Its a good idea to get expert advice on heaters to avoid fire hazards.

LAW on the FARM

Game Laws
And the Farmer

The farmer enjoys special privileges with respect to taking fish and game on his property. The fish code of 1947 provides that owners or tenants and their children residing on the land have the right to catch fish with a hook and line without a license. However, they must fish only during the lawful season.

If the farm has a lake of fewer than 30 acres that is not supplied by a stream or river, the owner or tenant may use a net without obtaining a license. There are, however, minimum mesh requirements, depending on the kind of net used, and the length cannot exceed 100 yards. All fish except large, small and spotted bass may be taken with the net between April 1 and November 30. Legal minnow seines may be used during June, July and August.

THE GAME CODE, passed in 1941, also contains exemptions to persons residing on the land: "The owners and tenants residing on the land shall have the right to hunt upon such lands and waters thereon without procuring a hunting license, provided hunting is done during lawful season."

The following summary may help clarify these laws:

1. Only occupants of the land are excused from procuring a license. Even the children of an occupant must live at home in order to enjoy this privilege. An owner who does not reside on his land must procure a license to hunt, fish or trap on his own land.

2. The law simply excuses occupants from the need to procure a license to hunt, fish or trap. It does not excuse them from other provisions of the Fish and Game Code, nor does it excuse them from securing a license if they go on the land of other people.

OF GENERAL interest to all boys and girls, is a law excusing persons under 16 years of age from procuring a license to fish with hook and line. The same exemption is provided for persons serving in the military or naval forces of the United States. This license exemption does not exist with respect to hunting and trapping, however.

Hunting and trapping licenses can be issued to persons under 16 years of age only with the consent of a parent or guardian.

In order that farmers may protect their crops and livestock from wild animals or birds without incurring a penalty under the game code, the following law was enacted: "The owners and tenants of lands may destroy any wild bird or wild animal, other than a game bird or migratory game bird, when such wild bird or wild animal is destroying property upon his or her land, but no poison or poisonous substance shall be used."

Flood Control Concerns Upstream Watershed, Too

Illinois farmers should consider the principle of controlling floods in the upper reaches of a watershed if they seek water use laws in the next session of the state legislature.

Charles C. Butler, director of the land and water use department of the American farm bureau federation, made this statement.

"From the very beginning, people in the states must make the necessary plans to accept the rights given them under terms of a new law enacted by the 83rd congress," Butler said.

THE NEW LAW, known as the "watershed protection and flood prevention act," places responsibility for flood control on the states and local agencies, the speaker said.

"This law is significant because it establishes for the first time a nationwide program of conservation practices based on the concept that farms, streams, forests and towns and cities are all interrelated parts of a watershed.

"It recognizes that the upstream part of a watershed, as well as the downstream part, must be taken into our plans if we are to have the water that we vitally need in solving problems of soil erosion, floods and drouth."

REFERRING TO flood control programs of the past, Butler charged that upstream watershed were sadly neglected in favor of downstream large dam projects.

Between 1944 and 1953, Butler said, a total of $41 million was appropriated for use on watershed protection projects. During this same period, downstream projects were authorized and were in various stages of completion at a total cost of $10 billion he said.

Farmers and their representative groups have become very dissatisfied with this badly-managed flood control program, the speaker said.

"AND THEY KNOW that flood control programs on the local level can materially reduce damages from flood water in the upper reaches of streams. And it would help control floods further downstream," he said.

Among other things, Butler said the new law requires local people to:

(1) Acquire necessary land, easements and rights-of way.

(2) Bear an equitable share of the cost of installing works of improvement.

(3) Bear the entire cost of providing capacity in structures for any purpose other than flood prevention.

(4) Operate and maintain works of improvement on non-federal lands.

(5) Acquire necessary water rights in accordance with state law.

(6) Agree to carry out proposal soil conservation measures on at least 50 per cent of the drainage area above each flood retarding and any works of improvement for drainage or irrigation.

Urge Greater Stress On A Soil Conservation Program

Greater stress on a soil conservation acreage allotment program and a shift from the traditional acreage controls on specific crops in the nation's farm program is favored by Illinois farmers.

A resolution favoring this turn away from so much government regulation and toward the soil acreage allotment idea was passed by the 539 voting delegates representing every county in the state at the final session of the 40th annual meeting of the IAA. The first change in this direction was indicated at last year's annual meeting, but this year's action outlines a more clearcut plan.

In his annual address before the voting delegates and guests at the convention, Shuman advocated a new type of farm program that would give each farmer a soil conservation allotment.

THE PLAN, he explained, would require a certain percentage of cultivated land of each farm to be placed in soil conserving crops or practices. A farmer would be free to choose the crops he wished to produce on the rest of his cultivated acreage.

Praising the agricultural act of 1954, Shuman added, "Before its flexible price support program can be expected to work properly, we must find a way to dispose of the huge government-owned stocks of surplus farm commodities.

"The large stocks will result in trouble for the producers of those commodities at some future time. It has proved politically unfeasible to reduce acreage sufficiently to materially affect production. The present method of controlling production merely encourages farmers to shift from one crop to another and thus spread the surplus problem to more and more crops."

Discuss Ways To Get More Meat-Type Hogs

"If packers would pay us $2 a hundredweight extra, they'd get all the meat-type hogs they could use."

That was a summarizing remark in a panel discussion on livestock marketing, held as a part of the Illinois agricultural association's annual meeting. The "meat-type hogs" referred to are developed by careful breeding and feeding. Many farmers and packers are interested in the type because housewives prefer lean pork and there is no longer a big demand for lard.

Julius DeDecker of Annawan, Ill., commented during the panel discussion the meat type hogs are worth from $1 to $3 a hundred more than lardy hogs, but that "most packers now are prorating back to the farmer only about 25 cents and that isn't enough."

THOUGH FARMERS agreed on the desirability of the meat-type hog, there was much less agreement on the problems of producing them. DeDecker said the type could be produced more economically than fat hogs, while F. R. Winegerter of Huntley, in McHerty county, said he didn't believe a farmer could count on getting meat type hogs up to market weight as economically as the "fat" hogs, at least in every instance.

Dealing with another subject brought up in the panel, Edwin Gumm, Galesburg, a panel member and an IAA district director, said there were two main ways a farmer could reduce the costs of hog production. He named a careful study of transportation of livestock and a reduction of the number of shipping points at which a farmer sells his livestock as two areas for greater efficiency.

"SMALL CONCENTRATIONS of hogs for shipment cost us a lot of money," Gumm stated. "We need to get a big volume of livestock handled at the most efficient shipping points," he concluded.

Carl Dunber, a McDonough county farmer and member of the panel, stated that Illinois farmers need a better way of marketing sheep. "Pools are the answer to this marketing problem," he said, "especially where small flocks are concerned. And the pools would do the same thing for veal calves."

Jerusalem Provides Atmosphere For The Tourists (And The Price)

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Jerusalem is getting by on its good name. When it comes to boosted prices for the tourists, buying a sliver of wood said to be from the original Cross, or a handle from a holy cup — all phoney, of course — Jerusalem is as far from Christianity as the departed Brother Stalin. This is the city of the outstretched palm — and I'm not speaking about trees!

The residents of the city depend heavily upon tourists for their dates and figs. Everything is organized to a highly polished degree for the purpose of relieving the visitor of his cash as painlessly as possible.

CULTURE, however, is not lacking. A tourist can stop at just about any shop in Jerusalem, pay double the price for his post cards (unless he's American; then it costs more), and have the convenience of using either English, French, German or Arabic with the shopkeeper.

Getting on the right side of one's guide is a great disappointment. For a few extra fils, he will destroy the last remnant of the beautiful picture you had in your mind about Jerusalem. He'll tell you that the guide book is "a work of innacuracy." The city was destroyed more than once so that originals of just about everything have disappeared. There is almost nothing that one can touch or see that is assuredly "the real McCoy."

TO AVOID collapse of the city treasury, however, reconstructions keep the tourists coming and they do supply the same emotional effect.

Jerusalem is divided into two parts, the Jordanian side and the Israeli one. A huge wall separates the two. On both sides there are small protective walls that cover people from snipers while they are walking about in the bazaar. When the war was going on, it was common practice for snipers from both sides to get in lofty positions and pick off people on unprotected passages.

TRAVEL from one side of the city to the other can be arranged through diplomatic channels. A visit to the American Embassy there, for instance, can result in getting a special permit to walk over through a protected channel to the other side. This is difficult to arrange, however, and the excuse has to be a good one.

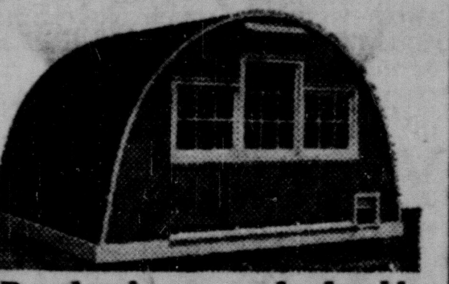
One characteristic of Jerusalem not easily forgotten is the Biblical English that so many people use. They will say "slumber" instead of sleep, "thou" instead of you, "hath" and "spake," plus numerous other words that add greatly to the Holy atmosphere.

Tips To Farmers

Long Lasting Chick House A Better Buy

A farmer can save money on a breeder house by taking the long view. Expense should be figured on the basis of the cost per year for the life of the unit, not simply as a lump sum. A well-built brooder house costing $200 that gives 15 to 20 years of service is more economical than a cheaply constructed house that gives 6 years of service at an initial cost of $100.

Sound economy calls for a structure that adequately protects the poultry investment it houses. Proper insulation is a "must" for the close temperature control young chicks need, as well as for minimum fuel bills.



Brooder house needs durable, watertight roof to protect sensitive chicks and to keep maintenance cost on the structure low.

IF A ROUNDED arch roof is planned, bend sheathing material over laminated wood arches and cover it with heavy fire-resistant mineral-surfaced asphalt roll roofing. The same material serves equally well in maintenance of existing houses. Roll roofing looks best and gives greatest protection from rain and wind if it is applied by the "blind," or concealed, nailing method.

If the house has a gable roof, asphalt shingles will give long-term protection with minimum maintenance. For color uniformity that enhances the appearance of the entire farmstead, shingles often are chosen in a color to match the color of the roofs on other farm buildings.

THE MOISTURE that collects from evaporation and droppings is best disposed of by ventilation. Ventilation can be systematically controlled through damper-controlled louver openings in front and rear walls. Stock wood utility sash is recommended for windows.

A portable brooder house can double as a range house. For safe moving, it should be built on two 4-by-6 skids, under 2-by-4 joists spaced 24 inches on center. The braces should be screwed to each joist.

Jerusalem Provides Atmosphere For The Tourists (And The Price)

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Jerusalem is getting by on its good name. When it comes to boosted prices for the tourists, buying a sliver of wood said to be from the original Cross, or a handle from a holy cup — all phoney, of course — Jerusalem is as far from Christianity as the departed Brother Stalin. This is the city of the outstretched palm — and I'm not speaking about trees!

The residents of the city depend heavily upon tourists for their dates and figs. Everything is organized to a highly polished degree for the purpose of relieving the visitor of his cash as painlessly as possible.

CULTURE, however, is not lacking. A tourist can stop at just about any shop in Jerusalem, pay double the price for his post cards (unless he's American; then it costs more), and have the convenience of using either English, French, German or Arabic with the shopkeeper.

Getting on the right side of one's guide is a great disappointment. For a few extra fils, he will destroy the last remnant of the beautiful picture you had in your mind about Jerusalem. He'll tell you that the guide book is "a work of innacuracy." The city was destroyed more than once so that originals of just about everything have disappeared. There is almost nothing that one can touch or see that is assuredly "the real McCoy."

TO AVOID collapse of the city treasury, however, reconstructions keep the tourists coming and they do supply the same emotional effect.

Jerusalem is divided into two parts, the Jordanian side and the Israeli one. A huge wall separates the two. On both sides there are small protective walls that cover people from snipers while they are walking about in the bazaar. When the war was going on, it was common practice for snipers from both sides to get in lofty positions and pick off people on unprotected passages.

TRAVEL from one side of the city to the other can be arranged through diplomatic channels. A visit to the American Embassy there, for instance, can result in getting a special permit to walk over through a protected channel to the other side. This is difficult to arrange, however, and the excuse has to be a good one.

One characteristic of Jerusalem not easily forgotten is the Biblical English that so many people use. They will say "slumber" instead of sleep, "thou" instead of you, "hath" and "spake," plus numerous other words that add greatly to the Holy atmosphere.

Tips To Farmers

Long Lasting Chick House A Better Buy

A farmer can save money on a breeder house by taking the long view. Expense should be figured on the basis of the cost per year for the life of the unit, not simply as a lump sum. A well-built brooder house costing $200 that gives 15 to 20 years of service is more economical than a cheaply constructed house that gives 6 years of service at an initial cost of $100.

Sound economy calls for a structure that adequately protects the poultry investment it houses. Proper insulation is a "must" for the close temperature control young chicks need, as well as for minimum fuel bills.

Brooder house needs durable, watertight roof to protect sensitive chicks and to keep maintenance cost on the structure low.

IF A ROUNDED arch roof is planned, bend sheathing material over laminated wood arches and cover it with heavy fire-resistant mineral-surfaced asphalt roll roofing. The same material serves equally well in maintenance of existing houses. Roll roofing looks best and gives greatest protection from rain and wind if it is applied by the "blind," or concealed, nailing method.

If the house has a gable roof, asphalt shingles will give long-term protection with minimum maintenance. For color uniformity that enhances the appearance of the entire farmstead, shingles often are chosen in a color to match the color of the roofs on other farm buildings.

THE MOISTURE that collects from evaporation and droppings is best disposed of by ventilation. Ventilation can be systematically controlled through damper-controlled louver openings in front and rear walls. Stock wood utility sash is recommended for windows.

A portable brooder house can double as a range house. For safe moving, it should be built on two 4-by-6 skids, under 2-by-4 joists spaced 24 inches on center. The braces should be screwed to each joist.
